THE BALLOT EPISODE IN THE SOUTH WARD, FOX SMALE ELECTION.

(To the Editor of The Post.) Dear Sir, -- Had I known it in time I would have answered last week a paragraph in the Watchman-Warder of the week before. I was deputy returning officer at poliing sub-division No. 1, south ward, Lindsay. Mr. Richards a voter, came to vote, The clerk recorded his name in the usual way, and I gave Mr. Richards a ballot, which he took into the private apartment provided for the purpose to mark his own ballot. He came out, handed me the ballet, saying there was a mark upon it and that he wanted another, and wanted me to mark it for him. I then said "This is a good ballot, and if I am going to mark it for you we can use this cre." He said he wanted another, and I marked another for him. The mark upon the ballot objected to was a very slight ink blot on the outer edge, and not within the space for and knew nothing about it until Mr. Richards drew my attention to it.

there were several votors waiting outside and in a hurry. Mr. Miles Elliott came in, and without thinking I handed him the first ballot that been refused, "Spoiled," and placed it other is a fair-complexioned boy of are passing through the deep waters Butter, tub, per lb 0 15 away among spoiled ballot papers. | three. Shortly after this Mr. S J. Fox came into the booth in an excited manner and said "There have been two speiled bailots here this morning.' I told him there had not been two-there was only one, and I showed it to l.im. I asked him if he would object to it. He said he would told him the ink mark was accidental.

When the poll opened that morning one of the scrutineers for Mr. Fox wanted to place his chair alongbox, and I told him I would not allow any person to sit there, and told him to sit away a little. When Mr. Fox came in the scrutineer told him of this, and Mr Fox then said to the box. I said I would not allow it; that besides other objections it would obstruct the voters, and I did not allow it; to do so would have been wrong. Mr. Fox also requested that I show his scrutineer the front and back of each ballot. I did not say whether I would or would not do that. I contended that the scrutineers had no right to examine the ballot, they had a right to see the initials on the back of each; (see section 97, subsection 8, "The deputy returning officer shall, if required by any candidate present, or his agent, exhibit the name or initials signed or stamped by deputy returning officer upon the back of such ballot paper before handing the ballot paper to the voter.") Before the poll opened all the ballots were counted one by one in the presence of the sorut neers, and they could if they wished see lice was left with the tenant of his each one as it was counted. After farm. the table exposed to the view of all the scrutineers, so that they could vious one was torn off, and they

There had been no dispite of any kind between any scrutineer and myself as to showing them the ballots before this, nor was there any after this, I had no desire to hold them down to the strict letter of the law, road at the village of Cresswell. and when a scrutineer asked to see front and back of a ballot before handing it to the voter I showed it, ocncealing the printed number, as required by the statute. The paragraph in the Watchman-Warder is unfair to me. I knew my business and conducted the poll with the utmost fairness and propriety. If either Liberal or Conservative ever wants to conduct an election by any sort of improper scheme, they shall not do it with my assistance, and the Watchman-Warder people know this. -Yours, etc.,

with desire to convey to you and a few weeks after the great honor was conferred upon you to fill the chair of this council that your sorrow began. Again, the trial comes much greater since you have been called to lay in the bosom of mother the second of your stalwart and promising sons, and today your home is entirely depleted of those you love. Our hearts go out to you and Mrs. McKinnon in sympathy and we sincerely trust that the God of all consolation will continue to be your comfort and uphold you in so great affliction. We are confident that the entire community are greatly saddened at such a time as this, and we feel sure they support us in the humble effort to convey to you and Mrs. McKinnon the heartfelt sympathy of this corporation.
