MORE ABOUT BOGUS MONEY SUSPECTS.

Robt. Logie Apprehended in Toronto Last Week.

Interesting Sketch of His Family History—An Airship Will Figure at the Trial of the Suspects, which Will Take Place in Lindsay by Order of the Attorney-General.

(Toronto World July 11.)
An added sensation in the roundup of counterfeiters was afforded in this city yesterday, when Robert Logie was arrested in the act of boarding a C.P.R. train with a ticket to Black Rock, N.Y. He is in No. 3 police station, charged with passing counterfeit bills at Montreal.

Logie is alleged to be the fifth of the big men of the Lindsay gang whose duty, in company with John Eveleigh, was to "shove the queer". Detectives Tipton and Wallace gathered in the suspect just as he was at the train. The sleuths who had information that the man had been in the city since July 2, when Eveleigh was arrested, went to the station on chance. With only a photograph, taken many years ago, to guide them their clue, and seeing a man who resembled it, they walked up to him and Tipton with a grudge gripped the man by the hand, saying: "Well, well, Mr. Logie, this is good." Wallace also crowded in for a grip of his hand.

Logie was taken aboard. "I guess you've got the advantage of me," he said, and Wallace was back at him before he had a chance to think.

"Oh, but we have the right name, haven't we?" he queried.

"Why, yes." Then he was taken to headquarters.

There Logie, who is over 60 years of age, faced Inspector Duggan, Dominion Inspector Parkinson, Provincial Inspector Rogers and Detectives Tipton and Wallace for over an hour, but gave little information.

He will appear in the police court this morning and will be sent to Lindsay, where all the prisoners will be gathered for trial.

Logie had with him about $50.00 cash. In his grip were only such wearing apparel as might be taken on a short trip.

Tipton and Wallace identified the man by a photograph taken at least ten years ago and by the description furnished by Inspector Parkinson.

Inspector Duggan said last night it was all over here. The money had never been showed here.

SOME FAMILY HISTORY.

The Logie family is one of the oldest families in the vicinity of Lindsay. Hank Logie, a brother, owns one of the most beautiful farms along the banks of the Severn.

Logie's grandfather was a captain in the British army. Mrs. Logie was a typical English lady of education and refinement. They were given a large portion of land near Lindsay by the government. Their children would induce other families to settle there. They raised their family and to the father and boys was given the homestead. The Logie family used to visit Montreal in three days and visited a considerable circle of friends.

One day Robert's father was near the St. Lawrence. A young lady—St. turned out to be a daughter of Colonel Sands, a wealthy and influential citizen of Montreal—had fallen into the water. Logie, a great swimmer, rescued her, and the two boys, as soon as they were alone, had to work for their father would not.

Matters went from bad to worse until Col. Sands took the matter into his own hands. Logie, sr., then became a soldier of fortune and fought through the American civil war. As long as Col. Sands lived he never came back.

The sons, Bob and Hank, as they were called, worked the farm for years and were successful. Their mother died last winter. Bob's wedding came when he took up with Charles Burke, his friend's son.

Henry Logie has not come in for a long time. He is highly respected.

Logie is far from being a typical green-rocks merchant. He is tall and slim and a very good looking man. He is the most peculiar case I ever heard of," said a prominent Lindsay man when he heard of Logie's arrest.

"Not one of the men arrested here has brains enough for such a work as successfully passing counterfeit money. I would like to see the finish of it. I fancy there will be something doing."

NEARLY CAUGHT IN MONTREAL.

R. Logie Just Got Away Ahead of the Detectives.

Robert Logie, who was arrested in Toronto last evening, had a narrow escape from being caught in Montreal. He registered at a hotel under an alias—W. R. Logan. Eveleigh, who was arrested at the same time, was in the hotel until the next morning, and Detective

R. LOGIE'S INCOMINIOUS RETURN.

Escorted to His Native Town by Two Officers.

Evening Post of July 12
Between two "burly detectives," J. E. Rogers and T. Parkinson, Robert Logie, once an esteemed citizen of town, stepped off the "flyer" from Toronto last evening, and was hustled to a hotel amid a throng of people that crowded to get a glimpse of him. Care-worn and crest-fallen his homeward was anything but pleasant. He was driven to the county jail after having a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Jackson. "Poor old Bob, he looks worried," remarked a former acquaintance of the counterfeit.

Hundreds of people were at the G. T.R. station to meet him. A report saying he was coming in by C.P.R. had brought the crowd to that station. Finding that he had not arrived by that train a rush was made to the Grand Trunk station. The 8 o'clock Toronto train failed to bring him. The 9:20 was late, and over an hour rolled by before the train came in bearing the prisoner.

BOUYEA'S FRIENDS AMAZED.

Resident of Lindsay for Forty Years—Family Highly Respected.

Mr. Archie Bouyea, who was arrested in Sault Ste. Marie for alleged counterfeit, has been for forty years a resident of town and hitherto has borne an irreproachable character. During the last few years he was engaged as night watchman at the Kennedy & Davis mill, and was highly thought of by his employers. He worked continuously there after the fire, and was not "out of a job" as Toronto papers erroneously stated.

Shortly after July 1st, he left for Toronto to visit his son and daughter, both holding good positions in the city. His wife expected him to ask for a telegram but he was in the snare.

Much sympathy is expressed for the family, who are highly respected and popular. Mr. Archie Bouyea, jr., is a young man of good character and of clean habits. No one who knew him would think twice of his doing such a thing.

What led Mr. Bouyea, sr., to become implicated in such an affair is a mystery.

BISHOP MCEVAY'S JUBILEE.

Priests of the London Diocese do Honor to Their Head.

A host of friends in Lindsay and surrounding townships will be interested in the following, taken from the Stratford Herald:

On July 9th at London was celebrated the silver jubilee of Rt. Rev. Ferrus P. McEvay, Bishop of London, he having been ordained to the priesthood on the 9th of July, 1882.

His Lordship succeeded Bishop O'Connor as bishop of London when the latter was named for the archbishopric at Toronto. Moving to London from Hamilton in August of 1899, Bishop McEvay has proven himself a wise and prudent administrator, and with the aid of the priests with whom he has surrounded himself, has built up, by rapid stages, the diocese of London.

Bishop McEvay was born at Lindsay, Ont., on Dec. 8, 1852. He was educated there, at St. Michael's College, Toronto, at St. Francis Seminary, Milwaukee, and at Montreal College. He was ordained a priest at Trenton in 1882, and served as parish priest at Kensington Falls for a time, after which he was appointed rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, and chancellor of the diocese. In May, 1889, when Bishop Dowling was translated to Hamilton, he accompanied his lordship thither, where he became a member of the bishop's council and rector of St. Mary's Cathedral. As stated, he moved to London in 1889, to succeed Bishop O'Connor.

The feature of the gathering was the presentation of an illuminated address and a golden cross engraved with the bishop's cross, and a gold ring, consisting of a large emerald encircled in an elegant manner.

The evening previous the children of the separate schools of London assembled at the palace and sang a jubilee ode in honor of the event. An address was read by Market Christopher Atney.

At St. Peter's cathedral morning of the celebration a beautiful service was gone through with. The ladies of the altar society presented Bishop McEvay with a beautiful floral design in the shape of a pyramid surmounted with the figures "75".

Each priest on leaving the dining-room at the St. Peter's Cathedral was presented with a souvenir as a memento of the jubilee.

HEALEY FALLS WATER POWER.

A Toronto dispatch, recently published, says: "The new lease of the Ontario Government property and water power rights at Healey Falls to the Northern Ontario Power Co. of Company Limited, has been received from the Department of Lands, Forests and Mines."

"The form of lease is the printed form adopted for all water power leases from the Government, and sets apart for the use of this company the three parcels of land as they are described, owned by the Ontario Government in the Township of Seymour, adjacent to Healey Falls, for a period of 20 years commencing from June 1st, 1907, with the right of renewal for two further periods of ten years each, and makes it a forty years' lease provided the conditions are observed and rental paid."

A nominal rental of $10.00 per annum for the first two years, and thereafter $25.00 per year, was provided for during the 20 year term. Three thousand horse power is to be developed within two years, and the company are to begin the work necessary for development within the time stipulated, and subsequently for failure to supply the power to the extent of 3,000 horse power within the two years stated."

Seasonable Hints.

At this season of the year the best game preserve is a refrigerator.

There are many large tales connected with small fish.

The peach crop will probably be a failure this year. This does not apply to the summer girl.

Never judge a man by the patches on his clothes. Perhaps he had to buy spring outfits for a wife and seven daughters.
