SITTING A HEN.

Some Practical Suggestions on Natural Incubation.

A fairly successful method of mine has been with a closed box divided into six nests. In the bottom of each nest is placed a thin cover of grass sod turned grass side down. The sod is nicely hollowed out and with very little straw on the earth and the roots of the grass, makes an ideal nest and gives the right moisture required by the eggs. How often we noticed that the hen that stole her nest away in the hedge row where she would get drenched by the rain, invariably brought off the full complement of chicks. There were no infertile eggs nor any chicks too weak to break the shell.

After the hen has sat two nights on the nest, she may be well sulphured and placed on the eggs (after dark invariably) and the lid closed down. About mid-day is a good time to feed. When the lid is opened, any hens not coming off are lifted from the nest and placed near the food. In from that time to an hour the hens that have not found their way back to their eggs are caught and placed on the nest and the lid closed down until the same time next day.

The first time or two off to feed the hen should be watched and quietly worked if possible, toward the nest. She will rarely go astray after twice finding her way to her eggs though the nest may be quite strange to her.

By sitting three hens the same day the chicks may be given to two hens and the third reared.

Mrs. Jones' Turkey Talk.

The year 1905 I think was a fairly good year for the turkey raiser, but still the demand exceeds the supply, which makes one look forward with pleasure to the glad news of 1906 and we are longing to start in again to see what a flock we can raise.

The same complaint is heard year after year about turkeys dying. I have before me a letter saying it would be nice if some of the turkey writers would tell turkey raisers how to prevent turkeys dying when one-third to one-half grown. The writer says he thought it might be lice, so he worked faithfully to keep them free from these insects, but lost some, although not so many as some others. Lice is one great cause of mortality in young turkeys, and one should have one day in each week set apart to settle the lice question on their turkeys. I always attend to this in the morning before we let them out from their coops, thoroughly dusting them with insect powder. I take a box, or two of them if I have a large flock to dust, and as fast as they are dusted I drop them into a box, and then there is never any more lice. Mark the day in your calendar never let anything interfere with the work on that day the turkeys are dusted. I take a box of turkeys, as one week will hatch thousands of fat, lively lice.

It is a great cause of mortality of the turkey year if more than one is equal in another quarter, and that is over-feeding. The Creator created turkeys for another purpose than to be dependent on our bounty. He created them for the specific purpose of destroying the next lower grade of animals. All animals, including man, are made to revolve like a wheel within a wheel. We commence with the worm or even more minute insects, and the next higher order of animals devour them, and so on until we reach the turkey, and their mission on earth is to roam over the fields and devour grass-hoppers, worms and bugs, and keep down these nefarious and destructive insects that have in the early days of our nation's history caused starvation and destitution in Kansas and Nebraska, the two States that now stand forth in the glory of their statehood and bid defiance to drouth and grasshoppers, and furnish the world with bread. And perhaps the turkey has been the humble instrument of downing the grasshopper plague. But too much grasshoppers is not what kills your turkeys. It is stuffing them with too much other food. If you turkey breeders and raisers will open the first turkey that dies, if you have kept the lice off, you will find white or yellow spots on the liver. That is caused by over-feeding, and is contrary to Nature's way. The Lord set the turkey down in our forests, or is supposed to have done so, as we have no authentic account of how the Indian turkeys, and the wild ducks came here. The turkey foamed over the forest, the trees or their roof and the leaves for their scratching ground, their destiny the Indian's arrow, and furnished the savages with a dinner, and the Indians turn furnished the turkey an occasional dinner. So the wheel revolves, each serving the purpose of its creation. But those turkeys hatched 414 years ago were not hampered with food any more than we are, and what they did get they could digest with ease. The bear could digest an Indian and not be bothered with stomach trouble, but a turkey picked a bug or a worm, and perhaps had to travel quite a distance before finding another, and the first one would be properly digested in the meantime. But in civilization we feed our turkeys, and because they appear half starved, we keep on throwing down feed until they begin to look rough and droop, and the next we know their feet are turned up as the sky, and their nest is Rachel weeping for her departed keys and refusing to be comforted, till she has wept and wailed. Later I will tell how I feed and what I feed to neutralize the efforts of a too concentrated feed.

February first should see our flocks of turkeys started up for the season's work, as the hens and pullets indicate by their peculiar call that the egg season is at hand, although the last of March is as soon as we can expect eggs. But any nice spring morning early in February you can hear the turkeys uttering their peculiar call and see them looking around as though they were locating good places for nests.

VICTORIA ROAD.

(Special to The Post.) The silver set, which was drawn for at the concert on the 11th was won by ticket No. 2294, held by J. Rule, near Sudbury. The concert was a grand and pleasing success. Miss Margaret Shields, Miss Mabel Shields, Miss Shee, Miss McGee, Miss Cassie McDonald, deserving honorable mention; while Master Tom Walsh, Clarence Dryden and Luke McNaney took their parts cleverly in their dialogue.

OAKWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Mission services conducted by Rev. Mr. Brown, have closed and we feel that good has been accomplished. Some were disappointed in not having the privilege of hearing Mrs. Acknowled, at Stouffville as was previously announced.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Herbert Webster, of Winnipeg, is improving in health. Mr. James Taylor, who occupied the house next to Mr. Weldon's property, has removed his family to Toronto, where he has secured a splendid situation.

Miss Mila Webster was "at home" to a number of her friends on Friday evening last. Mr. A. G. Hogg's store, occupied by Pascoe Bros., is being renovated and a much improved appearance. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hogg spent Sunday at Woodville, the guests of Mrs. James Jordan.

COBOCONK.

(To the Editor of The Post.) Mr. Editor—Will you please allow me a small space in your valuable paper. There are at present in this locality two men travelling around who represent themselves as manufacturers of electric batteries, which they are selling at a low price. They claim to sell these batteries at $10 each and only two in the one will last, after which the man will cost $40. As a sample of fame, he will let them see that they can get for $5, in another place they took $15 from a widow for one. These machines have been compared with those used by a local druggist, and are found to be the same machine. Constable Wakefield got after them last week and they very readily handed out repayment for a machine sold here. I hope this note may be warning to people to have no dealings with these men. — Yours, etc. FAIR PLAY. Cobocok, March 19, '06.

CORSON'S SIDING.

(Special to The Post.) On Wednesday evening, March 5th, a very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. DeCatur, of Corson's Siding. The bride, Miss Pearl Wright, was united in holy matrimony to Mr. Alfred Brentnell, formerly of Bexley. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. W. H. DeCatur, and was handsomely attended in while Indian Miss Cardella, who looked charming in a handsome dress of myrtle green with overlace. The groom was ably assisted by his brother, Mr. Fred Brentnell, of the same town. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Mr. Wickett, of Victoria Road in the presence of about fifty guests and immediately after they assembled in the spacious dining-room where a sumptuous repast awaited them. A very pleasant evening was spent by all in music, recitations and other amusements. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold watch and chain and the other gifts were numerous and of great value. The high order of matrimony which both parties were entering into was testified to by the many friends gathered at the station to wish Mr. and Mrs. Brentnell bon voyage to their future home in the North-west. Saturday morning the going was to the world with friends and the bride and veil to match and a long gray coat.

BOBAYGON.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) There has been a number of credit sales of stock and farm implements in this vicinity during the past two weeks and if we can judge from the price people bid for them, the world is not so much in a slump as we expect to pay for our Mr. Leonard Dunn's sale, just north of here, it was a common thing to hear a farmer bid $40 or $45 for a cow, and at the like condition of bidding seemed to prevail. The farmers are evidently prosperous now, and no doubt their motto is to keep prospering.

BOBAYGON.

A number of the jobbers from our town and vicinity have wound up their winter's work and most of them report a good season with regard to both timber and finances, but a few will help for "the pull out." But such is man's lot. Fortune or misfortune is sure to come, so all may be satisfied. The Verulam Agricultural Society held a special meeting of its directors and disposed of the following business, viz: Received a full report from their delegates, who attended the Ontario Fairs Association, held in Toronto on the 21st and 22nd ult.; made a complete revision of their price list for their fall fair; talked over improving their grounds, and arranged for Government expert judges on stock. The work done by the directors at this meeting show that they mean business.

BOBAYGON.

On Wednesday evening last Rev. W. G. Smith united Mrs. Rose Murphy, of this place to Mr. Joseph Hunter, of Rugby, North Dakota, in the holy bonds of matrimony. The newly married couple left on the C. P. R. early morning for their future home in Dakota. We join their many friends in wishing them happiness and prosperity in the far west.

BOBAYGON.

Messrs. Wm. Junkin, Moss Kelly, George Spruce, and Edgar and Kelly, left for the West on Tuesday morning last with their families. There were four carloads of their effects and three or four more were to be taken on at Dundas, so that between the two places a large number left for the West from Verulam.

BOBAYGON.

Mr. D. W. Grant is getting Mr. Hamilton Horn's boat navigation apparatus, and by the time navigation opens everything will be in "ship shape." It will be quite good enough to take a trip in over the Kawartha lakes.

As Mr. Sam Fletcher was driving past the fire hall, his horse started to cut up, and one of them in his capers got his left leg over the pole and then jerked to one side striking the fire hall and throwing the occupants on the street. Fortunately no one was seriously injured, but Mrs. Fletcher received a painful wound, which was a cut on the forehead.

Knox church here held their anniversary on the 18th and 19th. The Rev. G. Potter, B.A., of Peterboro, conducted the services on the 18th, preaching both profitable and interesting sermons morning and evening. The rev. gentleman gave one of his popular lectures on Monday evening.

PLEASANT POINT.

(Special to The Post.) We are having wintry weather at present. Miss Annie Brien has returned after visiting friends at Windsor, Essex and other places. Mr. V. Beatty, of Bobaygon, has returned, after visiting Riverview friends.

Mr. Wm. Greer has returned from the shanty. Mr. and Mrs. A. Wallace, of Madoc, are visiting friends in this vicinity. Miss Katie Jackson, of Valentia, paid friends a flying visit. Many people are having wood bees. Many friends will be sorry to hear of the sudden death of Mr. A. Smith, of Madoc.

Mr. Harry Endicott has erected a frame barn on his farm in Emily.

OMEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) March weather is favorable as yet, to winter wheat and clover. Large shipments of stock by Moore, of Lindsay, to-day. Gemy's lecture last Friday night attracted a large crowd. It was in aid of the public library.

Mr. Robinson, retired farmer, visited Mr. J. J. Lamb, of the Omemee tannery this week. Our church choir are busy rehearsing Easter music, taken at the Omemee. Large majorities in other parts of the Dominion. There is a desire on the part of the temperance workers to persevere in having it passed here.

The "Temple of Fame" is being re-erected and will be put on Easter Monday in aid of the Public Library.

CAMBRA.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) The basket social held on Wednesday, under the auspices of the baseball club, was a huge success. The hall was packed and the bidding for the pretty baskets was spirited. The corresponding extends his congratulations to Mr. W. B. Feirely, who has been made a J. P. Surely with two in our village the law will be well administered.

Miss Eva Irwin arrived home Saturday night after spending a few weeks with friends at Havelock. Mrs. John Cochrane went to the General Hospital, Toronto, on Monday to undergo an operation, which we hope will be successful. Her husband, who was taken to Toronto for the purpose of an operation, is, we are sorry to say, dangerously ill.

Mr. James Routley, Toronto, has been visiting his grandfather, Mr. W. Routley, during the past week.

SALEM, OPS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Mr. Charles Hartley, taken advantage of the sleighing, having been away for some time, to town this week. Mr. Jas. Houghton has disposed of his valuable team. Mr. Edgison, we understand, is going to build a new house, and Mr. Jas. Nollis is about to erect a new barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Warry, Fleetwood, visited Mr. and Mrs. Patton Sunday last. While Mr. Theo. Tracy was drawing logs at Mr. Hartley's, the chain which fastened the binder broke and struck Mr. Tracy in the face, knocking out several teeth.

Mr. W. Downey spent Sunday at Rebaro. Mr. and Mrs. W. Crowley spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. D. Crowley.

Mr. George McCullum and sister, Miss Hannah, left for the Northwest Monday last.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK. Receipts of live stock at the City Market since Friday last, as reported by the railways, were 71 carloads, composed of 1423 cattle, 288 hogs, 282 sheep and over 100 calves.

Prices ranged from $4.50 to $5.25 per cwt.; bulls sold at $3.50 to $4 per cwt. There were few exporters on the market, and the bulk of them were bought for butchery purposes, on account of the scarcity of good cattle in the butchers' class.

Butchers. Butcher's cattle of choice quality were 24 framed, and, as their sales were at higher prices than at any time since the Christmas market, the quality of the choice picked lots of prime cattle sold at $4.00 to $5 per cwt., but there were few of them; best good at $4.25 to $4.50; medium at $3.75 to $4.15; common at $3.50 to $3.75; cows at $3 to $4 per cwt.; calves at $1.50 to $2.25.

Feeders and Stockers. Mr. Murby reports stockers and feeders scarce today, especially the feeders, as owing to the shortage in butchers' feeders with any fresh on them sold at prices too high for feeding purposes. Mr. Murby reports the following prices: Best feeders, 1100 to 1200 lbs., at $4.20 to $4.30; best feeders, 1100 to 1200 lbs., at $4.20 to $4.30; best feeders, 1000 to 1100 lbs., at $4.10 to $4.20; medium feeders, 1000 to 1100 lbs., at $3.70 to $4.10; best feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs., at $3.70 to $4.10; best feeders, 800 to 900 lbs., at $3.50 to $3.70; medium feeders, 800 to 900 lbs., at $3.30 to $3.50; common stockers, $2.75 to $3. Mr. Murby bought about 120 stockers and feeders at the above quotations.

Milk Cows. There were a large number of milk cows and springers offered, the quality of the bulk of them being common to inferior. Prices were off from $5 to $15 per head. Prices ranged from $25 to $50 each, and few brought the latter figure.

Veal Calves. Veal calves were plentiful, but generally at inferior to common quality. Good calves were scarce and sold at as high prices as for several weeks past. Prices for the bulk ranged from $2.50 to $7 per cwt., but $7.50 per cwt. was paid for two or three prime milk-fed calves.

Sheep and Lambs. The run of sheep and lambs was light, and prices were firmer in one or two instances for prime picked lots of ewes and wethers. Export ewes sold at $4.75 to $5.25 per cwt.; backs, $4 to $4.50 per cwt.; best lots of grain-fed lambs sold at $6.75 to $7.25 per cwt., but one or two lots of prime quality sold at $7.50 per cwt.; mixed lots of common lambs sold at $5.50 to $6.50 per cwt.; Western Dums, as usual, got the bulk of those offered.

Hogs. Receipts of hogs were light--588 on the market. Mr. Harris reports his prices as unchanged at $8.85 for select, $6.60 for lights and fats. The receipts of hogs on the City and Junction Markets for the last week were nearly 3000 less than for the same week last year.
