-Fr. Phelan, of Young's Point near Lakefield, was in town Monday making some arrangements for the annual picnic of the parish on May 24th. He is very popular in Lindsay, where he spent several busy years and there is certain to be a great exodus to Laketield on the day of the

-The grain season opened at Midland on Sunday with the arrival of two vessels from Chicago-the Midland Queen, carrying 110,000 bushels of wheat, and the Mary Elphicke, an enormous freighter, with 339,000 bushels in her holds. Last year over 15 million bushels of grain were received at Midland, and carried through Lindsay to Montreal; this year it is expected the total will reach 25 millions.

-The editor of the Campbellford Despatch met with an accident two years ago by falling through a large window pane in the front of his office. A number of pieces of glass pencirated his back near the right lung, and several of them were removed at the time by a physician. A shapr pain was felt recently about six inches below the old wound, and a physician who made an examination found a piece of glass 25-8 inches long and 5-8 of an inch thick, lying on the rib.

-We were shown on Saturday by a representative of the Natural Hen Incubator Co., of Blackwater, Ont., a very ingenious contrivance whereby the natural hen can be used to hatch the eggs and produce better resultst han by the old haphazard methods. ago, in the person of Mr. Robt. Widdess, of Lindsay. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, after a few suitable words from Rev. Mr. Baker, of Hillsdale, the following address was read and Mr. Widdess was presented with a fur cont, and Mrs. Widdess with a silk dress, both very valuable and tandsome presents:

To Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Widdoss: Dear Parents,-We, your children, grandchildren and friends, meet you to-day to join with you in celebrating your golden wedding. Fifty years ago to-day you joined hand in hand, heart in heart, as long as you both shall live, and during all these years you have fought life's battle together. No doubt you have had times of sadness as well as times of rejoicing. Such is life. We join with you in thankfulness to the allwise Father for the very great degree of health he has given you, and we trust that you may be spared to enjoy each other's society for many years to come. We would take this opportunity of presenting you with this coat and this dress as a token of our great esteem for you and would ask you to accept them in the spirit in which they are given and pray that you may live long to enjoy the comfort they may afford you.

Mr. Widdess replied to the address in a few words that well expressed their feelings, thanking their many friends for the presents and others they had received. After singing "Blest be the tie that binds" the entire party then sat down to a well prepared wedding feast, Justice was soon done to this part of the program. In the evening the gathering dispersed, leaving with the old couple their best wishes for good health and enjoyment in their advanced age.
