SAVING THE BAD BOY.

In several of the American cities an attempt is being made to solve the problem of a bad boy. The particular phase of the problem which is receiving attention in New York is the future of the bad boy after he has come from under the discipline imposed upon him by the children's court. A Protestant minister discovered that the Catholic and Jewish boys were carefully looked after, but that nothing was being done to shift for themselves, often being in disgrace at home on account of the dishonor they had brought upon their families. He made an address on the subject, which resulted in the founding of the Elder Brothers. There are now nine clubs of them and their success has aroused the interest of ever Protestant denomination in the city. Each "elder brother" befriends a bad boy who has been punished by the children's court, or is under a suspended sentence imposed by it. He becomes a friend of the boy's family. There is no moralizing or preaching, no financial assistance. But the boy is helped to schooling and to employment. Meanwhile the "elder brother" advises him and by his example and the power of friendship tries to make a man of him. Of course much depends upon the fact and character of the man who take charge of the boy. Therein lies both the weakness and the strength of "elder brother" and "official parent" plans. To the credit of the New York system it may be said that in the eighteen months it has been in operation, only three of the two hundred boys taken in hand have relapsed into their old ways.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Toronto Star: There is an agitation in the West to drop the name "North-west" and substitute Canada West, which is certainly neater and more aggressive. In time the names of the new Provinces, Saskatchewan and Alberta, will become more familiar; they will be used instead of more general terms, just as Manitoba is used to-day.

Toronto News: At the funeral of Archbishop O'Brien of Halifax, the ministers of the different Protestant churches attended the service as a mark of the great and general respect in which the deceased prelate was held in Nova Scotia, and indeed throughout Canada. So, when the Hon. A. G. Jones, Lieutenant-Governor, was buried three days later, the Roman Catholic clergy of Halifax walked in the procession to the door of St. Paul's Anglican church, but did not enter the edifice. This has been the subject of some unfavorable comment. But the action of the Roman Catholic clergy, was simply in keeping with the practise of their communion, and surely should not be magnified into a cause of offence. As this conduct both of the Protestant and Roman Catholic clergy of Halifax seems to have been truly Christian and admirable.

DEATH CALLS MR. GEO. FISK.

One of the Oldest Railway Men in Canada Passes Away. Speaking of the death of the late George Fisk, the Midland Aegis has the following: We regret this week to chronicle the death of an old and esteemed friend in the person of Mr. George Fisk, which took place at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Mimms, Dominion-st., Midland, on Friday evening last, from a stroke of paralysis, at the age of 75 years, 13 days.

The deceased gentleman was born at Copcook, New Hampshire, in 1831 and came to Canada in 1852, settling at Port Hope. For one year he was engaged on the survey of the old Midland railway, then called the Port Hope, Lindsay & Beaverton railway. After the road was built he was the first conductor between Port Hope and Lindsay. He was then appointed roadmaster upon the same division, and when the road was put through to Orillia he was appointed station agent there, where he remained for two years when he was removed to Lorneville Junction, which for eight years was a joint agency with the Toronto and Nipissing Railway. He was there for a period of twenty-eight years, during which he was acquainted with nearly every railway man on both divisions. In July 1903 he resigned after fifty years of active service, twenty of which he served with the Grand Trunk. Upon leaving the road the Company granted him a life pass and a very liberal pension. In May 1903 he moved to Midland and took up residence with his daughter, Mrs. Mimms. Six months after he suffered a paralytic stroke which rendered him almost helpless, but although laid aside by his severe affliction, he was always hopeful and borne his misfortune with that characteristic cheerfulness that had characterized his long and active life. Early Friday morning he suffered another stroke, from the effects of which he died almost immediately.

The deceased leaves to mourn five sons and one daughter, as follows: Chas. H., Los Angeles, Cal.; Wm. K., Detroit, Mich.; Frank M., Toronto; Edward M., Sutton West; Geo. D., Lorneville, and Mrs. Mimms, Midland. Mr. Fisk was a member of Ontario Lodge, A.F. & A.M., Port Hope, and the funeral was conducted by Midland Lodge on Sunday.

RIVAL TRANSCONTINENTAL LINES.

A Big Race on For Yellowhead Pass. A couple of weeks ago Mr. Norville Sharpe, of the north ward, left for Edmonton to join Chief Engineer McKenzie's staff of surveyors, who are in the employ of McKenzie & Mann, of the Canadian Northern. An Edmonton dispatch says: It looks as if a big race for the Yellowhead pass between at least three great transcontinental railways and that the pace will increase until the final chapter, when plans are filed at Ottawa. In the meantime the Canadian Northern has awakened and there is great bustling around in the survey department of that road. Chief Engineer McKenzie is in Winnipeg consulting. Mr. Sharpe, deputy chief, is in the city pushing an outfit together and preparing to leave for the West. He will pull out on Monday with twenty-five or thirty men and an outfit to stay all summer. The G.T.P. has a manifest advantage in having got its supplies through the pass while the trails were good, and it will be by no means a summer's business for the C.N.R. men when getting through over the summer trail. Rumor says that Chief McKenzie's outfit is only the vanguard of what will be sent out in the immediate future. But this is not all. From Wetaskiwin comes a story of C.P.R. men busily outfitting for west of Wetaskiwin and nearer that city than Edmonton. The intimation is that the little city will push the work of their branch westward towards the pass to give them a third line paralleling their Crow's Nest and Kicking Horse lines.

It is Dangerous to Neglect a Cold.

How often do we hear, it is remarked, "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and has gained the great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists.

Prevent Unfair Accumulations.

N. Y. Outlook: What we want is not a law to take the great fortunes from their possessors when they die; we want laws which will insure to honest industry of brain and muscle all that it can produce, which will prohibit, and as far as possible prevent, all operations by which shrewd men get from their less shrewd neighbors something for nothing, and which will secure the common wealth—the oil in the ground, the unworked mines, the virgin forests, the untamed prairies, the great rivers, the unharvested forces of nature—for all the people. If we can find ways to do this—and this is not impossible—we can safely leave individuals to make as great fortunes as they can make by honest productive industry.

A GREAT UNDERTAKING.

Georgian Bay Ship Canal Survey. The interim report of A. St. Laurent, Chief Engineer of the Georgian Bay Ship Canal surveys, has been presented to the Government. It covers the work of the preliminary survey from the mouth of the French river, through Lake Nipissing, across the height of land to the Mattawa river and along the Ottawa river to Montreal, a distance of 425 miles. The proposed route was divided into three districts, Nipissing, Ottawa, Montreal. On the western end the survey has proceeded on the assumption of a summit level for about Trout Lake elevation. This was done because the raising of Lake Nipissing 18 or 20 feet as proposed in the old surveys, is considered altogether impracticable in view of the settlements around the lake, involving as it would the flooding of a portion of North Bay and also the main line of the C. P.R.

On the other hand the cutting down of the whole summit level to a Lake Nipissing level would entail a very large expenditure to give a first-class canal for water supply at the height of land has been studied for a possible traffic of from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 tons. The investigation so far, though not complete, seems to indicate that the supply from the immediate watershed of Trout, Turgeon and Talon Lakes at the height of land will not be sufficient for the amount of traffic assumed, but the possibility of getting an extra supply of water from an adjacent watershed and by impounding water is now being looked into with every chance of meeting with favorable conditions. The engineers have completed their field work, and are at work on the plans, profiles and estimates of cost.

SONS OF ENGLAND AT CHURCH.

Brotherhood Attended Divine Service at St. Paul's, Wearing Robes. The Sons of England attended service at St. Paul's Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Marsh took his text from Acts 10-1. "There was a certain man in Caesarea called Cornelius, a centurion of the band called the Italian band. Cornelius was a man of position and influence, a heathen at first, but becoming in contact with God he became a devout christian. He was also a liberal man, giving money to the needy. How we admire liberal men to-day! The Sons of England Lodge spend $100,000 a year, $40,000 of which goes to provide for the needy, the fatherless and the widow. Cornelius was also a man of prayer, but many in our day, who are in less responsible positions than they of old, claim that they have no time for prayer. My wish for the S. O. E. this morning is that you will like Cornelius of old—devout, liberal men, men in thought and faith, and well as being action, and that you will be Sons of God, for God says that they who honor him I will honor."

The Barber's Rival.

"The farmer's looks had an odd, ragged look, and the barber, after regarding them scornfully, said: "Who cut your hair last, old man?" "My wife," the farmer answered, "with an ax." "What did she do with it?" he asked. "I cut it off with a knife and fork!"

Scientific Cured After Twenty Years of Torture.

For more than twenty years Mr. J. B. Massey, of 3322 Clinton-st., Minneapolis, Minn., was tortured by sciatica. The pain and suffering which he endured during this time is beyond comprehension. Nothing gave him any permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. One application of this liniment relieved the pain and made sleep and rest possible, and less than one bottle has effected a permanent cure. Mr. Massey relates his experience for the benefit of others similarly afflicted. If you are troubled with sciatica or rheumatism try this Balm and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain. For sale by all druggists.

A Rest Day.

A writer in the Hamilton Times agrees with "Brodie" in The Post concerning the observance of Sunday as a day of rest. He says: "Whether Jew, or Gentile, Christian or heathen, no man should be compelled to work seven days a week, and this being a christian country, no one should have his conscience outraged by being compelled to work on Sunday. There is, of course, a certain amount of necessary labor to be done that day, and it who are willing to do it. But let Sunday labor be reduced to the minimum. In continental Europe, where in some places, seven days a week in some places, the people are not so well off as they are here, where they work only six. In many of the large cities of the United States there is not much difference between Saturday and Sunday in the matter of labor. I think I am safe in saying that we want neither the compulsory observance of the United States nor the United States observance of the motives of the Day Alliance. What son-of-a-bitch is the fear that the bosses will obtain the legal power to compel the "wage slaves" to rather an arduous expression, to do more Sunday labor than he is doing now. I don't care whether he is a street car conductor, a printer or a tailor. If the Jews and Seventh Day Adventists, for instance, are to have the privilege of working on Sunday, I want it so fixed that their bosses cannot compel their men to work on Saturday and Sunday and not six days a week. I don't care if they work, it is good enough for me. Hang on to your day of rest, boys."

Frightened Humanity Ran After Cobalt's Explosion. LOSS WILL BE THOUSANDS

Some Details of the Disaster to Mining Town on Friday Last—Two Houses Blown Away and Fifty Burned in After Conflagration—Shock Felt Twenty-Five Miles Away—The Churches Suffer Severely. Cobalt, May 21.—It will take several thousand dollars to cover the loss of Friday's fire, but despite conflicting rumors there has been no loss of life. Forest fires had raged for the past few days at different points. At Latchford last Friday the townspeople turned out on a mass to fight the flames and save their thriving village. Shock Surrounding Country. Here in Cobalt the fire reached the dynamite storehouse of Taylor & Sons, agents of the Ontario Powder Co., and caused an explosion that shook the surrounding country for miles. There were stored six tons of dynamite, and in less than 20 minutes from the appearance of the fire the storehouse blew up. A high wind prevailed, fortunately blowing from the southeast, and only the north and west quarters of the town suffered. Sparks were blown in all directions and started fires in different spots. At the O'Brien's Church, where an explosion blew up an hour. One thousand feet of wood were burnt, worth $2,500. The side and end of the sleeping cabin and cookhouse were blown out and the shaft and power-house badly shaken, but the machinery is unharmed. Buildings Moved Six Inches. A timber across that other large storehouse of dynamite and powder was in danger, and the T. & S. O. Railway was soon a black mass of scurrying humanity, frightened women and crying children, hastened down the track to avoid anticipated damage. Mr. G. West as far as Cobalt, a distance of over two miles, the powder was carried to the powder house to the foot of the Buffalo mine and deposited at it there. The law regarding the storehouse will now be closely looked into. Churches Suffer Severely. The Presbyterian Church, where an explosion is to take place on Monday evening, and the Roman Catholic Church, have suffered severely. The former is minus a window and sashes, and the latter a four upright studding was smashed, to splinters in the centre, and as a result the west wall is blown in 4 or 5 inches, and at the Catholic Church chimneys were blown down, windows smashed and interior dismarred. At Rand Jencks, the end of the building was detached and the stock in the warehouse thrown across the road. Ernest Culbert was killed from the explosion, and was thrown to the ground, receiving a stunning blow, as he thought at the time, on the side of his face. Shock Felt 25 Miles. Nearly every building in the town had broken windows. Many of the fronts of stores are now boarded up, the windows being entirely blown out. At Halleybury, five miles distant, the shock was so distinctly felt that it was generally believed, for some time that some local powder magazine had exploded. At Ville Marie, 16 miles down Lake Temiskaming, or nearly 25 miles from the scene of the accident, the bottles on store counters were shaken and toppled over. 52 Houses Destroyed. Two houses were blown to pieces and over 50 burned, but although the fire swept across the north end of the town, taking a sweep some 50 rods in width, the business portion was not touched. The entire town for two hours was in a condition nearly approaching a panic. The Violet, King, Cobalt and other cross lake mines, five counties partly devastated and 100 square miles of territory fire-swept. This is the result in the northern Michigan peninsula of the forest fire that raged Friday until it spent itself Saturday.

THE LAD WAKEFIELD.

File Young Indian Lad's Mouth and Breast With Fine Shot. Guelph, May 21.—Last evening in Brookville, a suburb of the city, some lad was in an empty house, and one of them, named Wakefield, picked up a shot gun which was there. Just at that time Frank Miller, a young Indian lad, approached the door and, pointing the gun at him, Wakefield ordered him to stop at the gun's mouth. Whether Wakefield did not know the gun was loaded or did not appreciate the consequences is not known, but the shot was the consequence lodged in a good deal of the contents lodged in Wakefield's breast and mouth. Luckily the weapon was loaded with saw shot only, and the medical authorities found that they had not penetrated very deeply into the flesh. The police authorities are inclined to think no malice was intended.
