Saw Creat Veins of Almost Pure Silver Ore Worth $30,000 to $80,000 a Car. Mr. Frank C. Carpenter, whose opportunities for gathering information

College, visited his parents in town are world-wide, is enthusiastic about the riches of Cobalt. In a letter, published in The Buffalo Express of Saturday last, he says;

"Three years ago the land about Cobalt would not have sold for ten cents an acre. To-day some of it would bring $100 a square inch. There is one tract of 40 acres within a stone's throw of where I am writingg that you could not buy for $1,-000,300 in cash, and all about here are other 40-acre tracts which their ownthousands to millions of dollars. Nevertheless, the land lies in the heart of the wildest woods on this continent. It is rocky and swampy, and it would take a quarter section of it to feed a goat. "Its value lies in the enormous silver deposita which have recently been discovered. The rock is streaked with great veins of almost pure silver ore. Three or four million dollars' worth of this ore has already been shipped and carloads of it are now on the way to New York which are worth Ladies' Initialed, Hemstitched $25,000 to $30,000 a car. A carload of the best picked specimens from a certain mine is said to have sold for $90,000, another carload for $50,000 and another for $40,000.

In the meantime, the people here deem themselves rich beyond the dreams of avarice. The land has been staked out for miles in every direction, and hundreds of prospectors with hammers in their hands and great packs on their backs, held there by straps around the forehead, are tramping through the woods looking for new ore fields. Mr. Carpenter says that at present ed. Some are owned by Buffalo peomore by Canadians. The field as far Men's Colored Silk Handkeras defined is about three miles square radius of two miles. It embraces Lake Cobalt, and there has been a proposition to drain the lake in orted by the government. The land will be opened next August, and a great rush is looked for.

cobalt is, and this Mr. Carpenter helps to make clear, as follows: "This cobalt-silver ore is a comparatively new thing in Nature, Cobalt and silver are frequently found together, but nowhere in such quantities as here. Cobalt is a mineral something like nickel in its properpigments, and it is generally known as cobalt blue. It forms the color Stanley, Huron, Laurel and White for ail of the finest blue china. The metal is also valuable for toughening steel, and for this reason it can never fall below the value of nickel, which is now worth 30 or 40 cents a pound.
