Ottawa, June 8 .- To the many triumphs achieved by the Laurier Government was added one more yesterday in the announcement of an adjusted tariff suited to the changing needs of the Canadian people. The budget speech by Hon. W. S. Fielding was a record of remarkable business administration and a revelation of resourceful statesmanship. The story of the condition of Canada's bountiful treasury was surprise only in the degree of offluence to which it has reached, with an estimated surplus of $16,500,000, and a reduction in the national debt of $7,500,000 for the year. It was shown that the net debt of the country has been decreased by $1,000,-000 in the eight years of Liberal rule, notwithstanding the many large undertakings and large capital expenditures. The other evidences of prosperity were equally conclusive. Mr. Fielding justified the Government's policy of a moderate tariff, and proceeded in a most business-like way to announce some changes which were deemed necessary for pre-

Tariff Revision Promised.

A commission will be appointed to take evidence, and the tariff will be revised along the lines of a minimum and maximum tariff, to suit our own tastes and requirements in dealing with different nations. This announcement was received with ringing cheers from the Government benches. The enthusiasm increased as the Finance Minister revealed changes which are designed to remove grievances respecting certain well-known "sore spots" in the tariff

To Prevent "Dumping." The greatest enthusiasm was excited over the proposed special duty to prevent the "dumping" of goods in Canada at slaughter prices. It is designed to end this by adding an amount equal to the difference between the invoiced price and the real value up to 50 per cent. of the duty in general lines, and 15 per cent. in the iron and steel items. As the Government's plan was revealed, the astonishment of the Opposition was plainly apparent, while the joy the Liberals rose correspondingly. The Opposition Critic.

The critic selected by the Opposition to reply to . Mr. Fielding was Mr. A. C. Bell, one of the front benchers of the Opposition, but even so experienced a Parliamentarian as Mr. Bell had to spar for wind, and when the Finance Minister sat down at 5.40 asked that the House rise at that hour for dinner, thus giving him respite to 8 o'clock. Last evening he criticized the Liberals for deserting their free trade policy, and contended that the prosperity of the country was due to Providence and the large trade figures to inflated

The foreign mission board, while acquitting Dr. Wilkie of the charges of being addicted to noxious drugs, believed that he could not with advantage to the mission, be allowed to resume his work there, and recommended that he be removed from the principalship of Indore College, and that an effort be made to secure him a suitable mission field somewhere else.

It was decided to hold the next. meeting of the general assembly in Grand Hall, Kingston, beginning the first Wednesday in June, 1905. The whole of the afternoon session was given up to a bitter discussion on the question of the settlement of the Dr. Wilkie difficulty. Any proposal to send him back to India met with determined opposition, it being freely stated that his presence therewas a menace to the success of the church's foreigh work, and would threaten permanent disruption.
