Mr. L. McEchern intends shipping a carload of good fat cattle to Toronto this week.

Our Sabbath school here purpose having their usual Christmas tree, and are now preparing for it.

SCOTCH LINE—VERULAM.

At the close of the annual meeting, held in Scotch Line Baptist church, Mr. J. A. Robertson stated there was a matter of business that must be attended to, and stepping forward he read the following address: Dear Pastor and Bro. Bingham—From your faithful pastorate of the past year, it has been a pleasure to have you with us, not merely coming in contact with you, but in the blessings we have received through you.

Therefore we desire to express to you our good wishes. We trust that in the coming year you will find an increased field of usefulness. We pray that God will bless you in leading souls to Christ, and in building up His people. May you also have large experiences of His grace. On behalf of the church, J. A. Robertson.

The address was accompanied by a purse containing money. Refreshments were served and pastor and people spent a pleasant social hour.

COBOCONK

(From Our Own Correspondent.) The death of J. R. Phillips, occurring as it did on Wednesday of last week, was a great surprise to his many friends, in view of the marked improvement in his condition earlier in the week, but a decided turn for the worse came on Tuesday night, and at 5 p. m. Wednesday Mr. Phillips had passed to rest. The funeral was held on Friday at Cobocok cemetery. The deceased was one of Cobocok's oldest residents, and for a number of years Mr. Phillips was connected with the lumbering business here, and in this work he in his time was one of the largest employers of labor that this village has had. Of late years, however, he had confined all his attentions to the manufacture of butter-plates, where he has given employment to 20 or 25 men. The town has suffered a great loss in his death.

W. F. McKenzie and wife, of Toronto, were in town last week attending the funeral of the late J. R. Phillips, father of Mrs. McKenzie.

New Government Bridges. workmanship now spans the Gulf River at Minden; a third, having a concrete floor, has been built over Kendrick's Creek, about a mile from Kinmount. A fine structure of the same class now spans the Burnt River at Gooderham; and the fifth and last is located at Eau Claire, 35 miles east of North Bay, on the Canadian Pacific Railway.

WILBERFORCE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) The mining resources at this point have recently proved very encouraging. There have been good finds made in graphite, pelidmita, black-sand and white mica, fluorspar carrying silver, abundance of iron pyrites and other minerals carrying gold. We believe if this section was prospected one-third as much as it has been around Cobalt since the mining sensation got up there, there would be some valuable finds. Some tons of mica, which we understand has proven good, have been shipped from here. Operations are being begun by some Americans on one of our granite mines. They require thirty men to begin with. It is situated about two miles from Wilberforce, but there are other good signs nearer the village, and we believe all this section wants to make it a mining centre is prospecting and developing. Wilberforce is situated about thirty miles north-east of Kinmount on the Grandale, Banoroff and Ottawa railway, in a good farming section and is a pretty little village surrounded by small lakes, abounding in trout, and forests plentiful with large and small game. Mill men would do well to consider this section, as there are immense quantities of all kinds of timber a little to the north of Wilberforce station, controlled by the Canadian Land and Emigration Co. There is a good site for a saw mill that would buy logs from the settlers and do custom work at Wilberforce.
