Active Preparations at the Grounds -Entries Far in Advance of Former Years - The Program for To-morrow. (From Wednesday's Daily.)

TO-MORROW MORNING

To-morrow Opening Day

Lindsay's Big Fair. The exhibition grounds offer a scene of activity and hustle. Everything is receiving the finishing touches.

Secretary Keith is all smiles. The entries are over five hundred in advance of last year, and what with the promises of fine weather and generally dently discouraged the operators favorable indications, Lindsay's fair They left behind them a chisel, afterthis year will almost assuredly outshine all previous ones.

On the grounds the Light, Heat & Power Co. are busy placing three more poles for lighting purposes in order that the Wild West Show may be seen to better advantage. An extension has been made to the Agricultural implement sheds, while necessary repairs to the pens have already been effected. Messrs. Sharpe & Curtis have erected their merry-goround just inside the gates.

To-morrow's Program. 8 a.m.-Grounds and buildings open for receiving exhibits, 1.00 p.m.-Grounds open to the pub-and promenade concert. 10. p.m.-Gates closed. Mr. E. Jacobs will conduct the dining hall on the grounds, and will have everything in shape to serve a firstclass dinner to-morrow.

THE OPENING DAY

During Wednesday night rain fell but Thursday morning opened with a somewhat favorable outlook, the downpour having practically ceased at six o'clock. While the horizon still held a cloudy appearance at eight o'clock the time when the gates and buildings were opened to receive exhibitsthe outlook in no wise dampened the ardor of the exhibitors, and from all directions the choicest of the products of the home, farm, orchard and garden, were brought to the grounds. The interest manifested in the ladies' department and domestic manufactures gives evidence of a fine exhibit up-

Yesterday afternoon judging in the hall commenced. This was no small. task, as the large exhibit in grains, flowers, fruits and vegetables, ladies work, etc., showed a desire on the part of the individual exhibitor to carry off the much-coveted red ticket.

To-day at 11 o'clock the Wild West Show parade takes place, and at 1.30 end 7 p.m. the first performance will be given before the grand stand. Wherever this performance has been given it has received high approval and is pronounced one of the best of its kind ever shown. The people of town and county will give their hearty support to the directorate and will flock in large numbers to see this wonderful performance.

The exhibit of cattle, horses, poultry, being considered, the exhibit is a most creditable one. The speeding events of to-day and to-morrow will be close and exciting.

McCallum. The directors of the Mariposa Agricultural Society announce their annual fall show, to be held in the village of Oakwood, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 25th and 26th. President Hogg and Secretary-Treasurer Cunnings, with the assistance of the other members on the directorate, have made every effort to make this exhibition eclipse the record of past years. Entries are coming in fast, and indications are that the desires of the directorate will be realized. There will be special attractions in the horse ring, besides bicycle races. The Sunderland brass band will be in attedance on the grounds. On the evening of Wednesday. Sept. 26th, a grand con- ed as much binder twine as would fill cert will be given; the artists will be a five quart pail, which may account Mr. H. M. SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S GLASS CASE FOR SCOTCHMEN.

(Montreal Witness.)

Sir,-It was not without surprise that the following met my eye in the "Gazette's" report of Sir Charles Tupper's speech of last Friday night; Kingdon last year was £109,000,000 sterling, and Scotland, with a much nearly £14,000,000 sterling as a contribution to the British Empire. If Sir Wilfrid can find a man with a head on his shoulders in his own ranks or anywhere else who will support a policy | north yesterday with a gang of men

Libited. (Laughter.")

What Sir Charles Tupper meant by this paragraph is not quite clear unless that Scotland paid too dear for her connection with Britain and that Canada should not follow suit. Sir A very pretty wedding was celebrated at Charles has forgotten that Scotland the home of Mr. Ashmore, in Emily town- pays even more. Every year hundreds married to Mr. W. S. Tressider, of the Empire. To-day in Africa, see the tardear that Sir Charles stands aghast at the millions sterling? Scotland realizes her duty to the Empire. Is our own Canada to do less? Ask the Canadians, who have gone to South Africa-the men who have done more to honor Canada than many Tuppers -who have mingled their blood with the sacrifice of the gallant Gordons the fighting Nineteenth Brgiade, ask in damp ground, at least from four to eral manager of the G.N.W. Yet that is what Sir Charles Tupper means; for while he sneers at Scotland's taxes as so much money that Canada would Hopwood, of Toronto, the well-known present is Mr. Hargrove's second viscommit a monstrous mistake to pay, he lauds to the skies the sacrifice of our soldier lads. He even claims the credit of having sent them. If Sir Charles desires to find men in Canada who believe that, like Scotland, our own prosperous Canada should pay her proper. share for the defence of the Empire of Canada is not to-day in favor of getting all out of the Empire and giving nothing in return. He could have picked no more shining example than Scotland. No part of the Empire is prouder of British institutions-none willing to sacrifice more for them. Canada has sent her men, and they responded to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's desire that they should make Canada proud of them. All honor to the boys. Priceless to Canada is their blood, no matter what Sir Charles Tupper might think of it resolved into cash.
