ARBITRATION JUDGES.

Four to Be Appointed At Hague For American Continent. The Hague, Aug. 28.-Joseph H. Choate and James Brown Scott, for the American delegation to the peace conference, have drawn up a new proposition with respect to the allotment of judges for the international high court of justice. In this proposal the United States announces the willingness of all the countries of the American continent, including the United States, to have altogether four judges, to be appointed for the 21 countries comprising the continent, on the understanding, arrived at through diplomatic channels, that this will reduce the matter of judges to 15.

The proposal does not go any further, but it is understood that the Americans hope the other continents will take similar action, that Asia will be allotted two judges and Europe

The Hague, Aug. 28.-R. Barboso (Brazil) protested against the appointment of judges as projected by the American proposal, insisting that this question must be settled in a manner which fully recognized the equality of the powers. The meeting was then adjourned

SHOCKING SUICIDE.

Clergyman Cuts His Throat In View of Playing Children.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 28.—Rev. Dr. Edward H. Jewett, for fifteen years professor of pastoral theology in the General Theological Seminary in New York, committed suicide Sunday by cutting his throat. Dr. Jewett was seventy-eight years old, and was living with his son-inlaw, the Rev. Angus M. Porter, rector of the Episcopal church at Redlands. The act was committed at Manhattan Beach, eighteen miles from this city, and was witnessed by a thousand persons, many of them children playing along the beach.

Dr. Jewett was much impressed by the so-called Osler theory and frequently remarked: "I think that some way should be found out of an unbearable existence for old people who have outlived their usefulness. I think it should be provided that old men should be hit over the head with a club and mercifully killed." He had suffered for several years from chronic rheumatism. Dr. Jewett was born in Nottingham, England, in 1830. He was the author of several works on religious thought and worship.

Two Cobalt Accidents. Cobalt, Aug. 28.-Alex. Grouelz, of middle age, who lived at Latchford was almost instantly killed yesterday afternoon by being struck on the head with a piece of ore, which weighed about a quarter of a pound. Grouelz was walking on the road which crosses the railway and leads to the Nipissing dock, when a blast occurred on the Nipissing property and hurled the fatal chunk of rock across the Cobalt Lake. The rock struck on the forehead of the unfortunate man's skull, crushing it in and also caused a slight abrasion near the nose. He lived only a few minutes after the accident.

Yesterday, while near the Nipissing landing on Cobalt Lake, Moses Menard, foreman of the Bailey-Cobalt, was seriously injured by a large chunk of rock, loosed from a blast, on the Government right of way. The rock struck his foot with such force that it not only badly smashed it, but forced it through the bottom of the boat. The boat at once sunk and between 1 and 3 p. m .- the tension i Menard was picked up by the Nipis-

Amsterdam, Aug. 28.-A small army of detectives of almost every nationality is here to watch the delegates The cause had naught to do with to the anarchist congress now in session. The Dutch authorities are most anxious to have special precautions taken to guard the Government buildings against outrages.

It is understood that at Monday's session, which was held behind closed doors, Enrico Malatesta and Emma Goldman made violent speeches, the latter advocating a "reign of terror" as the means of readjusting social conditions in the United States.

EARL GREY PRESSES BUTTON

Ceremony Somewhat Marred By Heavy Rain-Brilliant Assemblage of Public Men-Exhibits More Numerous Than Ever-Many Thousands Attend Opening Function.

Toronto, Aug. 28 .- It wasn't exactly ideal weather for the 29th opening of the Canadian National Exhibition. The skies were leaden all day long and, what was more, rain poured at intervals of varying regularity from the forenoon until well on into the night But for all that, the scattered thousands who were attracted to the opening ceremonials were denied only two features of the day's program. The air ship did not ascend into the murky ether and the grand stand performance at night, including the spectacle of the fall of Badajos, the fireworks and the Duss band, had to be called off. The button was, however, officially pressed by Earl Grey, the doors of the various buildings were thrown wideopen and the afternoon performance was held within the enclosure, providing excellent entertainment for a gathering of 8,000.

Big Crowd, Just the Same. Just how many people passed through the gates was not made the subject of official announces, but, considering how unkind the elements were, the attendance was wonderfully good. It is true that early in the evening the grounds took on a somewhat deserted and desolate aspect, insomuch that the bandsmen of the 48th Highlanders quit their posts through lack of listeners, but the rain was beating down pitilessly enough to dampen the enthusiasm of the most ardent music lover.

The assembly at the directors' luncheon was the most representative gathering of public men ever brought together on such an occasion in the history of the fair. What the Show Looks Like. The public found the buildings and their contents looking more attractive, probably, than had been anticipated. In the manufacturers' building practically every exhibit was in a state of finished completeness, and the same was true of the new horticultural building, whose striking architectural design was a revelation to most of the visitors. The art gallery, with its fine collection of paintings, Canadian and foreign, the women's building, process building, national history building, and, indeed, every nook and corner of the grounds, was invaded and everything had the freshness of novelty, for the exhibition really never

In one regard only was impatience shown. There was no slight vexation and disappointment over the failure of Aerial Navigator Robinson to carry out his contract, after keeping the spectators waiting in a drizzle for. more than an hour. The reason given was that there was danger of the airship being carried out over the lake, but as there was only a very moderate wind blowing, and as the claim had been made that the airy craft was much more navigable and independent of weather conditions than a balloon, the would-be sightseers had their faith in the Knaubenshue invention rather severely shaken. It is understood that the exhibition management were somewhat exercised, and that every effort will be made to ensure an ascent this afternoon.
