LINDSAY, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1906.

Terms—$1.00 per year in Advance.

ONLY 13 MORE BUSINESS DAYS

Till the end of Our present Lease of this Store

AND NOW FOR A CYCLONE FINISH

To a pile of goods that must go before Friday night, August 31st.

If we were inclined to be superstitious about the number 13 we might consider it very unlucky to finish with a 13 day sale; but lucky or unlucky we must continue to force out the goods right up to the last minute of the expiration of our lease.

We have found it utterly impossible to secure suitable premises for the six months between our leases of this store, and yet our landlord has not withdrawn the notice to vacate which he served on us some time ago, and which we produce a copy of here.

McSWEYN & SMITH,
BARRISTERS, ETC.
JOHN McSWEYN. W. E. SMITH.

Amos J. Ford, Esq., Merchant, Lindsay.

Lindsay, Jan. 31st, 1906.

Dear Sir,—We are instructed by Mr. James Lovell, your Landlord, to notify you that he will require possession upon the thirty-first day of August, 1906, of the premises now occupied by you, namely: That certain store and premises occupied therewith, situated upon the centre part of Lot number Eight, north of Kent-st. of twenty-four feet, and being the store and premises lately occupied by Messrs. R. B. Allan & Co.

You will kindly govern yourself accordingly upon the date mentioned.

Your truly,

McSWEYN & SMITH.

All over the store you'll find the bargains. Every counter, every aisle, every department is in line, and prices are cut as never before.

This condition should relieve us of a lot of stock in a hurry. Then, if the judge issues the order to move, it will be easier for us.

Just think, meantime, how much you can save on goods wanted now and for Fall. Remember the dates of the lucky 13 day's sale—lucky for the purchasers, possibly unlucky for us.

Starts on the 17th, Closes Friday Night, August 31st.

GALWAY TOWNSHIP EVENT ITS 6TH CONVENTION

MR. AND MRS. COULTER CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Closely identified with the Early History of the Township (Peterboro Examiner.)

Mr. and Mrs. William Coultter, the former the first white settler in the township of Galway, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Tuesday, Aug. 7, at their comfortable residence in Galway, and surrounded by their children and grandchildren, a most delightful day was spent celebrating the 50th wedding anniversary of two of the most highly respected of Galway's residents.

Mr. Coultter has the distinction of being the first settler of Galway Township, Peterborough Co. In the year 1836, the year of his wedding, he, with one or two others, took up residence in Galway, in the midst of a vast forest, and the first night they spent there will remain in their memory as long as they live. With a huge fire burning in a circle around them they kept a pack of wolves at bay all night, and to pass the hours away, sang songs until daylight. Mr. Coultter secured a Government grant of land, and after remaining in the township a year during which time he built a house, he returned to Brighton, where he had left his 17 year old bride a year before, and with her went again to the north, where he has lived ever since.

The celebration on Tuesday had therefore a dual significance. It was the fiftieth anniversary of his wedding, and as well commemorated the close of his half century's residence in Galway.

Mr. Coultter is the son of the late Andrew Coultter, and was born in County Down, Ireland, in 1833. On May 24th, twelve years later, with his parents and seven brothers and sisters he left Ireland for Canada, and after nine weeks and three days at sea, they arrived in Canada. They settled at Brighton, and Mr. Coultter lived there until 1856, when on August 7th, he married Miss Elizabeth Morrison, who was a native of Brighton, and was at that time just 17 years of age.

After their wedding he left his bride and came to Galway, returning, he has been stated, in a year for his wife. Mr. Coultter and his wife have made steady progress until they now own 800 acres of the best land in the township. He has seven children, all of whom were at the celebration. It is a singularly healthy family, no death having occurred in 49 years. Mr. Coultter has been a man of remarkable vitality, and in his earlier days he frequently walked from his home at Silver Lake to Peterboro, and return, 68 miles, in one day, a feat which even James Reynolds, of Port Hope, has not equaled.

Those present at the wedding celebration on Tuesday were Mrs. Alfons Coultter, Nairn Centre, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Bart Coultter, North Verulam; Mrs. Elvort English, Galway Township, and four children; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Forest and two children, of South Verulam; Mr. and Mrs. John Coultter and four children, North Verulam; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Curran and four children, Peterborough; Mr. Wm. Coultter, and wife, who live with his father, Mrs. John Lambert Galway, who acted as witness at the wedding, was present, as was also Mr. Henry Coultter, a sister-in-law of Mr. Coultter.

On behalf of their children, Mr. and Mrs. Coultter were presented with two handsome upholstered chairs, while their grandchildren gave them a good spoon. In a short speech, Mr. Coultter acknowledged the gifts.

Mr. Harris came up from Bobcaygeon and took a photograph of the group.

Millionaire Died a Beggar.
Edgar Brown, of Sault Ste. Marie, who died in a hospital at the Michigan 300, was once a millionaire, but "trimmed" by the steel crowd and died penniless. Brown located the famous Mesaba and Vermillion ranges and developed them until they were worth $18,000,000. He became extremely wealthy and was frozen out. In his last hours, local physicians learned the story and notified a millionaire member of the steel group, whom Brown once nursed through an almost fatal illness years ago. The millionaire wrote back that he had made large investments and was sorry he could not help his old friend.

Poison Ivy.
(From the Boston Advertiser.)
Should the State make it illegal to allow the growth of poison ivy, or at least make the person on whose premises the vine grows responsible for any injury done by it? The question has been raised in other States which are infested by the roadside nuisance much as this State is, and the consensus of opinion so far obtained is to the effect that the law should in some way be made to work against the farther existence of this noxious weed. The poison ivy is a great nuisance all over the State, and many beautiful country roadsides are made dangerous through the presence of this vine, the results of handling which are often not only unpleasant, but extremely serious. How far the State could legitimately go in forbidding the growing of the vine may be open to question. But there is no doubt that it should be made obligatory on each city or town to uproot and destroy all poison ivy growing along the public roadsides or public land. This would obliterate the worst danger.

Union of Canadian Municipalities in Conference.

FELICITOUS SPEECHES MADE

Mayor Coatsworth Ruffles the Union for Not Assisting Toronto to Fight With Bell Telephone Co.—Protection of Railway Crossings—Resolution to Make Railways Pay the Entire Cost is Passed.

Halifax, Aug. 15.—The sixth annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities opened yesterday afternoon under most favorable auspices. The weather was delightfully cool, the air bracing and clear.

The opening session was marked by felicitous addresses, in which the varied with the west in complimenting each other, and emphasizing the need for concerted action to conserve the interests and safeguard the rights of the municipalities.

The most notable feature of the business session was the recommendation made by Mayor Fleming of Brandon, urging the formation of Provincial unions with a strong central head.

Mayor Coatsworth of Toronto ruffled the gathering by a somewhat severe criticism of the union, which he upbraided for not upholding the hands of Toronto in the fight against the Bell Telephone Co.

Many Mayors Present. From Brandon and Winnipeg in the west to Sydney in the east, Mayor McElraith was in the chair.

Mayor Sharpe of Winnipeg, responding to an address of welcome, said the west was proud of the east and that the prosperity of the west was due to the work of the east.

Ex-Mayor Urquhart of Toronto, president of the union, was not able to be present, and his address as read by W. D. Lightfall, M. A., ex-mayor of Westmount. Its keynote was home rule for municipalities and the supreme rights of the governing bodies of the cities and towns within their own spheres.

The report of Secretary-Treasurer W. D. Lightfall, was then presented.

Mayor Fleming of Brandon, was the next speaker, his topic being the benefits of the Canadian union.

Object of Union. Mayor Ellis, Ottawa, said the great problem for the municipal union was that of affecting legislation.

Mayor Coatsworth of Toronto, dwelt on the fact that in the fight with monopolies, municipalities should stand together, and the contest with the Bell Telephone Co. during the last session of Parliament, though Mr. Lightfall, the secretary, had done his best, the municipal union had proved to be only a rope of sand. Toronto and Montreal had been almost alone in the fight. Fortunately, the union was not the Government was that the Bell Co. had too much power, and they eliminated some of its privileges.

More Than Rope of Sand. Ex-Mayor Dyke of Port William pointed out that much quiet work had been done by the municipalities. He did not think the union was only a rope of sand, as stated by Mayor Coatsworth.

Mayor Sharpe of Winnipeg thought it would pay the union to keep a first-class lawyer at Ottawa to watch legislation, because it was not possible for representatives of the union to remain at the capital. He did not like Mayor Coatsworth's expression, "rope of sand." It was at least a rope of seaweed—pretty tough material.

Ex-Mayor Cook of Ottawa, first president of the union, thought the organization could make its influence felt most effectively by pressure of the municipal councils upon their representatives in Parliament.

Protection of Railway Crossings. Mayor Olivier of Sherbrooke, Que., asked the union to take up with his town the battle against the Grand Trunk Railway, which persists in obstructing and operating dangerous level crossings.

The following resolution was adopted unanimously by the Union of Canadian Municipalities:

Moved by Mayor Olivier of Sherbrooke, Que., seconded by Mayor Sears of St. John:

"That in the opinion of this union when gates, subways or elevated tracks are required for the protection of the public at the intersection of tracks and highways, the cost of the same should be borne by the railway companies exclusively.

"And further, that no level crossings should be permitted to remain in classically populated districts, and that the executive urge this matter to the attention of the public authorities.

The resolution was strongly supported by Mayor Sears and Ald. Lockhart of London, Ald. McGhie of Toronto, and others.

The resolution was unanimously passed.

New Zealand Wants Moose.
Ottawa, Aug. 15.—A cable has been received at the State Department from New Zealand, asking Canada to furnish his country with twenty young moose, fifteen females and five males. Sir Joseph offers to send Canada in exchange twenty red deer.

Cured at St. Anne.

Lost Bank Funds in Speculation.
Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 14.—Officials of the First National Bank yesterday announced that Alexander R. Chisholm, paying teller of
