Accident at Waubaushene Last Saturday Night-Another at Whitby. A sprious mishap befell the Mids land-Blackwater express last Saturday night. The train, in charge of Conductor Clarke and Driver Sumnorth, and while passing through Waubaushene yard at a good clip the egine struck a partly opened switch near a burve in the track, the result being that the entire train was derailed and thrown into the ditch. fifty or sixty passengers were on board, but all escaped serious injury with the exception of Driver Suale merbell, who was badly bruised and shaken, but had no bones broken. It is said the switch was left partly open by a green brakesman of a freight train, who feared that he was about to be left by his erew. On Sunday evening an extra freight train despatched from Lindsay met with an accident near Whitby through the breaking of a car wheel. The track was badly damaged for a couple of hundred yards, but

Public Library Matters

A meeting of the Public Library Board was held last evening at 7,30 at the request of Contractor Miller, who sought advice as to the suitability of Coboconk limestone, (named in the specifications) for the foundation and belting courses of the new building. He caplained that the stone could not be secured of sufficient size, and that the effect would be rather disadvantageous to the apperance of the building. On the other hand Longford or Credit Valley limestone would add about $200 to the tender price. Considerable discussion ensued, Mr. F. D. Moore taking the view. that the incident formed the cons tractor's first attempt to extort extras and that no attention should be paid to it. Mr. Devlin said the Board would hold the architect res-Begins Tuesday, September 1st. ponsible for any error, and it rested with the contractors to push the work according to the specifications If you want to succeed, attend this school. with all possible speed and so avoid te superior work, excellent results, and having to pay the penalty named for plendid location places it in the front rank non-performance of contract.
