

BRACE UP!

If your boys or girls are round shouldered their chance for health and perfect development is lessened, the free action of the lungs is impeded, deep breathing is prevented and digestion impaired. Personal appearance also counts for something. Round shoulders are unnecessary. The right kind of braces faithfully used will overcome the trouble every time. We have modern braces. Their cost is nothing compared with the good they do.

FIRE OF QUESTIONS.

Commissioners Aroused by Canada's Argument.

THE TESTIMONY OF THE MAPS

Attorney-General Sir R. Finlay Says They Support the British Contention—Meaning of Various Words Important to the Issue of the Case—Coast and Ocean, "Tide Water" and "Salt Water."

London, Sept. 19.—(A.P.)—When the Alaskan Boundary Commission resumed its sessions yesterday, Attorney-General Finlay was subjected by War Secretary Root and Senators Lodge and Turner to a fire of questions in connection with his attempt to show that the boundary should run from the head of Portland Canal directly westward to the point where the mountains, claimed by the Canadians as the boundary, intersect the 56th parallel north latitude. The contention of the United States is that the boundary continues up to Bear River Valley from the head of Portland Canal to the 56th parallel.

Mr. Root asked if it was not natural to suppose that the signatures of the treaty intended the line to follow this pass to the 56th degree? The Attorney-General replied that the line, under the treaty, could not run farther than the water canal and from that point must seek the mountains at the 56th parallel.

CANADIAN ARGUMENT TELLS.

Sir R. Finlay Continues His Able Speech in Canada's Behalf.

(Canadian Associated Press.) London, Sept. 19.—When the Alaskan Boundary Tribunal assembled at 11 yesterday morning, the Attorney-General, Sir Robert Finlay, in support of his argument that the boundary should run up Vancouver's Portland Canal, dealt with the maps subsequent to the Treaty of 1825, referring first to the Russian map of 1826, which affords but little indication of the boundary. Arrowsmith's map of 1833 is partly for, partly against, the British contention, Wales and Pease Islands being colored Russian, but Portland Canal is drawn as running down to the sea. The French map of 1833 prepared by Brué, gives Wales Island to the Russians, but Pease to the British. Observatory Inlet is carried down to the sea. Tanner's map, prepared at Philadelphia in 1839, shows both channels running down to the sea. Greenhow's map, which carries both Portland Canal and Observatory Inlet to the sea, and carries the boundary north of Wales and Pease Islands.

A French Authority. A French map from the Foreign Office, drawn in 1844, shows Portland Canal running down to the sea, and gives Wales and Pease Islands to Great Britain. The Russian official map of 1844 shows each channel running to the sea. The official map of 1858 shows the northern Channel very distinctly. Bouche's Canadian map of 1853 shows both channels in one, and has words Observatory Inlet running out into the sea. A map of 1857, used by Sir Geo. Simpson before the House of Commons, shows the names of Portland Canal and Observatory Inlet going to the sea, as does the Russian map of 1861. The Admiralty charts of 1863 are marked as "not surveyed," and styles Observatory Inlet and Portland Inlet, which designation is the first which appears on the Admiralty charts of 1863. Imrie's map of 1870 shows Portland Inlet and Portland Canal on the western side in clear type, and Observatory Inlet in small type. At the head of the inlet at Dawson the Canadian map of 1880 shows the name "Portland Inlet," but colors the disputed islands British. The Canadian biological map of 1890 calls Observatory Inlet "Portland Inlet," and runs the boundary up to it.

Favors Great Britain. Three maps prepared by Ivan Petrot, the special agent of the House of Commons in 1880-'82, shows the boundary from Prince of Wales Island as a wavy line not pointing to follow a parallel of latitude, and on a second map this line passes to the north of Wales and Pease Islands. The Attorney-General, while not wishing to attach unusual weight to these maps, contended that the weight of their evidence was in favor of Great Britain, whose contention is that the line should pass from Prince of Wales Island by the shortest way to the north of Vancouver's Portland Channel, north of Wales and Pease Islands, which should be declared to belong to Great Britain. He then passed to the fourth question, which he stated seemed to him to be based on a misconception of the negotiators, who assumed that Portland Channel went up to the 56th parallel, which it does not.

Coast and Ocean. Attorney-General Finlay quoted from the negotiations preceding the treaty of 1825 in support of his view, and asked the tribunal to answer the fourth question by deciding the Portland Canal and the point on its own parallel where mouths are found, should be joined by the most direct line. He then proceeded to discuss the last three questions of reference, and with regard to the fifth and sixth (see treaty of 1825) he said the United States contention was that Russia was to have a continuous strip of coast running round all the inlet and that Great Britain was to be at every point excluded from the sea. To that view he asked the tribunal to return a decided negative.

Answers to these questions, which are closely related, depend largely upon the true meaning of the words "coast" and "ocean" in the treaty. He contended that "coast" meant the general outline of continental shore, and that it could never have meant to call heads or narrow inlets running hundreds of miles inland "ocean." He instanced the case of Russia forbidding the approach of a ship 100 miles from the coast, and asked counsel the skipper of a vessel lying off the mouth of the inlet urge that he was outside the forbidden distance because he was more than one hundred miles from the head disputed. There is an implication in the United States' case that "tide-water" and "salt water" are synonymous terms. He illustrated this by reference to the Thames and other large rivers. He questioned the analysis of "coast" in the United States' case, and declared that the meaning depends upon the circumstance in which the word is used.

REIGN OF TERROR.

London Newspaper Man in Monastir Tells the Horrible Truth—Burning of Kastoria Indescribably Terrible.

London, Sept. 19.—As a result of the intervention of the British Ambassador, the decree of expulsion has not been enforced against The Daily Mail's correspondent at Monastir, who, under the date of Sept. 16, telegraphs:

"A veritable reign of terror exists here. Suspected Christians vanish utterly, presumably to prison. Spies about on every hand. The following are some tales of atrocities which I have thoroughly authenticated:

"The Turks burned 18 children to death in a baking oven at Pisolero, near Atmensko, on Sept. 12. They massacred 200 women and children at Jervan in revenge for a defeat at the hands of the insurgents."

More Turkish Massacres. Sofia, Sept. 19.—A serious fight has occurred at Ulavitz, in the mountains of Kratovo, between 2,000 Turks and 80 insurgents. It continued for eight hours. The insurgents used bombs with deadly effect. About 100 Turks are reported to have been killed and many were wounded. The insurgents had two men wounded.

A fight is also reported to have taken place at Rupel Paso, near Sere, 43 miles from Salonica.

Further reports from Kastoria say the city is burning and that the massacre of its population (estimated to have numbered 10,000 persons) is indescribably terrible. The Turks slaughtered indiscriminately Bulgarians, and Greeks, men, women and children.

Should Get an Ark. Lacrosse, Wis., Sept. 19.—Hundreds of families in the district adjacent to Lacrosse are fleeing with what valuables they can grasp to the hills which skirt the Mississippi to escape death in the floods which are sweeping the Mississippi Valley.

Without Foundation. Paris, Sept. 19.—A despatch from Belgrade says the report of the assassination of King Peter of Serbia, is without foundation.

Will Expend $2,000,000. Hamburg, Sept. 17.—The Senate yesterday decided to expend $2,000,000 on the improvement of the Elbe Channel and the river terminals.
