The Kind You Have Always Bought

By "The Stroller."

When the liquor bill now before the Ontario house was introduced, we nade a flew comments on it and promised to take it up again after we had a charge to study it in detail. Mr Hanna has not thought it worth! while to send The Stroller a copy, but we presume there are others he has left out too. We will just have to discuss it as best we can, from the the newspaper reports, which we are pleased to admit, are generally in the main correct. In order that our readers may appreciate our comments the more intelligently, we would just like to say that we are in thorough sympathy with all temperance legislation, and any law that seeks to ourtail or abolish the drink evil from our land, will have our hearty support. At the same time, there is no use shutting our eyes to facts and conditions confronting us, which must be taken into consideration in discussing this very important question. For instance, the fact that a considerable portion of every community are bound to have strong drink in some shape or other, must be reckoned with, and if all the legal ed, let alone carried out, without a deal of education on the part of all the community. Not only must a large majority of the people be agreeable to having the law on the statute book, but they must be willing to do a little detective work if they would have them carried out., This brings up the point in the new act that the temperance people must find dault with and which we will speak of later on, viz., the clause requiring a two-thirds majority before local option can be carried into effect.

To begin at the beginning. Some with Mr. Whitney for the poor billof-fare he has presented to them in the shape of temperance legislation. They have no call to do so, for neither by precept nor example nor profor anything different. Mr. Whitney has always said that if the present give the people all that could reasonably be expected to carry. True, Mr. during illegal hours, whilst the other fellows were catisfied with cold water, and also true that any curtailment of the drnik curse was brodged about by such tectotalers as Crooks, what they did and who yet knew how far they dare go in enforcing legislation, yet the temperance people, in their wisdom, helped to hurl the friends of temperance from power and put in those who, if friendly, are so after they have wined and dined. How can they reasonably expect Mr. for, unless he were seeking to play for votes, and we don't think the time has come for that and truth to Town Clerk Lang, with the following | say we don't think Mr. Whitney cares | perance vote or not.
