The Woman who Would And Grocer who wouldn't.

Every day from five to fifteen letters are received by The Ogilvie Flour Mills Co. from women living in the smaller towns throughout Canada, saying they have asked their grocer for Royal Household Flour but can't get it. One writes—"I told my grocer, Mr.---, that I would buy 'Royal Household' regularly if he would always keep it on hand, but he said he wouldn't take on another brand of flour until he was obliged to." Another says-"My grocer is an 'old fogie' and never gets the newest or the best things until the year after." A third says-"We haven't an enterprising grocer in our town and are obliged to send to-----for 'Royal Household' or take a poorer flour."

Write direct to Ogilvie's.

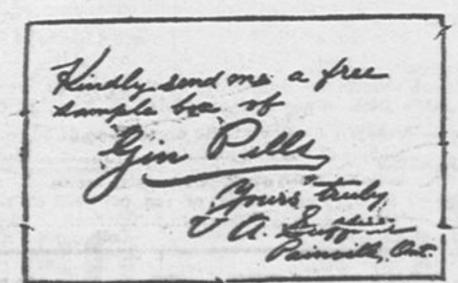

If you can't get "Royal Household" from your grocer, write to us direct-we will immediately give you the name of the nearest grocer who keeps "Royal Household" and send you also the "Royal Household" recipes. There is no good reason why your grocer should compel you to use inferior flour-no first class grocer will hesitate to order "Royal Household" for you, and even the smallest dealer will get it if you insist upon it.

OF BOTCHWORK METHODS.

In Future the Citizens will be Protect ed Against Imposition and Disease. Peterboro has tried Lindsay's plan of plumbing inspection and has found it lacking -- so much so that in order to satisfy the people that they are eary to pass a new by-law and upary of $400. The Examiner says: The new by-law does not involve the payment of fees, as Mr. Sturgeon states, everything is gratis. He explains that the plumber takes tut a permit from him when a contract is taken for a job, the plumber makes a draft of the proposed work and this is examined by the inspector, who, if it conforms with the by law issues a permit authorizing ich plumber to continue with the work. After the rough work has been completed all the branches and the main soil pipe is stopped and the whole system installed is filled with water. When the plumber has satisfied himself that there are no leaks he notifies the inspector that he is ready for an inspection of the work. ery joint, examines for flaws, cracks and blisters, looks over the arrange. ment of the pipes, sees that the water has an easy flow to the stack and proper weights have been used in conforming with the by-law. He tem. if everything is satisfactory After the plumber has finished and placed all fixtures, and after seven days have clapsed, teh smoke test is applied. All of the traps are set to true levels, and if no defects are found the inspector issues a certificate, and the job is complete. The removal of the main trap in front of the building which serves the purpose of preventing the sewerage from entering the building is one of the changes which Mr. Sturgeon ays will be brought about. The most approved method is to get rid that and give the water a tull and free discharge from the fixtures to the sewer. This also vents the sewer and in the near future the effect will will be fresh air breathers instead of Toul-air belchers.

When asked if the plumbing had been satisfactorily done in town during the past three years, he rebeen introduced and the people is some respects were being robbed. One of the tricks of the trade he describe d. The man who sought to take advantage of it would in testing the system screw the stag plug tight and then fill the pipe with water from that point-about three feet. He tem. While the plumber is showing the consumer over the job he has a man on the roof to pull out the plug at the top and on the one at the boil. on being removed only about eight feet of water come through, whereas the whole wystem should have been filled. Now that the office has been created, it is likely that there will be tems inspected, ill a person is not sure that the job is right, and there and the inspector would advise as to what alterations are necessary. In case of sickness or complaint, the Medical Health Officer has full auth ority to have the job put in accorda ing ito the briday, or have the house vacated until the job has been pro-
