CASH AND ONE PRICE.

kept silence. A whole year elapsed between the time of his transgression and the time of his repentance. Dr. Bishop explained why it was so. Just as his sin was over before him, so in course, and it would remain before us until we had confessed. David had a conception of sin that others had not. "Against thee only have I sinned." He was not in order that to the injury he had wrought to human beings. But he had dealt a blow to God and sinned against his laws of purity. The sin he had committed was recorded against him. The secret sins which we think are hidden are all exposed to the sight of God's countenance. Sin once committed remains against the man, and he will suffer the penalty. There was no exception, except the man who obtains mercy through confession. Blot out the sin. Sin was not only a guilt, but sin pollutes a man's soul. There is hope for the man who confesses sin. God uses various ways to awaken men to their sins, which shows how anxious He was for us to be delivered from the penalties of sin. What degree of feeling is necessary for a man in order that he may turn from sin and seek God? A man shall be so convicted that he is a sinner that he will turn away from sin.

MR. McNAUGHT'S BILL.

A Lindsay Man Suggests Further Restricting of the Traffic. The following appeared in Saturday night's issue of The News, Toronto:

In The News of last evening is outlined a bill that Mr. McNaught, M. P. P. for Toronto, is presenting to the Ontario Legislature to abolish the treating system—a system that is probably the worst of the many evils connected with the sale of liquor. I am a moderate drinker myself, and I know whereof I speak. I hope the bill will get its third reading and become law as speedily as possible. Half the inveterate drinkers in the Dominion have been made so by the treating habit.

It looks as if the Ontario Legislature was in earnest and will make an honest endeavor to fulfil its promises on this question. They will have the hearty support of the drinker and temperance man alike.

There is another point I would call the Government's attention to. At present no lights are allowed to burn in hotel bars after 11 p.m., during the week and 7 p.m. on Saturday evenings. If the Government really wants to stop the sale of liquor during illegal hours—and I believe they do—let them reverse the order and insist on a light being burned in every bar in the province during the hours above mentioned, and the removal of every window covering, so that not only the bar but the bar-room, can be plainly seen from the street.

Also remove the drinking booths in connection with bars—they are a curse. In them young men—and old ones, too—who would not be seen at a bar, congregate and drink during the evening and long after prohibition ed hours in the beer rooms that all the after-hour drinking is done. It is practically permitting a dozen bars in a hotel, with all but one concealed. In this town there is a lot of after-hour drinking done, and it is all done within these rooms or private bars.

Further, a hotelkeeper's license should be suspended, say for three months, upon second offence for illegal selling.

A FRIEND OF TEMPERANCE.

Lindsay, March 9, 1906. Note.—The writer of the above makes presumably a very important assertion with much positiveness, and his alleged knowledge of conditions all over the province would indicate that he is a travelling man. If the letter was prompted by a knowledge of local conditions, then we respectfully submit that, as we have a zealous and attentive License Inspector, his attention ought to have been called to the matter by the writer before rushing into print. — Editor Post.

A DISHONEST OFFICE BOY.

Young Englishman Skipped Out With $50 Belonging to Sadler & Fee. From Evening Post of March 12.

Saturday morning a young English lad, 16 years of age, named William Eaton, who had engaged as office boy with the Lindsay Lumber Co., academy of music block, a couple of days previous was handed a cheque for $50 on the Ontario Bank which he was instructed to cash. The cheque was cashed by the bank teller and the boy promptly boarded the 10:00 o'clock train for Peterboro, purchasing a ticket at the Grand Trunk station. When the cheque was cashed the young fellow was handed seven $5 bills, all of the Ontario Bank, ten $1 bills, and $5 in silver.

Chief Nevison wired the Peterboro police, but up to time of going to press the thief has not been located, and it is believed he has sought refuge in the country. Eaton is a short and chunky fellow, wears a dark grey suit, dark grey cap and short trousers. His hair is blue eyes and rosy cheeks. Mr. H. M. Fox intended to cash the cheque himself, but as the bank was crowded at the time, and he had some pressing business to transact with Mr. J. M. Knowlson, he told the boy to present it and await his return from Mr. Knowlson's office. When Mr. Fox returned shortly after, the youngster had disappeared, and with him the proceeds of the cheque.

Residents on Cambridge-st., particularly will learn with much satisfaction that ex-Mayor Geo. Ingle has purchased from Dr. Herriman the fine building lot adjoining the Dr.'s residence, and in the near future will proceed with the erection of two semi-detached brick dwellings on the property. They will have all modern improvements, and it may be taken for granted that the interior fittings will be first-class.

RUNAWAY COUPLE FROM KINGSTON.

Drove from Port Hope to Kingston and Were Located at the Temperance House. A remarkable story of domestic infidelity has just come to light in Peterboro, says The Examiner. Once again it is the old story of the wife leaving the husband to flee with another man.

It appears that on Monday night a well dressed young man called at the temperance house, owned by Mrs. L. G. Noble, Hunter-st., and applied for lodgings for himself and two ladies. He gave his name as Miller, and said that his party might be in the city only for a day or two, or might remain for a week or more. The prices quoted by Mrs. Noble were satisfactory to the man and he went away, returning shortly after with two well dressed and good looking young ladies, whom he introduced as his wife and sister. "Mr. and Mrs. Miller" were assigned to one room, and Miss Miller to the room adjoining.

Mrs. Noble was considerably surprised when P. C. Stewart called at the Temperance house and informed her that Mr. Henry Connors, of Kingston, was with him, looking for his runaway wife, who, it was believed, was the woman passing under the name of Mrs. Miller. Mr. Connors was taken up to Miller's room and identified "Mrs. Miller" as his wife and "Miss Miller" as Miss Connors, his niece.

Mrs. Noble ordered the party to leave her house at once. Miller was ordered to pay a week's rent for the rooms he had taken, or he would be arrested. Miller chose the former alternative. Mr. Connors begged his wife to come home with him, but for a while she strongly refused to do so. The niece began weeping and at once asked to be taken home. Miller left the house and has not been seen since.

Mr. Connors called at the police station and announced that a reconciliation had been effected. The runaway wife and niece left on the 9 o'clock G. T. R. train last night for Kingston.

It is learned that Mr. Connors is a prosperous farmer, residing near Kingston, and in his employ. The Miller had been in the city from Port Hope and stayed for a day at the Munro house, where, however, the rates seemed too high for Miller, and he decided to look for cheaper lodgings.

JAPAN'S FINANCIAL PROBLEM

WAR HAS LEFT A TREMENDOUS LEGACY OF DEBT.

The Taxes, Already High, Must be Increased and Maintained.

The financial problem that now faces Japan is certainly a gigantic one. It is announced that while 650,000 people are starving in Japan, the government is at its wits' end to find money to keep the machinery of the country going. The increase in the taxes during the war has been enormous. The land tax has increased from 120 to 700 per cent, according to the value of the land; patent taxes have increased 150 per cent.; income tax, 88 to 400 per cent. for the first class, and 100 to 270 per cent. for the second class; the alcohol tax, 200 to 400 per cent.; and sugar taxes 100 to 195 per cent. The Japanese budget, which passed the House of Representatives by 222 to 125, provides expenditures of $515,000,000 for the coming fiscal year, with an ordinary income of $120,000,000. That leaves a deficit of $395,000,000, which it is proposed partly to raise by further increase of taxation and the sale of war material. There will still be a deficit of $215,000,000, however, while it is proposed to raise by loan or in some other way not decided upon. It is being arranged to wipe out the war loan by 1939, but in the meantime, the war taxes will have to be continued and others imposed, and the country is facing a very critical period. The present generation, indeed, has all its work out for the financial situation is a tremendously complicated one.

In this connection Y. Koniaki, in the Paris "European" says that the determination of the government to raise money "by interior loans has been the source of extreme surprise. The nation is far from being in a position to assure the success of a new interior loan," he says, "although it is true that the Government cannot appeal indefinitely to foreign countries, since all that could guarantee loans is already pledged. The government believes, however, that by means of foreign loans the interior loans can be paid off and new loans made at lower rates of interest. Thus it is proposed to use the recent $125,000,000 loan to pay off old interior obligations and then issue a new interior loan. The Nichi Nichi Shimbun regrets that the government does not attempt to economize now when the time has certainly come to make retrenchments. Furthermore, while we have no objection to the $75,000,000 for pensions, the $180,000,000 for bringing the troops home is certainly excessive. We are in full accord with the plan to extinguish the debt in thirty years, but it is fully to use such an amount as $25,000,000 for the army and navy when only $60,000 is being appropriated to work the coal mines of the Liao tung peninsula."

TOLLS PAID ON TRENT CANAL.

Some Interesting Figures from Navigation Report of 1904.

The canal statistics for the season of 1904 have just been issued. They show that the decrease in revenue on the Trent Canal in 1904 was $153,511. In 1903 the amount of wheat carried on the Trent canal was 1,228 tons and in 1904 60 tons. In 1903 298 tons of other vegetable food and in 1904, 120 tons. The total tons of lumber carried in 1903 was 469 and the total tons of vegetable food and lumber in that year was $5,983, as against 189 in 1904. The canal revenue in 1903 was $1,583,07 and in 1904, $1,377,15.

The tolls have now been abolished in the canals of Canada, but during the navigation season of 1904, the amount of toll collected on bridges was $3,64, outside 2 cents, furniture 9 cents, logs $1.09, iron 15 cents, pigs $1.20, salt 24 cents, stone in tender for cutting $1.05, stone not suitable for cutting unwrought, $2.40; wheat, 60 cents; all other goods and merchandise not enumerated.

AT THE CHURCHES SUNDAY.

A GREAT TURNOUT OF SUNDAY SCHOOL SCHOLARS.

Interesting Items Referring to Church Matters, Local and Foreign.

From Evening Post of March 12. The Epworth League of the Queen-st. Methodist church will be in charge of the social department to-night.

Yesterday the Queen-st. Methodist Sunday reached the two hundred mark, which is considered a large attendance.

The Sunday afternoon services which are being conducted at the House of Refuge by the Sunday Schools of the town are being well attended. Yesterday they were conducted by the Queen-st. Sunday School, Supt. McWaters being in charge, and Mr. Robt. Stinson explaining the lesson.

At Queen-st. Methodist church yesterday the pastor, Rev. Mr. Phelps, preached to two large congregations in his usual pleasing way. In the evening he took as his theme, "The Dissection of a Self-Satisfied Man," and in the morning "Doing More Than Enough." Both discourses were very instructive. The choir at the evening service rendered one of the Torrey-Alexander hymns, "Stand up for Jesus."

The music in the Baptist church yesterday was exceptionally good. In the morning the quartette gave a fine number, and Mr. D. H. Williams rendered in fine voice, "The Gates of Paradise." In the evening the choir opened the services with a spiritual rendering of "Steadily Marching On," and after the lesson gave "Bring Precious Gifts to Jesus." After the offering Mr. P. Wilson, by request, gave an excellent rendering of "The City of Light," a song which is admirably suited to his fine baritone voice.

FARISH AND HOME GLEANINGS.

St. Monthly Parish and Home magazine publishes the following items in the March number:

We congratulate Judge Harding on his promotion to the senior judgeship of Victoria County, and trust he may long be spared to decide impartially and wisely the many difficult questions that will come before him.

The February meeting of the Young Men's Association was held at the home of their President, Mr. Leigh R. Knight, and at the close of a helpful and pleasant session the members were kindly entertained by Mrs. Knight and a few friends.

The sudden and unexpected death of Mr. Samuel Reeves in Toronto was a great blow to his friends. The body was brought to Lindsay and taken from his father's home to St. Paul's church, where a large number gathered to pay their last respects and join in the inspiring service, which tells in the resurrection through Christ Jesus. We tender to his wife, (who was a Miss Courtemanche) and little children, as well as his parents and brothers and sisters, sincere sympathy in their time of sorrow.

The February meeting of the Clergy of the Rural Deanery of Durham and Victoria was held in Port Hope. The Rector of Lindsay was kindly entertained at the home of Miss Evans and the Misses Hudspeth, former worshippers at St. Paul's, and who are still much interested in the affairs of our town and parish. This being the first meeting since the death of Archbishop Allan, a resolution was passed expressive of the great loss sustained by the removal of one who for over fifty years lived in the deanery, and for 36 years was either Rural Dean or Archbishop.

CAMBRIDGE-ST. METHODIST.

At yesterday's services at Cambridge-st. Methodist church two large congregations gathered to listen to Rev. Dr. Bishop. In the morning he continued his course of sermons on the wrath of God, taking his text from Romans, 2nd chapter, 1st verse.

In the evening Dr. Bishop commenced a series of sermons on the 51st Psalm, which he will continue to speak on at the revival services during the present week. This was the penultimate Psalm, and last night the speaker based his remarks on the first four verses. One of the saddest and pitiful sights, a spectacle to make one weep—was that of a good man fallen into sin, a man after God's own heart, a man betrayed into the most gross sin. It was a sad example of a man holding the highest position in the kingdom, who had broken the laws of God and his sins had been brought home to him, and he had been humbled. The truth of it is not as fully understood as it should be, that in the agency employed by the man who has sinned. This is a case of a man who realizes his position and repents. When the church of God has received the Holy Ghost then the work of conviction spreads in the community and through the land. It was the message of God through His prophet that brought this sinning King to repentance. Sometimes the preacher has not the power to awaken in the hearts of the people the conviction of sin.

Dr. Bishop illustrated the work of the Spirit of God for good. In order to become repentant we must realize the conviction of sin, the same conviction that had taken a hold on King David. The spirit of God holds the photo of that he can see it. We have no hope in connection with the work of God other than that which is given in conviction of sins in others. Some people enter the church unhumiliated, continue for a time unhumiliated, and then go away unhumiliated. There was a time when David
