and as the curiers alighted they were sheared to the sche and subjected to course of vizorous hand-shaking. They were then escerted to carrisises in waiting, and the procession started for the Town Hall, where a hearty welcome was extended. Only a fraction of the crowd could gain clock when Mayor Vrooman, who ocenpied the chair, rose, and in an eloquent speech expressed on behalf of the citizens of the town of Lindsay, "Welcome Home," to the returning purfers. He said it afforded him the greatest of pleasure to welcome back to Lindsay the curlers who went to Winnipeg, and who, he was glad to know, did not return empty-handed (Prolonged cheers), "We should congratulate ourselves," said the Mayor; they went out there and they won. They are home again once more and have proved themselves the equal of the best. They take a back seat to

"When the news came," continued the Mayor, "that Mr. Flavelle and his rink had won the International trophy, every citizen was ready to throw up his hat. We do not know what we owe to these men and to curling in advertising the town, and Lindsay is talked of from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans.

"They had three losses in ninetcen games played, which was not bad playing against the best teams in the world. Undoubtedly they are curing better than ever before." His Worship concluded by repeating that "Welcome home" to the Winnipeg

OUR POPULAR SKIP. Mayor Vrooman then called on Mr Flavelle to speak, and when the popmenced by thanking the Mayor and Wall, he went troo the ice day be-citizens generally for the grand recoption tendered them. He said he yit. I gass you'd better git anoder pect to get heaten so badly, but freely appreciated it fully, and was very man.

Before going any further he wished to handlir and was only up against the year best curiers in the world the city curiers. Mr. Flavelie said think he was boasting, but such was not the case. In the actual number of wins in the whole bonspiel his It was just five minutes to 8 o'- rink came second to Braden, of Winnipeg, who won 25 games out of 26, while he won 16 out of 19 played.

Mr. Flavelle then spoke of Mr. O'-Connor and his rink, and said that as Mr. OO'Connor was unknown in Winnipeg he proved a big surprise in not winning a trophy, that was best of them, and was only put out of business by one shot. Of Mr. Little he wished to say that in the number of points made he was third in the bonspiel, and was beaten by such men as Rochon, of the Granites, who made 47, and Dunbar, of St. Paul, who made 46 points.

For himself and the curlers from Lindsay, he believed they had endeared themselves to all in Winnipeg, and he knew they had enjoyed the sympathy of everyone. He could not speak too highly of the treatment they had received, as everyone seemed to unite in helping to make their stay a pieasant one. The eastern rinks made a very favorable showing, and he was sure there would be more present next year.

The other members of the two rinks, namely, Mr. Little, Mr. Reesor, ed his best game of the season and Mr. Cuthbert, Dr. Walters, Mr. But- although on the fence five times for Maxwell when it is considered that they were ler and Mr. 'Ross' Harstone respec- a period of six minutes for minor tively, each made short and witty offences, such as loafing and shoving Randell at getting back to the good old town. and a good stick-handler.
