Was the reduction in the price of school books trumpeted abroad by Premier Whitney some time ago a real thing, or just an ordinary, everyday sham? The Globe has been informed, and has evidence to prove. that one of the firms in the school book trust, or partenership, is still selling books at the former prices, and that the reduction of almost fifty, per cent. supposed to have been made on the first of July is not in force. Some revelations concerning the profits of the packers, or some of them, made in a sawsuit over the division of the stock of the William Davies Company, a Toronto packing house, are aftracting much attention throughout Canada. The consumer who complains of souring most prices, and the farmer who believes he is not getting a fair price for his oattle will both be disposed to regard some of the statements mide in court as showing thatthe packers' profits are very generous. It was shown that the Davies Company had paid dividends in recent years sas follows: For the year ending March 31, 1893, sixty-five per cent. 1894, thirty-four per cent.; 1895, forty per cent.; 1896, bonty-five per pent.; 1897, 100 per cent.; 7898, 120 per cent; 1899, eighty-two per cent; 1900, sixty per cent.; 1901, twenty- source m phange against another
