A resolution was passed instructing the Clerk to notify the Rullway Co. agair of the grievance comp'ained of by Mr. Reid, stating that unless the evil be remedied, as soon as practicable, action will be taken under the Public Health Act to do so at the expense of the Company.

The Reaboro Road.

Messrs, W. J. Reid and M. Fox asked why the Council had expended money graveiling the Reaboro road west of the village this year, contrary to the resolution passed sometime ago, since the closing of that portion of the rold is anticipated. Mr. Reid said he was told Mr. Coulter had put some gravel on. Mr. Coulter replied he had more than he could sttend to in his own division, without encroaching on Division No. 5. Public Libraries.

(Toronto News.) Rev. Richard Hobbs, of Strathroy, is ill-satisfied with our public libraries. He spoke out in meeting the other night, and said that he was beginning to believe the libraries are "exists." There are several other curses which the average man would incline to consider more fearful than the libraries, but this is a free country, and Mr. Hobbs is not to be censured for his statement that the good books stand idly on the shelves, while the novels are devoured. It is not certain, though, that novels "corrupt and paralyze 'he mental faculties." They may not do much in the way of stimulating those faculties, for most folk read to be amused. People work hard all day and at night they are not in the mood to be instructed. Perhaps it is not too much to say I country boy makes a much botter "that a good many readers do not I fight in the battle of life than the want to be instructed. church membership will be an cressive object lesson in party legiance. The man who is taught to rightly esteem his ecclesiastical fellowship will speedily learn how regard his political adherence. Not that a church is like a political party engaged in contest with other churches and holding rivalry and combat as her first duty. It is the very opposite of that. The church, if she be truly a church and not sect, has room in the ranks for everytype of believer and throws open building when it is being moven on her gates as wide as the twelve gates of the New Jerusalem. She is in sympathy and alliance with all other churches. Therefore, I argue, that a minister should take a citizen's interest in affairs of scate, and, not at all because of his profession, but because of his education and his moral culture he will commonly show himself, frankly and publicly, an independent.
