SERMON BY BR. BISHOP, OF BIG METHODIST CHURCH.

Sunday morning last Rev. Dr. Bishop delivered a thoughtful sermon from Psalm 78. The principal business of one generation is the teaching and training of the next. There was no greater responsibility resting on mankind than that one generation should instruct the next, and God has made provision in various ways that parents should give their children instruction of Him. One great purpose was that the attention of the children should be directed to the living God. Then they should show forth their praises. If they would but hear His voice and keep His commandments, their safety would be assured and also success in life. The knowledge of God is the everything that is essential to meet the requirements of ordinary life. Children need to be directed and thoroughly instructed concerning God. They should be taught that this world is not their permanent abode and they should be dealt with as intelligent, free, moral agents, whom stimulate the thought, educate the conscience and teach them self-control. What our children do afterwards will depend on what we do.

The triumphs of selfish men are at an end and the time will come when the seats of prominence will belong to men of moral worth, and we should therefore impress upon our children's hearts the grandeur of God's life. Instruct them that they may take their God-given place in the kingdom of Christ. Secure Godliness in the child and God will care for them Just as God is honored the people are exalted and those who deny God reap disgrace. The world began its highest upward reach when the church of God began to teach her children, began to rise and develop and Christ's glory spread. The world's greatest benefactors have greatly risen from those who have been taught in youth to follow God and the church to-day was employing its most gifted in the repayment was to be made by the work of the Sunday school, in the training of youth. Home is the first responsibility, as it is first an opportunity. No father or mother can afford to leave to any other agency the instruction of the children and was a responsibility on the church to gather them. Childhood vestigated. is the cruical religious period and we should take advantage of it, and in doing this we will bless the nation and insure the facti that the next generation should mark an advance
