SPORT AT THE POLICE COURT EXCITING ESCAPE OF A PRISONER

Anthony May Took Leg Bail Instead of Five Months' Sentence.

FRIDAY MORNING

A most interesting case, and one one that furnished a good deat of am: usement for these who were at cour last Friday, was the one that An-May figured prominentif in Anthony drives one of Mr. A. Camp. bell's delivery wagons, and being engaged in a good healthy occupation to has developed great strength. He s unlike the ordinary young man because he knows the value of hi strength. On Monday about 11.30 m., in front of Taylor's restaurant, he took it into his head to give acting night constable William Nelson a taste of his powers because the latter ordered him and three companlons to move on. Nelson was grab. bed by the throat, choke I and thrown to the pavement with such force that his head was badly cut. May app ared before P. M. Steers that morning to answer to a charge of assault Three friends appeared on behalf of defendant, but the evidence was not sufficient to satisfy his Worship, and Anthony was sentenced to live mouths in Castle Jackson. At this the interesting part of the proceedings commenced. The Court being over the spectators were leaving the building. Chief Nevison was sitting in the north-west end of the room dis deep thought, Constable Nelson stood a little distance from the Chief. and Constable Foster sat behind May Before the trio could fully take in the situation Anthony was making his way out of the room at a lively gait. Constable Foster tried to stop him but was "downed by a rightharder"; then the Chief made a grab for May alt the door, but as the prisoner were a ragged vest Nevison secured the latter, but not the owner. In a brace of sinkes May was down the sta rease, out of the built ing, and making his way across the G.T.R. trock at Sylvester's He is supposed to be running yet, but is likely he will be captured before many bours.

HOW THE PEOPLE ARE ROSBED.

(Montreal Daily Witness.) An instance of stock-wat ring a gigantic scale is now attracting wide attention in the State of lowa and aducating the people of the West to a clearer comprehension of the financial methods by which they are axploited. The Rock Island Railray has been enormously prosperms of recent years owing to the industrial development of the country, the growth of cities and lowns, the opening up and settlement of large agricultural regions along its main and tributary lines. It was valued at seventy-five million dollars, though it is admitted that it could be duplicated mile for mile for got more than half that amount. considerable water having been injected into its capitalization. Such was the situation when a few cap talists managed by adroit schemes to optai, control of the road. They then went to work, and by getting up new corporations and other devices, increased the capital stock of the railway to the astonishury figure of hundred, and twenty-five mildollars, without adding one cent's worth of property to the road or investing one dollar addition if to Its capital value, except the cost of or n log the new bon is.
