

THOUGHTS FOR XMAS

Now We Aim to Break all Selling Records in the Last Seven Business Days Before Xmas.

The Prices Quoted Ought to do it.

How time flies; only seven more days starting with Saturday morning, and with us every one of these days will mean bustle, business, energy and the liveliest selling we've ever had.

We're never too busy to welcome Bargains nor to pre-occupied to tell about them. This list of bargains is well worthy the serious consideration of Yuletide gift givers, as it contains many of the most desirable articles at prices that will materially aid in extending the gift list of many limited appropriations. It will be better for all concerned if you shop this week and early next week.

MERRY WEDDING BELLS.

Wickett-Anderson.
The home of Mr. Peter Anderson, Oakwood, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, Dec. 6, when his daughter, Mary Adeline, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Francis W. Wickett, of Eden, Mariposa. The bride looked charming in brown peau-de-soie with chiffon bertha. Mr. Wickett entered the room to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Ida Thurston, of Lindsay, followed by the bride, leaning on the arm of her father. Only the immediate friends of the contracting parties were present, and after the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. A. F. Webster, Oakwood, the guests repaired to the dining room, where a sumptuous repast was served. The happy couple left Woodville by the evening train for Orillia, Huntsville and other points. The bride's travelling suit was navy blue broadcloth, with hat to match. All join in wishing them bon voyage through life.

How Cheese Box.

Duncan J. MacPherson, of Lancaster, has just completed the manufacture of something new and novel in a cheese box that may take the place of the article in use at the present time. His invention provides a box of the usual size and weight machine sewn in such a way that it is quite impossible for the box to split.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES OF JUDGE DEAN.

Impressive Services at Cambridge-st. Methodist Church Tuesday Afternoon—Tributes by Local and Toronto Clergymen—Great Assemblage of Sorrowing Citizens—Interment at Belleville.

(Wednesday's Evening Post.)
Flags flew at half-mast throughout the town yesterday and Monday to express the widespread sympathy and regret at the death of a highly esteemed citizen—the late Judge Dean. Wherever citizens met they spoke of the great loss the town and county had sustained. The Judge was a broad-minded man and the faithful friend of every good enterprise, and those who had known him best loved him most. His loss will be keenly felt. The late Judge Dean was respected for his honesty, his integrity, his many sense of right and justice. He was exacting, yet considerate, courageous in pursuing the right course, ever kind, and performed all duties in a painstaking manner. His death will be keenly felt by Methodism, as he was a consistent worker. At Cambridge-st. Methodist church, of which Judge Dean was a staunch supporter and member, his loss will be sorely felt, and yesterday at the funeral services the general feeling of deep sorrow was strikingly manifested in both pulpit and pew.

As the pall-bearers passed up the aisle and laid the casket in front of the altar Prof. Jackson presided at the organ and played a funeral dirge by Dupre. The following gentlemen took their seats behind the pulpit: Rev. E. E. Roberts, Rev. Dr. Potts (Toronto), Rector C. H. Marsh, St. Paul's; Rev. Dr. Bishop, Cambridge-st. Methodist; Rev. Jas. W. Wallace, St. Andrew's; and Rev. R. Welch, Baptist. After the singing of "Nearer My God to Thee" by the large congregation of mourners, Rev. Mr. Welch delivered the prayer, and Mrs. Koyl rendered the feeling solo, "Saved by Grace," or "Some Day the Silver Cord Will Break." Rev. Mr. Wallace then read the scriptures in clear and impressive tones from 1st Corinthians, 15 and 20, after which hymn 854 was sung, "Asleep in Jesus."
EXPRESSIONS OF SORROW.
Dr. Bishop, the pastor, then spoke a few words of pathetic sympathy. The hymns that had just been sung indicated that one more than ordinary had passed away. He had noticed the tokens of respect and general sorrow in the flags flying at half-mast and the blinds pulled down, and had heard expressions of deep respect. The late Judge Dean had lived many years had manifested a high christian character and was one who had the esteem and love of all; he was one whose judgments had weighed much in the councils of the church, and he was able to speak with the utmost degree of confidence concerning his spiritual life. He felt that in his departure both pastor and church had lost a sincere friend, an intelligent and sympathetic bearer. Deceased was a loyal Methodist and one who loved his church. His heart was larger than Methodism and held a generous measure of sympathy for all those who loved the Lord Jesus Christ.
Rev. O. H. Marsh next spoke—as he said, not as a clergyman of the Church of England, but as a citizen for the past 18 years a resident of this town, and their relations had ever been of a very close and dear character. At times visiting clergymen had sat and been entertained at his (the Judge's) table. He (the speaker) had been so welcomed along with General Booth. The late Judge Dean had been sought after for advice by many, and the town was now the poorer in the loss of one who was always ready to help in every way.

Rev. Dr. Potts, representing the Senate of the Board of Regents of Victoria University, stated that owing to illness Chancellor Burwash was prevented from attending the funeral, but that he had been accompanied to Lindsay by Dr. Bain, a fellow student of Judge Dean's. Dr. Potts said he was present more as an old friend. The home of the departed had been his home while in Lindsay on different occasions. The speaker told how Judge Dean had entered College at Cobourg in the late forties, and from that day the College had no more lively a benefactor than he. Soon after graduation he had gone to Belleville and practiced law, and again to Ottawa, and 23 years ago had come to Victoria to study as a judge. Today our country was not that it had occupied the seats of learning, but that he was a follower of Jesus Christ.
Mrs. Koyl rendered a song entitled "Peace, Perfect Peace," after which Rev. Mr. Roberts gave out the closing hymn, No. 615, "Forever with the Lord," and delivered the closing prayer. Prof. Jackson played the grand march and solo from Handel as the funeral services were brought to a close.
The body was on view till five o'clock, and many friends and acquaintances paid their last tribute to the memory of deceased. Many floral wreaths and flowers decorated the coffin, among them being one from the Canadian Order of Home Circles, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Armstrong and the Lindsay Law Association.

LIFE OF DECEASED.

Wm. Warren Dean, County Court Judge, of Victoria, was born in London, Ont., October 25, 1830. He was the fifth son of the late Rev. Horace Dean, a pioneer of the Methodist Church, and both his father and mother (née Ruth Tiedale), were of U. E. Loyalist descent. After leaving the grammar school at Barrick, William Warren Dean entered Victoria University, at Cobourg, from which he graduated with a B. A., in 1854. He studied law in the office of the late Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C., was called to the Bar in 1858, and opened an office in Belleville where he became Master in Chancery. During administration of Hon. Edward Blake he, for a short period, was acting Deputy Minister of Justice, but resigned on his appointment, September 9, 1874, as Judge of the County Court of Victoria, the position he held until his death. The late Judge Dean was a prominent member of the Methodist Church, a representative in the General Conference of the body, and a member of the Board of Regents of Victoria University. He married early in life the eldest daughter of the late Gilbert Bogart, of Belleville. The deceased Judge leaves a widow, two sons, Messrs. W. H. and H. E. Dean, and two daughters, Mrs. Alfred Tait and Miss Dean, both of whom reside in New York.
The body was taken to Belleville this morning on the 7.20 train, where interment took place at 11 o'clock.

THE FUEL OUTLOOK.

There has been a rise in the price of coal in Pennsylvania, which is usual in the early winter, following in increase of ten cents per ton per month from April each season.
The addition is not felt by the wealthy consumer, who can lay in his stock in early spring. It is the poor who suffer, by having to delay purchasing and to buy in small quantities when pinched by need.
But as the Philadelphia Record puts the case, it is not the present increase of price that is troubling people. It is the fact that the coal companies are engaged in a determined effort to bring the price of coal to a generally higher level, and that level is to be high enough so that they will not only recoup themselves for any increased wages they pay, but they will get an increased margin of profit.
It has been given out that Mr. John Mitchell is sanguine of a settlement of the dispute between operators and miners without a strike next spring. But the present attitude of the coal companies leads to the common belief that they will not hesitate to bring about another strike next April, when the question comes of making an agreement with the coal miners. The last strike proved highly profitable to the coal roads and the coal operators. There was a general conspiracy against the public was brought out in a large volume of evidence which is now forgotten. The coal companies are willing, in the minds of many coal dealers, to precipitate another strike because they know that any losses they suffer may be more than made up from the public.
The moral attitude of the coal roads in this matter, The Record remarks, is beyond discussion. Its inquiry is so apparent that the ethics of the situation need not be considered.
In the last strike the coal barons shifted the responsibility to the min-

Crossing the Lake on Ice.

Bob. Independent: Mr. Sheldrick walked across Pigeon lake on Nov. 22, the ice being nearly an inch thick. On the 24th the gale of wind broke up the ice and the lake remained open till Thursday evening last, the 30th. That night being calm, and the thermometer around zero, the lake was once more closed, with a good sheet of ice. Friday morning Mr. Theo. Curtis of North Verulam wanted to cross the lake, and taking a long pole with him he made his venture, on the one night's frost. He got over safely, though there were times when he felt the ice bending with him and he quite anticipated a cold bath.

Robert A. Mills.
The death occurred at Midland on the 7th of Robt. A. Mills, of Lindsay, an employee of the Grand Trunk Railway, as the result of abscess on the brain. Mr. Mills was a young man of about 27 years of age, unmarried, and was a cousin of Engineer Fred Brohms, of the following: England and 'Frenties Boys' Lodge, of which deceased was a member, will attend the funeral.
