An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure

There is a truth in this old adage which will apply very well in the case of stock. A good remedy on hand and administered at proper times will have goods results. We have some good stock foods.

YEARLY LOSS OF LIFE.

Year after year the lakes and rivers of Canada exact a heavy tribute of lives, comments the Toronto World many full of promise, and leaving this young nation all the poorer. A large proportion of those who thus early pass beyond the veil might partment. He characterized the have saved themselves and their companions in misfortune had they possessed the useful art of swimming. Irspector Hughes recently called attention to certain matters wherein the schools of Britain excelled these of Canada, especially in regard to physical exercises and training, ln this connection recent reports publighed by the education committee of the London County Council and the London Schools Swimming Associations are of special interest here. Splendid results have followed the efforts made to teach the London school children how to swim, and they well deserve serious attention from the educational authorities of

CONCERNING KIPLING.
