Appointed Lecturer in History.
The Toronto News of Saturday refers to Mr. Ed. Kyle as follows: Mr. Edward J. Kyle, a distinguished graduate of the University of Toronto, has been appointed lecturer in history in his alma mater. The Board of Trustees, at its meeting yesterday completed the arrangements incident to the appointment. The selection of Mr. Kyle for this position is a most gratifying one, as it recognizes the merit of a graduate of the University who has had a brilliant post-graduate career abroad. Mr. Kyle is barely 24, but already he has shown himself an exceptionally clever student, especially in historical matters. He is a native of Lindsay and after a course in the Separation School and the Collegiate Institute there, matriculated into the University taking the Mary Mulock scholarship. In the University he took a double course in classics, English and history, and graduated in 1901, winning the Flavell scholarship. Since then he has followed a post-graduate course of three years, at Oxford, from which he graduated this year with first-class honours in the department of history. He enters on his new duties next month.

SHORT STREET CHATS.
Conversational Tidbits Picked up by the Post Man on his Travels.
-Mr. Ed. O'Neill—"Yes, I am well pleased with the business done since I took over the Benson house. I like Lindsay and feel sure it will become a city in the near future because of its fine situation and commanding agricultural and commercial advantages. Anyway, there is room for a first-class hotel in Lindsay, and I shall have nothing unkind to make the Benson house worthy of the town and its prospects."
-Jesse Doyell—"I see that our band stand, which has for many years adorned our town park, has taken the place of the monument of the late and lamented Horace Grewley and 'west' and has taken itself to our western plot, where it has found its better half. It was a thing of beauty and was supposed to have been a joy for ever. It stood a monument to the architectural ingenuity of ex-Alderman Robson, but man proposes and the devil finds a way. Property disposed of after giving the stand a 'shunt' to the east, it was found that it was not its proper resting place, hence the move westward."

FINED FOR SELLING FIRE-ARMS.
Sold a Rifle to a Boy of Ten Years—Warning to Others.
Peterboro Review: At the police court this morning a local hardware merchant was up on two charges, i. e. selling firearms to minors under 16, and not keeping a record of firearms sold. The following sections of the statutes make the case very strong in these respects:
Section 106 says—Every one is guilty of an offence under this act who sells a rifle, pistol or other firearm to a minor under the age of sixteen years, unless he has first ascertained the age of the minor before making such sale or gift, and that he had good reason to believe that such minor was not under the age of sixteen."
The second clause says—"Everyone is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars, who sells or gives any pistol or other firearm to a minor under the age of sixteen years, unless he has first ascertained the age of the minor before making such sale or gift, and that he had good reason to believe that such minor was not under the age of sixteen."
The above should be pasted in the note books carried by our local peddlers. Many of our young lads carry firearms, and it would do no harm to enquire where they got the weapons.

HOW TO TAKE CHANNEL CATFISH.
Big Fish Catches by Patient Ladies
Rama Indians are making some phenomenal catches of channel catfish in Lake St. John. Several hundred pounds have recently been brought to town and sold for as high as 50c a lb. The mode adopted by the Indians for catching these fish is by night line, and this is how they do it. A very heavy cord some seventy or eighty feet in length is the first requisite, and to this are attached perpendicular lines of light cord, at intervals of about 12 inches each. Attached to a strong hook and baited. Several heavy sinkers are fastened to the line, which is then sunk at a point known by the Indians to be a catfish rendezvous. The two ends of the line are fast to the shore or fastened to floats. This is done by passing the line in the runs or openings several times during the night, or may be left to the following morning, when if luck follows the fishermen, there will perhaps be as many catfish hooked as there are rabbits on the line. The fish of course are very much alive in the morning, and running the line is generally accompanied with some excitement, as there may be a number of 10, 15 and 20 pound specimens on the line. As soon as the fish are caught they are weighed as high as 60 pounds, but Joe is not an average fisherman. Many people are prejudiced against catfish and acquire the idea of eating them, but nevertheless, when well prepared they are a toothsome dish. This is true of the channel cat fish family, a comparatively small fish, though very similar in appearance, is found to be quite plentiful in our country. It should be noted there is a distinction between cat fish, or mud cats, and channel cat fish, the latter growing to many times the size of the former.—Orilla Times.

SLAUGHTER SALE

of the WAKELY & FORD stock

NOW IN PROGRESS

We think it can be safely said that the purchasing of this big stock will make this sale one of the greatest and most important ever inaugurated in Lindsay.

You may ask why we sacrifice this clean, new stock? Well here are several good business reasons—

FIRST—Because the money that it took to pay off the retiring partner and other liabilities MUST BE RAISED AT ONCE. So it is money that is wanted, and profits are not considered for a moment.

SECOND—Because the stock is far too big to suit us just now and must be reduced to the lowest ebb.

THIRD—Because we've bought very heavily in fall and winter goods, and these wholesalers and manufacturers are urging us to accept them at once—so we must make room for them in double quick time.

FOURTH—Because buying the stock at 77c on the dollar means that we saved several thousand dollars on the deal. So you all see we can well afford to fairly sacrifice the whole thirty-five thousand dollars' worth.

Now, the net result of this purchase by us of the Wakely & Ford stock, to you, is that you can buy it now just as cheap as if you were a stockholder buying it in wholesale lots in the open market.

We've gone carefully through the stock and re-marked every piece with the blue pencil from ten to fifty per cent. off the usual prices.

SO SPEND ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS AND SAVE FIFTY—THAT IS THE STORY OF THIS SALE.

And the fifty dollars you save is absolute and positive. For you know Wakely & Ford were only in business two years, and most of the goods are new.

THINK OF IT!—A chance to buy from a whole stock—a new stock—a stock not bankrupt—not the rag ends of a clearing out sale—a well selected stock in fact everything in these various departments:—Women's Ready-to-wear Garments of all kinds, Millinery, Furs, Dress Goods, Silks, Linings, Gloves, Hosiery, Underwear of all kinds, Corsets, Cottons, Linens, House Furnishings, Men's Furnishings. Yes, all kinds of goods, whether staple or fancy, that are usually found in any good dry goods store, marked at prices that will exchange them for cash in short order.

He Got His Answer.
One day recently while the Salvation Army, was holding a service in Kingston. A Clayton youth contributed his last quarter to the cause and received a smile from one of the ladies for his generosity. The youth then stopped up and whispered, "where may I meet you?" The reply came with a still more bewitching smile, and was this: "In Heaven, dear."

A Local Joke.
Eugene Ebe, was driving a half-owned horse up Kent-st. the other day when it was noticed by Isaac Doyell, who remarked to some friends near the post office, "that is the best natured horse in the town." "How do you make that out?" was asked and the response came promptly from the clergy king, "Why, it will never get its back up!" and Isaac disappeared with a grin on his face as heard as a big celery plant.

No Wonder.
Mrs. Biff—"Justin, listen to our parrot! I never heard him swear so before."
Mr. Biff—"He was in the room yesterday when I opened the bill for your dress."
