REASONS FOR RESIGNATION

Retiring Colonial Secretary Will Become Missionary of the Imperial Zollverein Idea-His Letter to the Premier and Mr. Balfour's Reply-Both Agree That British Public Opinion Is Against the Change.

London, Sept. 18 .- The official announcement of the resignations of Mr. Chamberlain and two other members of the Cabinet, which was announced yesterday, was made late last night at Downing street in the following communication: "The following Ministers have tendered their resignations, which have been accepted by the King: Right Honorable Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies; Right Honorable T. C. Ritchie, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Lord George Hamilton, Secretary for India. The accompanying correspondence passed between the Premier, Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, and Mr. Chamberlain."

Mr. Chamberlain's Letter. Then follows Mr. Chamberlain's letter, dated Birmingham, Sept. commencing, "My Dear Balfour," which he sets forth his reasons for

RT. HON. JOS. CHAMBERLAIN.

An extremely interesting feature of the letter is the following statement concerning a preferential tariff:

"For the present at any rate, a onies involving any duty, however small, on articles of food hitherto untaxed, even if accompanied by a reduction on other articles of equally universal in their consumption, would be unacceptable to the majority of the constituencies. However much we may regret the decision, however mistaken we may think it, no good Government in a democratic country can ignore it. I feel, therefore, that as an immediate practical policy the question of preference to the colonies can not be pressed with any hope of success at the present time, although there is a very strong feeling in favor of the other branch of fiscal reform which would give fuller discretion to the Government in negotiating with foreign countries for a free exchange commodities and which would able our representatives to retaliate if no concession was made to our just demands.

Outlines His Policy.

"If, as I believe, you share these views, it seems to me that you will be absolutely justified in adopting them as the policy of your Government, although it will necessarily involve some changes in its constitution. As Secretary for the Colonies during the last eight years, have been in a special sense the representative of the policy of a firmer union which I firmly believe to be equally necessary in the selves. I believe it is possible today and may be possible to-morrow to make arrangements for such union. I have had unexampled opportunities of watching events and appreciating the feelings of our kinsmen beyond the seas. I stand, therefore, in a different position to any of my colleagues, and I think that I should justly be blamed if I remained in office and thus formally accepted the exclusion from my politital program of so important a part thereof.

Promote Cause From Outside.

"I think that with absolute loyalty to your Government and with no fear of embarrassing it in any way I can best promote the cause I have at heart from the outside and I cannot but hope that in a perfectly independent position my arguments may be received with less prejudice than would attach to those of a party leader. Accordingly I would suggest that you limit the present policy of the Government to an assertion of our freedom in the case of all commercial relations with forsign countries and that you should agree to my tendering my resignation of my present office to His Majesty and devoting myself to the these principles of Imperial union | words, 'I can best promote the cause which experience has convinced me | I have at heart from the outside." are essential to our future welfare and prosperity.

"Yours Very Sincerely, "Joseph Chamberlain." Mr. Chamberlain points out the unyielding opposition of the Liberal cross it had an immense signifiparty, which "scouted the idea that cance." a system generally accepted in 1846 could possibly require modification in 1903." He goes briefly over the same ground regarding protection, as did Mr. Balfour in his recent state-

agreering as I do with you that the time has come when a change should be made in the fiscal canons by which we bound ourselves in our commercial dealings with other Governments, it was paradoxical indeed that you should leave the Cabinet at the same time that others of my colleagues are leaving it who disagree on the very same point with us

"Yet I cannot but admit that there is some force in your arguments in support of that course, based as they are upon your special and personal relation with that portion of the controversy which deals with colonial preference. You have done more than any man living or dead to bring home to the citizens of the Empire the consciousness of Imperial obligation and of interdependence between the various fragments into which the Empire is geographically divided. I believe you to be right in holding that this interdependence should find expression in our commercial as well as in our political and military relations. I believe with you that a closer fiscal union tween the Mother Country and the colonies would benefit the trade of both, and that if such closer could be established on fitting terms. its advantage to both parties would increase with years and as the colonies grow in wealth and popula-

Where They Differ. "If there has ever been any difference between us in connection with this matter, it has only been with regard to the practicability of the proposal which would seem to require on the part of the colonies a limitation in the all-round development of a protective policy and on the part of this country the establishment of a preference in favor of important colonial products. On the first of these requirements I say nothing; but if the second involves as it most certainly does, a taxation however light upon food stuffs I am convinced with you that public opinion is not yet ripe for such an arrangement. The reasons may easily be found in past political battles, and present political misrepresentations. If then this branch of fiscal reform is not at present within the limits of practical politics, you are surely right in your advice not to treat it as indissolubly connected with that other branch of fiscal reform to which we both attach importance, and which we believed the country is prepared consider without prejudice. I feel, however, deeply concerned that should regard this conclusion, however well founded, as one making it difficult in your very special circumstances for you to remain a member of the Government. Yet I do not venture in a matter so strictly personal to raise any objection if you think you can best serve the interests of Imperial unity, for which you have done so much by pressing your views on colonial preference, with the freedom which is possible in an independent position, but hardly compatible with office. Loss to Government Great.

"How can I criticize your determination? The loss to the Government is great indeed, but the gain to the cause you have at heart may be greater still. If so, what can I do but acquiesce?

"Yours very sincerely, A. J. Balfour. P.S.-"May I say with what gratification, both on personal and public grounds, I learn that Austen Chamberlain is ready to remain a member of the Government? There could be no more conclusive evidence that in your judgment as in mine, the exclusion of the taxation of food from the party program is in the existing circumstances a course best fitted practically to further the cause of fiscal reform." Others Have Resigned.

The retirement of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain precipitates the most dramatic crisis. sions of some other members of the was mimmant, and Lora Balfour of Burleigh, Secretary for Scotland, has actually resigned. Lord Lansdowne, the Foreign Secretary, left London last night for Balmoral, whither Premier Palfour and his brother are also expected to proceed immediately. In the Conservative cluis last night the manner in which the crisis was projected was almost as wreat a surprise as in Liberal quarters.

The Liberals are jubilant and look forward to an appeal to the country with the utmost confidence.

The Radical Daily News declares Mr. Chamberlain's is a lost cause. Rumors are current that Viscount Milner, the High Commissioner in South Africa, may be invited to become Minister for the Colonies, that Mr. Brodrick will take the India office and that Arnold-Forster will take the War portfolio.

London Press Comments. (Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, Sept. 18.-The London newspaper comments on Mr. Chamberlain's resignation state that the stand he has taken is the only course open to ar honorable, highspirited politician.

The Chronicle says. "He goes out work of explaining and popularizing of office because, to use his own The Morning Post says: "Chamberlain, by his resignation, which the King has been graciously pleased to accept, has crossed the Rubicon. That was but a little stream, but to

The Times says: "Ritchie's and Hamilton's resignations are matters of quite subordinate importance compared with Chamberlain's, who is by universal admission the strongest member of the Government, and a statesman who has made the most powerful and abiding impression on younger nations growing up to manhood within the Empire."

Wife Follows Husband.

Paris, Sept. 21.-James L. Ferriere, a well-known newspaper man of New York, died here yesterday, as the result of a paralytic stroke. His wife, in a fit of distraction soon afl terwards, took her life.

Sir Bichard Cartwright in the House Revives Memories of the Iniquities of the 1882 Gerrymander.

Ottawa, Sept. 17 .- The debate on the redistribution bill occupied the entire day in the House yesterday, some eleven constituencies being adopted. The discussion at times was extremely brisk, notably when Sir Richard Cartwright entered the arena, and revived memories of the iniquities of the gerrymander of 1882. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Borden also participated actively. The chief storm centres of debate were Norfolk, for which Col. Tisdale made another unsuccessful plea for two seats; Elgin and Grey, but the latter stood over. Before adjournment Mr. Taylor again brought up the matter of members' unpaid indemnity, and Mr. Fielding declared emphatically for the rights of Parliament over the Auditor-General.

Dr. Sproule presented a petition from a number of his constituents in Grey, praying that the transcontinental railway bill be not passed, but held over for further consideration by the Government.

Pernicious Literature.

Hon. Wm. Paterson, replying to Mr. Walter Scott, said the attention of the Government had been called to the importation into Canada of weekly publications of the class known as "Jesse James stories" and "Diamond Dick," but that these publications were not brought in free of duty, so far as the Government were aware.

Mr. R. L. Borden asked that before the bill amending the adult act was taken up the correspondence and documents relating to the difficulty between the Government and the Auditor-General be laid on the table, This was agreed to.

THE COLLISION AT BLENHEIM

-List of the Injured.

Chatham, Sept. 17.-The accident at Blenheim was caused by a switch left open, allowing the rear end of the passenger train to crash into loaded freight that had pulled into the siding to allow the express to pass. The rear coach of the passenger train, which was mostly occupied by high school and business college students going to their homes, was telescoped half its length and reduced to splinters.

The list of injured is as follows: Miss Nellie Forbes, leg badly fractured; Miss Winnie Peacock, broken jaw and other injuries; Miss Erie Quackenbush, bad gash on cheek and leg much crushed; Misses Doherty and McGregor of Ridgetown, badly bruised and suffering much from shock. Miss McGregor's chest was crushed, but her injuries are not considered fatal. All the occupants of the coach were more or less bruised and shaken up. Among those more less hurt, in addition to those named, are: James Hogan, Blenheim, neck, shoulder and head cut, not Buelah Buchanan, hand bruised, not serious; Miss Rowe, suffering from shock; Walter Sedge, shock; Miss Elda Ranson, shoulder bruised, not serious; Stewart Campbell, head slightly hurt. The coach containing the Blenheim pupils quite beyond repair, and was set on fire to facilitate the clearing of the

No Time Has Been Lost in Starting British Campaign.

CHAMBERLAIN'S 2ND LETTER

This Time He Writes to the Tariff Reform League-Says He Agrees With the Views of the League, and That They Have Now Sufficient Facts and Figures to Begin

London, Sept. 19.—The newspapers

this morning are crammed with discussions and speculations regarding the political situation brought about by the resignation of Mr. Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer Ritchie, and Lord George Hamilton, but no fresh development has yet been announced. The Marquis of Lansdowne, regarding whose intentions there is the greatest interest has gone to Balmoral to relieve Lord Balfour of Burleigh, as the Minister in attendance on the King.

Begins Active Preparations. Both political parties have already commenced active preparations for the coming campaign, and the opinion is sought of every man of prominence at home and in the colonies, whose ideas are likely to have influence. Mr. Asquith, who is by many regarded as the future leader of the Liberal party, telegraphed yesterday: "The situation in all its essentials is unchanged. The duty of the Liberals to defend free trade is as plain and urgent as before."

The opinion of the colonies is anxiously canvassed as being the most important factor in the situation. Sir Edmund Barton, the Premier of the Australian Commonwealth, has declared in an interview that he is convinced that Mr. Chamberlain will ultimately triumph, and that until that triumph is achieved there will be no real union of the Empire.

The Standard to-day anticipates that Mr. Balfour will have at least four Cabinet seats and two or more under secretaryships at his disposal, and strongly urges him to make a clean sweep of the discredited ministers and appoint mon of real ability, even such men as Lord Cromer and Lord Milner, as the country would gain thereby.

The Premier's Explanation. Mr. Balfour has reiterated friends that his letter to Mr. Chamberlain, accepting his resignation, was not a formal expression regarding Mr. Chamberlain's policy, but that he meant what he said. On the face of it, Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Balfour will continue to work together, but the former Colonial Secretary is free from Governmental obligations and will be able to conduct his educational campaign along line he has all along advocated. Writing yesterday from his Highbury, Birmingham. Chamberlain made his first statement since his resignation. His letter is in reply to C. A. Pearson, chairman of the Executive Council of the Tariff Reform League, who asked if Chamberlain coincides for the purpose of consolidating and developing the resources of the Empire and defending the industries the United Kingdom.

Mr. Chamberlain Agrees. Mr. Chamberlain says: "I agree with your views, that we have sufficient material in the way of and figures. We have now to state our conclusions and endeavor to get the people to adopt them.

Mr. Chamberlain then gives his understanding of the position of the Tariff Reform League under heads, as coinciding with his tion. Their object, he says, are:

"First, a closer union with colonies by means of preferential tariffs, in order to endeavor to make the Empire self-sufficing as regards its food supply.

"Second, the employment of a tariff as a weapon to secure greater reciprocity with foreign nations; or, failing such arrangement, to prevent loss to the home industrial markets under the competition of protected countries by retaliating upon them the treatment they mete out to us." "On this understanding," Chamberlain concludes, "I wish the league success, and the support of everyone desiring the union of the Empire and the continued prosperity of British commerce." Canada's Opinion of Chamberlain, London, Sept. 19 .- (C.A.P.)-W. L. Griffith. Lord Strathcona's secretary, interviewed, said that Canadians, whatever their political color, would freely admit that the administration of Chamberlain as Colonial Secretary has been a distinct advance in many respects.
