

B. J. GOUGH

The Big Clothier, of Lindsay

THE FIRST GUN

Of a lively fall campaign. We are out for a record this fall, and propose to make this the liveliest season ever seen in this growing town, if the right kind of goods and rock-bottom prices will do it. Our stock is running over with goods that the men, the young men and the boys, are looking for. Come in and run over the lay-out. Don't lay out a dollar till you find just what you want. Everything will be priced so much lower than you expect that you will be robbing yourself to buy before coming to GOUGH'S.

Fall Suits and Overcoats

In Advance of the Regular Season

An immense stock, bought below the usual wholesale price list. Our Quality is the Highest—Our Prices the Lowest.

BARGAIN BROADSIDES

For home folk and visitors who want to save money. We'll be on our best behaviour during the approaching EXHIBITION DAYS. The "sturdy yeomen" of East and West Victoria will be meeting their friends at Gough's store, and it will be a time for your life for buying Suits and Overcoats, Hats, Underwear and heavier Furnishings for the autumn and winter. Our farmer friends will find us with bushels of stock, ready to give them full measure for their money.

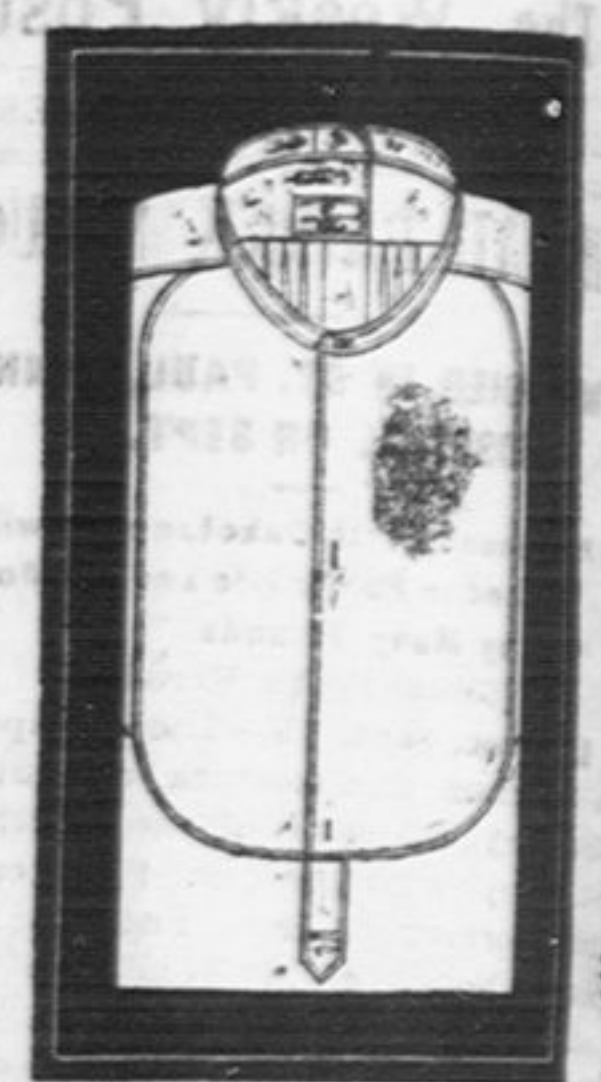

YOUR ATTENTION, PLEASE.

Stacks of Rain-proof Coats for rainy days, "Raglans" and "Raglanettes." If its raining, we have the Rain Coat. If its freezing, we have the Frieze Coat. If its slippery, we have the Fall Coat. If its windy we have coats worth blowing about.

COME, VISITORS AND TOWNSPEOPLE! We're right in the swim of the crowds—handy to get at, easy to buy from and little to pay.

SEPT. 23 and 24, 1902,

VICTORIA ROAD

Promises to be a Record Breaker.

The Secretary says entries are far ahead of other years at the same date. SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS will be more numerous than ever before. Weather being favorable, with a track thoroughly fixed, graded to perfection, and many new attractions never before at Victoria Road Fair, it is expected from the outlook that the visitors to see the Show will more than double forer attendances.

(Special to The Post.)
Widespread sorrow is felt in Oakwood and surrounding community over the sudden demise on Monday evening of Helen, the beloved little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sisk, Yorkwood. She was a bright, lovely child of great promise, and already a great little mother's helper, being the eldest of three and a general favorite.

Weep not, dear father and mother, there's another link in the chain To lead you nearer to heaven, Where there'll be no more sorrow or pain.
Helen is now a bright angel, Cared for by One who knows best; She waits at the gate to her loved ones, When they all gather home to their rest. E. K.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Preparations for the congregational jubilee go on apace. Salescriptions have poured in during the last few days, and the treasurer announces that sufficient is on hand to lift the mortgage on the church building. On Sunday the former pastor, Rev. P. A. McLeod, D.D., of Atwood, Ont., will preach morning and evening, and Rev. J. W. Macmillan, of Lindsay, will occupy the pulpit in the afternoon. On Monday a grand dinner and concert will be given, the talent secured for the latter being the best procurable. The church has been thoroughly renovated and beautifully decorated, the Willing Workers' Society supplying the funds. Mr. Moore, of Beaverton, was the architect.
It is our sad duty to announce the death of another of the pioneers of this locality, Mr. Neil Wilkinson, who died on Saturday, 22nd inst. Deceased had reached the age of eighty-two years, and up to a few days before his death was hale and vigorous. The funeral took place on Monday, when a large number of friends and relatives accompanied the remains to their last resting place in the McNeil cemetery.
