denotes anaemia, or thin blood. A dangerous disorder because a system not fortified with plenty of pure rich blood is susceptible to all sorts of ills. Depression of spirits, nervousness, insomnia, palpitation of the heart, etc. are all results of anaemia and indicate that Dr. Burke's Improved Red Blood and Nerve Pills should be taken at once. They will quickly restore the vitalizing principles to the blood and strengthen the whole system.

WILSON & WILSON, Proprietors.
LINDSAY, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 22

HE NEEDS IT IN HIS BUSINESS.

Local conditions indicate, that Col. Sam Hughes will secure the nomination for the Dominion Parliament in spite of a strong opposition that exists in the ranks of his own party in this riding. The fact of the matter is, he is a professional politician; he needs the position in the successful operation of his business and is bound to get it by hook or by crook, or his occupation is gone. The methods he is reported to be adopting are those he so successfully used in securing his last nomination—to pack the convention with his friends. He is afraid to trust his fate with a convention composed of delegates chosen in the ordinary way as he knows he would be snowed under beyond recovery.

THE ONTARIO WORKMAN'S HOME

The Dundas (Scottland) Advertiser man, who visited Canada in the early autumn, and who knows from daily contact how miserable the work class homes of English and Scotch industrial centres can be, says: "I have lingered somewhat over my description of Ontario, and yet I have merely sketched its outlines. It has no drink problem, no rich, and no poor, and its educational system, not only free, but compulsory. It is the largest in population, and the wealthiest. It has an amazing variety of woods, grain and fruit; luscious vines and orchards extend for miles on either side of the railroad track, and you need go no further than the observation car of a Grand Trunk train to realize why it is called the Garden of Canada. But what has impressed me most in Ontario are the homes of its working people. No huge tenements, with men, women and children huddled together under unhealthy conditions. No filthy, squallid surroundings, but nice, comfortable, well-kept villas, each with its veranda and trim garden plot. In almost every case the house is the property of the occupier. These are the homes of the artisans who toil in the factories and the working sheds. The homes of the workmen of Ontario are homes indeed, and men who live in such surroundings must bless the fate that placed them in a country where there is room and to spare."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Kingston News; It is given out that the verdict in a recent case by which a conductor was declared "not guilty," on sentimental grounds, "suits the trainman." Doubtless. Does it suit the people? Does it make travelling safer?

An Edmonton despatch has the following regarding a former Peterboro man; W. A. Buchanan, provincial librarian, has resigned. The Lethbridge Herald, with which he was formerly identified, is about to launch into a daily edition, and he will assume charge of the new venture.

Since the recent County Council elections in England a section of the Canadian press and people—not even accepting the usually well informed individual who writes entertainingly in The Post as "The Scrooler"—seem to be laboring under the impression that our friends, the Socialists, were practically exterminated upon that occasion. Such does not appear to have been the case. The Socialists and Laborites joined forces, and were opposed by both Liberals and Conservatives, who seem to have worked together with hearty good will. In all there were about 333 Labor and Socialist candidates; of these 83 were elected. The gains were 38, and the losses 34. The average majorities for the Socialist candidates were larger than the average at last elections. Our friend seems to have suffered a setback, but there is nothing discouraging in the fact. If the principles they stand for are right the people will see to their spread and enforcement.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE

Interesting Decision in Reboro Road Case.

The following cases were tried before Chancellor Sir John Boyd at the High Court, (non-jury) sittings, which opened here Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock:

Breault vs. Town of Lindsay.—Action was brought by the plaintiff Mrs. Breault, of Coocoonk, for damages for injuries sustained by her while on a visit to Lindsay, through falling on a defective sidewalk on south Sussex-st. After hearing the evidence and arguments of the counsel, the judge reserved judgment. Moore & Jackson for Plaintiff; McLaughlin, Peel & Fulton for defendants.

Sheffer vs. Sheffer.—This was a case from Minden township. One Sheffer, sr., deeded his farm to his son Samuel, who agreed to keep him till death. Sam then gave a mortgage to his brother Robert to satisfy him, but failed to continue in the support of his father. Action was then brought by the father to set aside the deed or mortgage, and judgment was given for the father, each to pay his own costs. Moore & Jackson for the plaintiffs; McLaughlin, Peel & Fulton for the defendants.

Belt vs. Belt, (action for alimony).—After a very little evidence had been taken, the plaintiff was unable to stand the strain and fainted. The case was adjourned till this morning, when it was found the plaintiff was still unable to be present. The case was finally adjourned till next spring, unless the parties have agreed in the meantime to have the evidence taken by Judge Harding. McLaughlin, Peel & Fulton for plaintiff; Moore & Jackson for defendants.

Township of Ops vs. Fox and Reid.—This is the Omamee road case. In this is the Omamee road case. In July, 1905, the Council passed a by-law closing part of the Omamee road across the eighth and ninth concessions. Mrs. Moore took proceedings to quash the same, and the Council repealed the by-law, and again, on the 15th December, 1905, passed another by-law authorizing the closing of the same and the conveying of the different parts to adjoining proprietors. Great opposition was made by all the residents in the Reboro section, with the result that Mr. Jackson, the Reeve, and several of the councillors were defeated, and a new Council elected opposed to the closing of the road, but in the meantime the Council held a hurried meeting on the 30th December and executed the deeds, and Messrs. Fox and Reid took their and claimed to be the owners of the road. The other five parties refused to take their deeds, as they desired to keep the road open. The new Council tried to settle the matter, but Messrs. Fox and Reid refused to take their money back and give up the deeds. The new Council then passed a by-law re-opening the road, and Fox and Reid took proceedings before the County Judge claiming $2500 compensation for opening the road. They claimed that the road, having been legally closed, the re-opening of the road gave them the same right to damages as if no road had ever been there, and the judge held the deed was binding upon him. Thereupon the Council brought this action to have the by-law, and deeds set aside, on the ground that they were not passed in the public interest, but in the interest of Messrs. Fox and Reid, and were otherwise technically defective. During the progress of the case the Chancellor expressed the opinion that Messrs. Fox and Reid were not entitled to more than the one hundred dollars paid by them to the Council, and which the Council offered to refund, but that while the Council from time to time were different, still the corporation were the same, and as the plaintiffs had caused the difficulty by passing the by-law, they should pay the costs, and judgment was given declaring the by-law invalid, and setting aside the deeds to Fox and Reid and the arbitration proceeding, the township to repay them the $100 and costs. G. H. Hopkins and L. V. O'Connor for the plaintiffs; R. J. McLaughlin, K.C., and A. M. Fulton for the defendants.

To be Read Twice.

The following boiled-down advice, taken from the Markham Sun, is interesting and contains food for thought: "If you have made up your mind to live in a town then stand up for it, and if you know of positively no good then silence is golden. Do all you can to help along every man who is engaged in legitimate business. Do not vent away for everything you want and still expect the home man to keep a stock to suit the whims of just a few customers. The success of your fellow townsmen will be your success. No man liveth to himself and no man can do business independently of his fellow men. Take the home paper. Do not imagine the big dailies fill up all the space. There are many little services of good cheer, social sunshine and personal mention in the home paper that the big dailies do not print. Do not abuse your neighbor. The main difference in the number of his faults and your own is that you see through a magnifying glass as a critic. The ill-omened croaker can do a town more harm in a minute than two good citizens can repair in a month."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

When using valuable vases for table decoration, fill with sand. This makes them stand firmly and they are far less liable to be knocked over and broken.

If the sink gets grossy a little paraffin well rubbed in will make it beautifully clean. Zinc pairs and tins, if cleaned with paraffin, will look as good as new.

When eggs are high priced, an excellent substitute for them in pudding pie is to use soda crackers, rolled fine, allowing two for each pie. They may be used instead of eggs, even when eggs are plentiful and cheap.
