Spices Bought For You.

Those who use spices daily seldom know of the variety of kinds and qualities on the market. Many dealers know no more about it-to them a spice is a spice, regardless of the fact that there may be half a dozen varieties that go under the same general title.

We buy spices with exact knowledge of their quality. We buy for you as though we were buying for our own use. We provide spices of highest worth at the lowest possible prices. Give us a trial when next you have a need of this kind.
