—Bowmanville is threatened with a smallpox epidemic. The disease broke out in a mild form, but became virulent. Capt. W. C. King, the famous marksman, is one of the latest victims, and his attack is a serious one.
—A Tonawanda, New York, company has given a contract to 20,000 cords of Spanish River ice. The ice will be piled on shore and covered with sawdust until navigation opens, when vessels will take it to Cleveland and New York.
—It is a strange thing that some people, for the sake of a dollar, will cripple all day, suffer all night, and lose time with rheumatism. Is the bottle cured me completely. Is the usual remedy after taking Dr. Roscoe's Rheumatic Remedy.—wtdt.
—In our report of the Waterworks meeting last week we failed to make perfectly clear our statement in regard to Mr. Chalmers' proposition, which was to the effect that he would do the excavating and backfilling if the Commissioners would supply him with water for the building of his new house, which would figure at $6 or $7.
—The teachers and students of the Collegiate Institute will be pleased to learn that Johnnie Murphy, who had his thigh broken four weeks ago today, is up on his feet. He is recovering quickly and will soon be back to school. Johnnie was lonely leaving the Ross Memorial, where he was treated so kindly.
—The most successful business men are the best advertisers," said Ald. Sheppard, of Toronto, in supporting the creation of a department of advertising in the city. The truth of this statement is self-evident. The merchants who do the most and best advertising are generally the most successful business men. Some of our business men, however, are slow to realize this fact.
—County Judge Weller, of Peterboro, has a commission as practicing solicitor on strike for some months, and has just won it. He refused to serve without salary, and at first demanded $200 per annum, but reduced the amount to $100. The Council felt like holding out longer, but the Mayor and Magistrate could do nothing without the Judge, and the police force was becoming disorganized, they gave in, and the Judge will draw his salary regularly henceforth. It's a bit hard on the other Commissioners.
—Here is a good Lenten story. In a London restaurant a waiter was surprised at being asked by an Irishman for a "filled white." It is a filled white shark that he wanted. The waiter, upon being asked, being refused this delicacy. Again receiving notice that he wanted the "filled white," he said, "I'm sorry, but I can't give you any more." The waiter then showed signs of becoming irate, and Paddy sank back in his seat and heaved a sigh of contentment. "You see," he said, "I can't give you any more, but I'm sorry that I can't give you any more." —wtdt.
—Apparently potatoes are fairly plentiful in the country, but the farmers are not bringing them to market in quantity. At the present time there is just about enough coming in to keep the grocers supplied. But one satisfaction is that our people are able to purchase potatoes in the stores at 80c per bag, or 60c per bushel, and when they are sold on the market—which is not often—they are sometimes offered at 50c per bag, while in Peterboro good potatoes sell at 90c per bag, and when bought from the grocers in small lots a still higher price has to be paid.

THE TALE OF A BROWN CUR.

FED ON POISON AND PORTERHOUSE HE SEEMED TO GROW FRISKY.

Dougal Sinclair's $50 Deer Hound Proved More Susceptible.
From Evening Post of March 21.
Twice during the last couple of days we have referred to complaints made to us by citizens and heard from pedestrians who had a "chase to pick" with a certain ownerless brown dog which of late has been in the habit of chasing after busses coming from the G.T.R. station, and nipping pedestrians in the legs. Yesterday morning one of our Kent-st. business men was nipped. Chief Nevison kept his eye open for the varmint, and last evening he espied it chasing after the Pym house bus.
The Chief at once proceeded to put into execution a plan he had hatched during the preceding night. As he stated this morning, he secured a hunk of butcher's breakfast (real porterhouse) and sprinkled some poison on it. Then he offered the delicious dainty to the said brown dog in the Bus Mr. Douglas Sinclair's yard. The canine grabbed it and carried it away behind the Market building, followed by the Chief, who wished to guard against any other dog getting any of the deadly poison. The dog passed through Mr. Sinclair's house, and entered the lane behind Hamilton's carriage shop. Here the brown "pup" did the vanishing act, and has not been seen since.
But matters again became interesting when shortly after it was ascertained that Mr. Douglas Sinclair's valuable $50 hunting hound had been poisoned, and soon a large crowd assembled on Kent-st. to witness the animal's painful end. The Chief is of the opinion that the dog must have got a piece of the meat in some way, but does not know how.
This morning, when Mr. Douglas Sinclair was seen, he expressed himself as having hard luck in buying hounds and having them killed, having had several of such experiences of late years. It was a dog that the hunting party wouldn't take money for. Mr. Sinclair does not blame the Chief for intentionally poisoning his hound, but at the same time he maintains that if he against the law to poison dogs, he is open for a settlement for the loss of his hound, failing which the Chief may have to tell his story in the box as defendant in a suit for damages.

COMMUNICATIONS.

KEEP REABORO ROAD OPEN. (To the Editor of The Post.)

Sir,—As one who frequently travels from Reaboro to Lindsay, I would say that our thanks are due to those who are keeping the road open. There can be no question that it is a great convenience to have as short a road as possible between Lindsay and Reaboro and Onemece. While sympathizing in a measure with those who prefer not to have their farms cut up, yet the road has been there for many years and it would be a backward step, a disadvantage to the travelling public, a hindrance to trade, and an inconvenience to many for all time, to have it closed.
Trusting that all may see the utility and advantage of keeping the road open, I am, yours etc.,
Lindsay, March 21, '06.
A. TRAVELLER.

SHOULD BE ORDERED OUT.

(To the Editor of The Post.)
Sir,—A new swindler appears to be ready for the unwary and innocent. It works somewhat as follows: An agent will call at a home, and introduce himself as the representative of a company which is about establishing an Art Studio in town, and then he will ask the mistress of the house if she will accept a gift of a picture from the company just simply to introduce to the public specimens of the artist's work. No doubt most people would consent to receive such a gift. Then she is asked to hang in on the wall, and if she promises to oblige in this respect, she is next asked for a photo of some member of the family. This favor being granted, the agent at once assumes he has an order or an opportunity to go on talking until he obtains an order. If the person who handed him the photo unthinkingly, becomes alert to let him take away the photo, he is apt to get a little insolent or "huffy" again. He will ask if a nice picture is sent her will she appreciate it enough to get it framed. If she says "Yes," then he will tell her also to have a frame made for a picture which he represents, and that it will cost three dollars or upwards of three dollars. If any person is silly enough to agree to this it certainly means that she will have to pay a big price for the frame of a picture which was merely a copy of a photo given for the purpose, or in other words it is getting a picture enlarged and paying well for it.—Yours, etc.,
ALMOST A VICTIM,
Lindsay, March 21st.

STOCK NOTES.

Mr. N. Day, of Lakeview farm, Powles Corners, Fenelon, has just returned from a business trip to Toronto, where he disposed of five or six fine Percheron geldings. Mr. Day reports the trip as a successful one, having sold a copy of a photo which he received. He intends to take another lot to the city later on the Toronto Sunday World sale. A successful and profitable week's business is the way he expressed himself, when in conversation with our representative on Saturday. "We have just sold Joseph Russell, Quebec, a handsome pair of Percheron geldings of superior type, last brothers, four years old, sired by Black Duke, dams grand Percheron mares, weighing 3500 lbs. sold to us by Mr. N. Day, of Powles Corners, Ont. Mr. Day is one of the oldest breeders of Percheron horses in Ontario, and he claims that this pair of grey geldings are fair specimens of his breeding. They are as choice a team as have been offered for sale since the opening of the Canadian Horse Exchange, one year ago this month."

Opposed to Dancing.

The Woodstock School Board has gone on record as opposed to dancing. The question of dancing at the "At Home" to be given by the Collegiate pupils on the Thursday before Good Friday occupied much of the attention of the Board. The principal, Mr. Levan, made an application for the use of the school for the reception, and received it. The Board, however, struck the thing out of the agenda. While they had no objection themselves to permitting dancing, they fear that it might create a bad feeling among some people of the city, and on that ground permission was withheld.
