out of the wrong kind of wheat any more than you can make the right kind of bread or pastry out of the wrong kind of flour.

Ogilvie's Royal Household Flour is made from hard spring wheat—a wheat that is rich in nutriment, that grinds fine and white, and produces bread and pastry that are wholesome and nourishing as well as light and crisp—it is a flour that begins to be good in the wheat fields, not in the mills.

RIGHTS OF MINORITY

Hon. Edward Blake Stands For Roman Catholic Rights in Education—Cites Canada in Argument.

London, May 16.—(C. A. P.)—During the debate on the educational bill Tuesday night Mr. Edward Blake, in a speech which endorsed the views of the Government expressed on behalf of the Roman Catholics, by Messrs. T. P. O'Connor, MacLean and E. Cecil, said that he had enjoyed the privilege of a long and varied experience of the relations between Roman Catholics and Protestants in their controversies on this subject.

He had always taken a stand on broad general principles, and when the Minister of Education said all minorities must suffer he admitted that some suffering might sometimes be inevitable in carrying out a measure of great public policy, but he had always held the view that in these controversies the weak should be generous to the strong.

He contended that the Government of the Roman Catholics against interference with their religious views ought to be respected, and if possible averted, in the course of the legislation.

After all, the parent was a member of the state and contributed to the rates of taxes out of which the educational system was maintained, therefore it was not a benefaction or subsidy that he was asking for. That a share in the public control would be demanded of all state schools was foreseen, but it was in the extent and character of the methods of interference and in the inequity of the safeguard that he and his friends believed the bill would be fundamentally vicious, and to trench unwarrantably on the rights of the Catholic minority.

It was essential to security of the minority that clause four should be made compulsory and not merely permissive.

To leave the question whether that clause should come into force or not to the judgment of each authority would be throwing into the hands of bigots the means of creating a religious controversy.

In Canada, as preliminary to the new constitution of 1867, it was agreed that the rights of the dissenting religious minorities should be secured as fundamental articles of constitution. The first element of finality for this educational question was to insure that the protection of clause four be available. They knew too well the difficulty of passing acts of Parliament to protect the Roman Catholic minority in this country against the Protestant majority.

DAGGER OF ASSASSIN

Finds the Heart of Harsh Vice-Admiral Kuzmich.

BLOODSHED ON RUSS MAY DAY

Commander of the Port of St. Petersburg Stabbed to Death by Workman Infuriated Because of His Harsh Discipline—The Assassin Escapes—Czar Will Have to Choose in Amnesty Proposition.

St. Petersburg, May 15.—Vice-Admiral Kuzmich, commander of the Port, who was very unpopular with the workmen, was assassinated here yesterday by workmen whose May Day demonstration he had attempted to stop.

The admiral was killed at the new admiralty works, a Government installation where most of the 2,000 men employed there reported for duty at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. They wanted to march out at once in a body and celebrate the Russian May Day, but finally agreed to work till 2 o'clock. The admiral, however, cancelled this and at about 9.30 a. m. according to an officer who was at the gate of the works, the admiral was emerging from a small shop in the works when a workman, who has been concealed around the corner of the building leaped on Kuzmich from behind and drove a long dagger into his back. The admiral fell forward on his face and expired immediately. The assassin fled into a nearby factory, where he was lost among the men employed there. The dagger which was found was concealed in a round stick like a sword cane.

Kuzmich had the reputation among the workmen of being harsh and despot.

Why Every Family Wants Amnesty.

St. Petersburg, May 15.—A crisis already confronts the Emperor, who will be compelled to yield or accept the gage of battle.

Almost every family in Russia contains a member or relative who has suffered or is now suffering for his political opinions, and their demand for the release of all political offenders has fired the imagination of the country.

The Radicals in the Lower House insist that a demand for amnesty should be presented to the Emperor as an ultimatum. This the moderate leaders of the Constitutional Democrats have thus far succeeded in preventing, but if the tide continues to rise they must bow to the will of the Radicals or their leadership will be swept away.

DEATH OF CARL SCHURZ.

Prominent Figure in United States Politics Passes Away.

New York, May 15.—Carl Schurz, widely known as a publicist, and former Cabinet member, died at his home in this city at 4.35 o'clock yesterday morning.

He was born in the village of Liblar, near Cologne, in 1829 and had extensive experience in the revolutionary movement in Germany, while attending the University of Bonn. When the uprising came in 1849 he served as a private in the ranks of the insurgents. Soon after his marriage Schurz came to this country, locating first at Philadelphia. Three years later he moved to Wisconsin, and during the succeeding 20 years he was one of the prominent figures in the political history of the country. He went to Spain as United States Minister in 1861, later resigning to return and serve in the civil war, during which he earned the title of major-general. In 1869 he was elected to the United States Senate from Missouri.

In 1887 he became secretary of the Interior in the Cabinet of President Hayes. During his tenure of office Mr. Schurz effected wide reforms in the administration of the department.

At the close of his term of office he came to New York and devoted himself to the remainder of his long life to editorial and literary work.

Distrust of Chamberlain.

London, May 15.—The debate in the House of Commons on the education bill has justified the distrust in which a certain section of the Unionist party have always held Mr. Chamberlain. Many Conservatives in voting for his fiscal policy failed to remember that Mr. Chamberlain was Unitarian, and in educational matters not sympathetic with the Orthodox church party. He has now caused consternation by accepting the main principles of the education bill, though with reservations as to Roman Catholic requirements.

SOME LIVELY TIMES

Caused By Quarrel Between W. T. R. Preston and A. Jury.

RE TRAVELING EXPENSES

Return Relating to Squabbles of Immigration Officials of Canada in Britain Tabled in the House—Jury's Charges and Confession—Mr. Preston's Complaint—When Mr. Jury Went Broke.

Ottawa, May 12.—A return relating to the squabbles between Mr. W. T. R. Preston on the one hand, and Messrs. Griffith and Just of the High Commissioner's office, and Mr. Alfred Jury, immigration agent at Liverpool, on the other, was tabled yesterday.

It is alleged that Messrs. Griffith and Jury, and a Mr. Thomas Duncan, who is not now in the service, were charging first-class fares whenever they traveled, and only paying second or third class. This led to an order issued from Ottawa forbidding the practice under penalty of immediate dismissal. Mr. Preston, in his letter, charges Griffith, Jury and Duncan with sending in fraudulent accounts.

Mr. Jury's Charges. Mr. Jury, in one communication, says that Preston was aware all along of what had been done, but in a moment of pique stopped his first-class fares and ordered him to travel third, which he refused to do. Preston, he states, then held up the accounts until ordered by the department to pay them. "So far as I am concerned," observes Mr. Jury, "the difference between first and third class fares has not gone into my pocket for myself, but to recoup me for out-of-pocket expenses that one must incur if one wants to make oneself on terms of good-fellowship with the steamship agents in this country, and also to recoup me the money that I have to give to distressed Canadians who are calling at the office at the rate of two or three a day."

Mr. Preston's Complaint. Mr. Preston was asked to establish amicable relations with the staff. He states that the animosity towards him only exists on the part of the officers named, and alleges that fraudulent accounts, "notwithstanding the most humiliating advances on my part, ill-will and constant insults have been my portion from the clique whose perquisites he stopped their fraudulent accounts. "From that day to the present," he declares, "notwithstanding the most humiliating advances on my part, ill-will and constant insults have been my portion from the clique whose perquisites he stopped their fraudulent accounts. "From that day to the present," he declares, "notwithstanding the most humiliating advances on my part, ill-will and constant insults have been my portion from the clique whose perquisites he stopped their fraudulent accounts."

Mr. Jury "Went Broke." In a letter of the 26th of February, 1905, from Mr. Jury to Mr. Preston, the former complains that he has no funds, and he adds: "I am broke, and unless I get some money I cannot complete my lecture engagements. I have not any gold mines in the shape of the Canadian Labor Bureau or the North Atlantic Trading Co. to draw from. By the way, I see from the Auditor-General's report that it is a very good gold mine. Do you know if there are any shares for sale in that company? You may be able to get me in on the ground floor."

Mr. Preston was highly indignant on account of this letter. He wrote to the department, drawing attention to the charges contained in Mr. Jury's communication, and asked for his dismissal.

On another occasion Mr. Jury warns Mr. Preston: "Don't monkey with the bureau; sign these cheques and send them along."

Decision On the Rate Discrimination Charges Reserved.

Toronto, May 12.—The Railway Commission yesterday heard the conclusion of the complaint of the William Davies Co. that the increase in the railway rate on pork-packing produce from 16 1/2 to 19 cents per hundred pounds was unjust and unreasonable.

The Commission closed its hearing of evidence on the discrimination charges during the afternoon. It reserved decision on the specific charge made by the Wm. Davies Co.

MERRY WEDDING BELLS

Walters-Coulter.

On Wednesday, May 9th, a very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Coulter, South Ops, when their daughter, Rilla Alberta, was united in marriage to Robert James Walter. At 3 o'clock p.m., to the strains of the wedding march which was played by Mrs. W. H. Skuce the bridal party entered the parlor. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of pearl grey voile, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and smilax. Friends from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Walter, Miss Miller, Mr. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. McIvor, all of Peterboro; Mr. and Mrs. Coulter, Cambridge; Mrs. Sadler and Miss Henderson, of Lindsay; Little Miss Mona Coulter, sister of the bride, who acted as maid of honor, wore a dainty dress of pale blue voile and carried the ring on a tray in a wreath of flowers. Rev. Mr. Ward, of Janetville, tied the nuptial knot, in his usual pleasing manner.

After the ceremony was over, and congratulations were extended, the guests, who numbered about seventy, were invited to the dining room, where all did ample justice to a well-laid table. Addresses were given by the pastor and also Mr. Wm. Jackson, in which must regret was expressed for the removal of Miss Coulter from the neighborhood as she had been a member of the choir for some years and also a help in the church work.

The presents were numerous and valuable, showing the esteem in which she was held.

About 9 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Walter left for their home at North Ops, carrying with them the good wishes of all. The bride's going away dress was green with gray coat and hat to match.

Do You Play Bridge?

"Bridge whist is one of the most abominable gambling games in the country." This remark on the well-known game, which is a popular one in Lindsay, was made by Rev. L. E. Skye, rector of St. Ann's church, Toronto, last Sunday evening. Rev. Mr. Skye was preaching on the essential qualities of good teachers and among these essentials he named consistency. A person to be effective in winning boys and girls he said, must be consistent in their own lives with that which they taught and in this regard he cited an instance of a lady teacher whom he knew. "She had failed to visit her pupils," said the speaker because she was inconsistent. She told her pupils not to gamble with marbles, but the boys of her class learned she went out and gambled with cards. She played bridge, which is one of the most abominable gambling games in the country, and the boys said they might as well gamble with marbles as their teacher gambled with cards."
