Some Remarks on

By "THE STROLLER."

That was a remarkable interview that was reported the other day, as given by our old friend, John D. Rockefeller, although it has since been denied, If there is one thing more than another in which this remarkable man has shown his superiority to the great bulk of his ferdows, it is in his ability to keep his mouth shut. In all his career he has never been known to sound his own born, to kick, or to deny, or even to explain, any aspersion against in his own way, and although he has never used in as many words, Vanderoilt's famous expletive, "The pu'sthough John D. has denied that he ever gave the interview, or even authorized it, it sounds so exactly like what he would both say and do, that i it is really remarkable. Possiniy John has a manner of expressing his thoughts in one way that is intended for some suo who is within earonly. There is no telling what them, and it would be a pretty smark man who could show him anything worth while, that he did not know

Those of our readers, who read the alleged interview, will remember that John painted a very black future for the United States, if Roosewest did not quit his monkeying with nuts, etc. Made in one minute. If the geatlemen had been set to simply count the money they are surposed to be worth, in either silver dollars or do:lar bills, from the time they started to make it, they would be no was near half through now.

We cannot but admire the Presi dent, in his fight with these trusts it is truly a battle of the giants. He can safely count on having the common people behind him, as long as he uses common sense and equity. There is surely a time coming, and that not very far off, when men of the Rockefeller stamp will be stripped of their ili-gotten gains. There was an article in some financial paper of London the other day, warning investors against putting their money in any country where Socialism was being taught. It seems to us that those
