MASQUERADES AS MAN

Complaints Made That Mine Strikers Have Become Raiders.

FARMERS ARE TO TAKE ACTION

Concerted Steps to Help Stop Further Depredations—Two Shots Fired at a Farmer Who Interfered to Prevent His Crop Being Taken—Dug Up Widow's Potatoes Without as Much as by Your Leave.

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 12.—Complaint was made to Brigade headquarters yesterday that strikers are foraging in the rich agricultural district of the Catawissa Valley.

The life of one farmer has been threatened, because he attempted to protect his property and the raids have reached such serious proportions that the farmers are preparing to take some concerted action to help stop further depredations.

The complaints reached headquarters yesterday afternoon, and it is not unlikely that cavalry will be sent into the district to-day for the purposes of stopping the raids.

Lucian Munbeck, a farmer, reported that for some time past raids have been made on his place by parties of men.

Early yesterday morning he caught a man tearing out whole stacks of corn. He ordered the man off the place and as he was leaving he fired two shots at the farmer.

The latter was armed, but did not shoot.

A widow, who owns a farm, reported several men came on her premises and started to dig potatoes. She ordered them off the patch, but they paid no attention to her and did not leave until they had taken all they needed.

One farmer has several men patrolling his farm day and night. The foragers are confident themselves of stealing crops, but also take poultry.

The soldiers in camp are daily feeding several hundred women and children. They came there saying they are hungry and as there is more than enough food in the camp to supply the wants of the men, the officers permit the soldiers to give some of it to the needy applicants.

The number that came last week was small, but it is increasing every day. Many of them bring baskets to carry the food home. It is a common sight to see some of the women and children take scraps from the leavings of the soldiers.

Col. Hoffman, of the 5th regiment, was asked if all these persons were foreigners and he replied that a great many belonged to English speaking classes.

The officials of the Mine Workers' Union deny there is any actual want. They maintain the union are able to take care of the distress.

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 12.—David R. James, operator of the Cambridge Colliery at South Shenandoah, said yesterday:

"You may safely predict that the anthracite strike will end in some manner before the 15th day of September."

"No one can tell whether the end will come through a break in the ranks of the striking miners or through arbitration or compromise; but it is certain beyond all question, that the mines will open."

"We realize the enormous and permanent losses that confront us. Every anthracite strike has resulted in the loss of territory of the anthracite coal fields of this region, and this strike promises to exceed its predecessors in that respect. Manufacturers who once use the cheaper bituminous coal are hard to win back to anthracite. Hard coal will monopolize the market in domestic sizes, and for many years to come, but the domestic trade is only a fraction of the total."

"Speaking for myself as an individual operator, I will say that I am heartily sick of this trouble."

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 12.—A lively battle occurred last night between deputies and strikers at Troop, an isolated mining village six miles north of here. Scores of shots were exchanged but as far as is known no one was hit.
