AN ARMED UPRISING

Peasant-Workmen Instructed to Await the Signal.

$7,500,000 FOR FAMINE RELIEF

Lower House of Russian Parliament Votes It and Begins an Epoch of Joint Work of a Financial Character—Russian Finances in a Bad Way, Worse, Indeed, Than Expected—Revelation Made.

St. Petersburg, July 7.—During the debate in the Lower House of Parliament yesterday, on the Bialystok report, an orthodox priest, Father Aranasieff, member from the Don Province, fiercely denounced the policy of the Government.

The debate on the Bialystok report was adjourned until Monday to permit the consideration of the Ministry's bill appropriating $25,000,000 for famine relief, which developed the sensation of the day.

Parliament's Right. Prof. Hertzstein, chairman of the committee which reported the bill, revealed the important fact that M. Kovovoff, the Finance Minister who had appeared before the committee, made no effort to conceal the desperate financial straits of the Government.

The Finance Minister said it was necessary to make a fresh loan to cover the famine relief. Prof. Hertzstein said this was exactly where the committee took issue with the Ministry. Parliament, he added, was in favor of a famine relief measure, but it would never agree to a new loan, for which in reality there was no necessity.

The budget was filled with extravagant items and money could be found by revising the budget. This method, the committee proposed, should be coupled with the provision that the right to make such revision belonged to Parliament and not to the Ministry.

The Lower House of Parliament finally appropriated $7,500,000 to be dispensed by the administration for famine relief. This was epochal as the first recognition of the Cabinet by Parliament, and the first step in joint work.

Niagara Falls, July 7.—A big freight wreck occurred about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Niagara Falls Station. A heavy freight was coming at a good rate of speed from Buffalo and when crossing Third street just east of the depot train shed, the third car on the train mounted the rail at a frog and with seven other cars following plunged into the train shed that was filled with passengers waiting for different trains.

Had not Mr. Weber, city fire commissioner, who was on Third street at the time, promptly cried out a timely warning to the crowd of passengers, someone would certainly have met their death, as the derailed cars plunged in all directions through the shed.

The waiting passengers ran in all directions to places of safety from the tumbling cars, that pulled the long train shed roof and supports down almost on the heels of the flying passengers. DECEASED A SCHOOL TEACHER

Was Home-bound From Garden Lake, Algoma, For the Summer Holidays When the Accident Occurred—How It Was a Question of Surmise, But Her Father Says She Was in Good Health.

Toronto, July 5.—Through the description published yesterday of the body of the young woman found floating in the bay on Tuesday evening, Charles Button, clerk of the Township of Culross, hastened to Toronto, and yesterday afternoon identified the body as that of his daughter, Miss Mae Button.

Miss Button had been teaching school at Garden Lake, Algoma. She had written to her parents in Teeswater that she would reach Toronto at 6.35 on Saturday morning, making connection with her home-bound train at 8.25, and arriving at Teeswater the same day. Mr. Button says members of the family met the two trains, and every train thereafter until yesterday morning.

On that date Mr. Button drove to Teeswater as usual, and upon his arrival he learned that the body of the young woman had been discovered in the bay. He decided to come to Toronto, and upon his arrival positively identified the body as his daughter Mae.

Coroner Orr issued a warrant for an inquest to be held on Friday morning, but it is understood that the warrant will be withdrawn, and the father will take the body home to-day.

Miss Button was 27 years of age, and was the eldest of five children. As far as the parents know, she was in good health, and with no pressure on her mind. They are totally unable to account for the accident.
