

Women Are Like Flowers.

Women are like flowers. Poets have been fond of likening women to a flower. Her fragrance is flowerlike. Her sweetness suggests the flower fragrance. Her very fragility finds its type again in the frail flower, which languishes when neglected, and is so easily destroyed. It is a pretty simile and almost as perfect as poetry.

All women love flowers, and every woman who grows them knows that their health depends on daily care. Not alone are water and sunshine necessary to the growth of the plant, their leaves and roots must be guarded from the parasites which soon destroy the flower's beauty and undermine its life.

If a woman would care for herself as she does for her plants she would preserve her beauty and retain her strength far beyond the period when the average woman looks old and feels older.

NOTHING IS Surer

Than the effect of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong, sick women well. It regulates the periods, stops disagreeable drains, breaks up obstructions, and cures female weakness and nervousness. It prepares the wife for motherhood, gives her vigor and physical strength, and cures the most obstinate nervousness.

WHAT SHALL I DO?

That question is often on a woman's lips, for it is expected that she shall be ready to do something in any emergency in the home. When that question is asked in health, sickness or disease, the answer will be found in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser.

The Weekly Post

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, JAN. 12, '06. THE LINDSAY OF LONG AGO. In compliance with requests made at various times by many readers of The Post, we have decided to devote a liberal space in our weekly issue to the reproduction of interesting paragraphs from our old files.

CANADA'S GOOD YEAR.

(New York Sun, Jan. 5.) Canada as well as the United States has had a good year. She has garnered a cereal crop whose total is conservatively estimated at 170,000,000 bushels. The value of this crop to the farmers who raised it is estimated at $75,000,000.

duction in the immediate future. New manufacturing enterprises have sprung up in the older areas, banks have increased their business, and merchants and manufacturers have been reasonably prosperous.

HOTELS UNDER LOCAL OPTION.

(Wednesday's Globe.) It is one thing to abolish the bar by a popular vote on a local option by-law. It is quite another thing to meet adequately the situation created by such a vote.

Monday's vote will cut off at least 130 liquor licenses and will greatly increase the number of municipalities in Ontario in which the sale of liquor is prohibited by law.

It ought to be possible to run a hotel, in a place where hotel accommodation is needed, without the bar attached. Well-cooked and well-served meals will always be required, and lodging accommodation will be in demand.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In Detroit the pay of a school teacher entering on the work is $400 a year. The "official" is driven the dog wagon gets $600. Is it much better here?

Hamilton Times: Dr. Torrey, the London evangelist, says he and his partner "will shake Toronto." Perhaps they may, but it will be a very quiet place afterward, if his religious fervor follows.

If anything had been needed to ensure the success of the British Liberals at the coming election, the announcement made by the Duke of Devonshire, Unionist leader, that he was to support the Bannerman Government, gave the required assurance.

Lord Elgin, the new Secretary for the Colonies, has a very long and distinguished pedigree. He is a Bruce, and claims common descent with the Royal Family through the Earls of Carrick and Kilmartin.

BENEFITS OF NATURE STUDY

DESCRIBED BY PROF. FLETCHER, DOMINION ENTOMOLOGICAL OFFICER.

With a Chapter or Two Concerning Insect Pests and Other Things. Below we present a somewhat brief synopsis of the excellent lecture given by Prof. Fletcher, Dominion Entomologist, at the Collegiate Institute last Friday evening.

In opening Prof. Fletcher, replying to a humorous reference by Chairman Kyle, lamented the popular conception of his occupation, said it would be a grand thing if the students of Canada knew a little more about bugs and the study of Nature—an intelligent understanding of the things about us was as useful as any of the many subjects on the school curriculum.

The study of some things is a grand and useful employment—the understanding of the conspicuous and salient points of what is about us. Everything in Nature is beautiful—ladybugs, bees, butterflies, etc.

It is not the fear of darkness which assails most children—and quite a few adults—the Professor said it was the fault of parents, who should teach their children that there was nothing to be afraid of in the woods even in the winter.

ies would probably demur and maintain that snakes are not, but he would challenge that. Take mice—ladies do not say they are unbecomingly—yet they have an insidious aversion for them.

The Chairman told me I would speak about bugs—a word which in an American term that applies to anything smaller than a cat. There is a humorous class of insect that has a sucking mouth, takes its food from plants, and has a distinct odor that makes it objectionable to some people, but such an insect is not a sure guide to condemnation.

Nature study is a practical training for everyone, a lawyer, doctor, merchant, workman—all who aspire to get the most out of life. Natural history study is a luxury for the few, it teaches the relation of everything in the world of ours—how plants are necessary to animals, and how insects are necessary to the propagation of certain plants.

ada fully one-quarter is spoiled by worms, and a few years ago the average was 50 per cent. Take the potato root, the cause of the great Irish famine many years ago, and not unknown to Canadian farmers, at their day there is a simple remedy that would reduce the possible loss from 25 to 50 per cent. to 2 per cent.

SENATOR COX TO CANADIANS.

Govt no Better Birthright Than Canadian Citizenship. In a message to the Halifax Herald in response to a request for a New Year's greeting to the people of Canada, Hon. George A. Cox says: "Responding to your request, I congratulate Nova Scotia and Canadians generally upon a fuller appreciation by themselves and by outsiders of the magnificent resources of the country in agriculture, minerals, timber and fisheries.

BEWARE OF MINING BOOM.

Sharpers on Hand Holding Out Bait—Timely Warning. A note of warning against the possibilities of an injurious mining boom in Ontario during the year of grace, 1906, was sounded by Prof. W. G. Miller, of the Bureau of Mines. "The indications are for the big day, the great boom," he said. "We are getting letters by the hundreds from all over North America and many parts of Europe asking about this Cobalt region, and from what we have actual knowledge of there, is going to be a tremendous rush."

LINDSAY WINTER RACES.

There Will be a Grand Gathering of Fast Horses Here Next Week. In conversation Monday with Mr. Geo. Simpson, secretary-treasurer of Lindsay Trotting Association, he informed our representative that the winter race meeting at Lindsay on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, Jan. 16 and 17, bids fair to be notable for the large number of good horses present.

COUNTY POLICE COURT.

Magistrate McSweeney Being kept Busy—Fish Poaching Near Omemee. From Evening Post of Jan. 4. County Police Magistrate McSweeney took a trip to Coboonk Tuesday evening and held the scales of justice in police court yesterday. The taking of evidence alone took the entire day. The case was the King vs. Isaac Sprung, the Crown being represented by Mr. A. P. Devlin, and the defendant by R. J. McLaughlin, K. C. The accused was charged with having assaulted Edward Lee, striking him on the side of the head with the back of an axe and causing a wound two or three inches long. The main question was whether an assault was justifiable at all, and if so, was assault committed in this particular way justifiable in law.
