Newfoundland Fisheries Dispute Goes to Conference.

MODUS VIVENDI TO CONTINUE

Compulsory Arbitration May Agreed Upon - Powers Favor Permanent Court-Germany Does Not Want World Treaty-Obligatory Only Upon Agreeing Powers -Question of Appeals.

London, Aug. 21.-The American Government, which has taken the lead at The Hague Peace Conference in endeavoring to promote arbitration, will be responsible for giving The Hague tribunal the most important case yet submitted to it, in the Newfoundland fisheries dispute, which undoubtedly will be taken there as a result of the negotiations conducted in London between the Foreign Office and the American ambassador, White-

Both the Foreign Office and the embassy maintain diplomatic reserve, but it has been learned from unquestionable sources that the long correspondence made it seem that their contentions could not be harmonized and had reached an umpasse.

Finally Mr. Reid made a proposal to submit the dispute to the arbitration of The Hague tribunal, having the authority of President Roosevelt and Secretary Root to do so. After a week or two of consideration the British Government accepted the proposal, and then the American Government proposed that for another year, while the matter was under arbitration, the fisheries should be conducted as they were last year, under the same modus vivendi.

There has been delay in concluding the arrangement. While the British Government has secured the assent of Sir Robert Bond, the Newfoundland Premier, to the agreement, Sir Robert, undoubtedly will be reluctant to accept the modus vivendi, which he opposed strongly last season. However, there is little doubt that the agreement will be enforced and that the fisheries, during the new season beginning next week, will be conducted on the same methods as the last.

Obligatory Arbitration. The Hague, Aug. 21.-Nearly all the Governments have sent instructions to their delegates to make an effort to bring about some kind of obligatory arbitration and also the establishment of a permanent court of arbitration in order to save the conference from failure.

The efforts of the delegates are now directed toward the arrangement of a treaty of obligatory arbitration acceptable to Germany, which country, although admitting the principle of compulsion, has so far opposed a world treaty, arguing that it would tend to minimize, rather than promote, obligatory arbitration. It is believed that it will only be possible to conclude a convention providing for obligatory arbitration among the powers which agree to it. Servia has presented a proposition aiming to make the awards of arbitration tribunals obligatory on the signatory powers after an appeal has resulted in the confirmation of the first judgment.

It is understood that all the Latin-American states will accept a permanent arbitration court, although making reserves regarding the allotment of judges if all the countries are to be represented.

Emigrants Not Deceived. London, Aug. 21.-(C. A. P.)-In the House of Commons the Lord Advocate, replying to Mr. Cleland, stated that many complaints had been received from Scottish emigrants to Canada that promises of employment and wages, whereby they were induced to emigrate were unfulfilled. The complaints were subject to careful enquiry, and the results so far unjustified the proceedings that the Lord Advocate announced any offenders in this direction were liable to severe penalties.

Steacey, secretary of the Foresters, has been forged, the cheques were endorsed and cashed at local banks and express offices. The thief is unknown, but the matter has been placed in the hands of Lient.-Col. Sherwood of the Dominion police. The cheques are only for small sums.

Gen. French Coming. London, Aug. 21.-The Canadian Associated Press learns that Gen. Sir John French, inspector-general of the forces, intends to visit Canada, and make an official examination of the state of the defensive service. BOTHA CRITICIZED.

Purchase of Diamond for King Not Altogether Disinterested. London, Aug. 21.-The plan of Premier Botha of the Transvaal to present the Cullinane diamond to King Edward meets with much criticism both in England and the Transvaal. The finances of the colony are in bad condition, and many persons think that the expense of purchase ($1,000,000), is unnecessary. Moreover, the magnates of the Premier Diamond Mining Co. have found the Cullinane diamond to be a white elephant. There is no market for such huge stones. The Premier people are political supporters of Gen. Boths's party and critics say that if the stone belonged to the De Beers Co., which is an opponent of Gen. Botha, there would have been no thought of presenting the diamond to the King, adding that the Botha party wants to gain the credit for a patriotic act, while putting money from the treasury in the pockets of their friends at a time when the colony can ill afford

Mr. Asquith, replying in the House of Commons to the allegation that the Transvaal loan bill is an invidious form of colonial preference, said no communication had reached the Government from any responsible statesman through the Empire in protest, or even criticism, of the loan.

The truth was, the self-governing colonies regarded the matter entirely from the point of view as a Government guarantee. The loan was inevitable through unforseen consequences of the war, wherein they played so conspicuous and honorable a part, and as a nethe settlement, which settlement, as all know from the language of Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been ratified by practically the unanimous sentiment of the self-governing colonies of the Empire. The second reading of the bill carried by a majority of 137.
