He, his family of twelve, two lady visitors and a servant girl were sleeping. Two other sons were absent from home. When aroused, the smoke was filling the corriders so thickly that the imperilled ones had to crawl along the floors. There was no time to don street apparel, and all were attired only in their night robes when, huddled together, they were reached by the firemen. There were nine women, Mr. Ross and five of his sons taken out.
