THE CAPITAL OF ARGENTINA
INTERESTING SKETCH OF SOUTH AMERICA'S GREATEST CITY.
Foreigners Very Numerous—Some of the City's Unusual Features.
The following sketch of Buenos Aires is from the pen of Mr. H. Glyde Gregory, manager of the Export department of the Consolidated Boiler Co., of New York, whose recent article descriptive of a business trip to South America was perused with much interest by Post readers.
Founded in 1535, the city of Buenos Aires has not only some age to its credit, but as a truly cosmopolitan city, and in its energy, life and advanced civilization, it may fairly claim to rank with the greatest. Standing tenth in the list of the cities of the world, and second only to Paris itself as a Latin center, Buenos Aires is a positive revelation to the traveller who sees it for the first time. The wide avenues and the beautiful parks with which it abounds, the palatial buildings and theatres, the extensive and well organized system of electric street railways, with a mileage of more than three hundred, and which in 1905 carried 179,186,434 passengers, the well edited newspapers, (whose daily editions contain news from all parts of the world, including extracts from the English and Continental journals of the same day), the high standard of education obtaining among the better classes, the style, dress and manners of the people, the immense display of electric light, the incessant activity, the vast amount of shipping (3,538 vessels entered the port in 1905), and, indeed, every phase of life, combine to give Buenos Aires something of the movement of London, with the brightness and gaiety of Paris.

Out of a total population of a little more than one million, the foreigners in Buenos Aires include about 230,000 Italians, 105,000 Spaniards, 6,000 French, 28,000 Uruguayans, 6,000 British, 8,000 Germans, 3,500 Austrians, 2,500 Swiss and 22,000 of other nationalities.
It may be interesting to the readers of The Post to know that the well known daily "La Prensa," of Buenos Aires occupies the handsomest and best equipped buildings of any newspaper in the world. The same enterprising publication maintains in New York its own bureau, which every evening cables it the important news of the day.

Both Bad
The comedian was rehearsing his great song, when the leader of the orchestra pulled him up.
"My dear sir," said the latter, in aggrieved tones, "don't you know that you are murdering the time?"
"Well," was the quiet retort, "it's better to murder the time once and for all than to beat it night after night, as you do!"

YOUNG MEN'S LITERARY CLUB MEET
The Life of William Gladstone Discussed—A Mock Trial on the Program.
About twenty members of the Young Men's Literary Club were present at the regular meeting of the club held on Tuesday in the parlors of the Cambridge-st. Methodist church. A very profitable program was presented, "The Life of Gladstone" was a topic well handled by Messrs. W. J. Carlisle and E. Graham, the former dealing with the eminent statesman's "home life," and the latter with his "political life." Both speakers spoke eloquently of the fine old man and the Club were well pleased with the oration.
The Club decided to hold their next meeting on Friday of next week, instead of Tuesday (Christmas night) and we understand that the program committee have already arranged for a unique programme which will likely take the form of a mock trial. Already from the interest taken and enthusiasm displayed, the Club is beginning to improve and will no doubt prove a source of benefit to the young and beautiful orators.
The critic, Dr. H. Irvine, presented a fine summary criticism, witty and fundamental. Rev. E. Bishop, made a few brief remarks and gave the Club many clear-cut hints, which were much appreciated.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

"Uneasy is the tooth that wears a crown." My credit is so bad that I cannot even trust myself, and I can commit any crime from robbing an orphan asylum to editing a society paper." are some of the bright quips in the dialogue of "The Free Lance."
Owing to illness Forbes Robertson was recently out of the east in the production of the "Caesar and Cleopatra," his place being taken by an understudy to whom the New York critics look very kindly.
In May a special company will be organized to present "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" in London.
"Omar," the new musical play written for Frank Daniels, will be launched about February 15th.
Blanche Walsh will produce early in the year a new play by Clyde Fitch. This play is called "The Straight Road."
John Drew has scored one of his greatest successes in "His House in Order." The Pineroy play has already had over a hundred performances at the Empire theatre, New York.
Miss Lulu Glaser has acknowledged that she is to become the bride of Ralph C. Heras, an English actor, who was formerly leading comedian in her company.
Thomas Jefferson is planning to appear in Paris in "Rip Van Winkle" next summer. He will play the title role in French, supported by a French company.
After an absence of two years Signora Eleonora Duse made her reappearance in Berlin, November 10th, in Ibsen's "Rosmersholm," at the new Royal Opera House.
The play was Hamlet; and the performance was for one night only. All the town people attended the show, and the weekly paper was held open for the notice. The next day the criticism read thus: "Hamlet was played in our town hall last night by Mr. W. and his company. It was a great social event. There has been a long discussion as to whether Bacon or Shakespeare wrote the play commonly attributed to Shakespeare. It can be easily settled now. Let the graves of the two writers be opened. The one who turned over last night is the author."
NEW SCHOOL READERS.
Complete Set For All Grades are to be Issued Shortly.
The Government announced recently that whatever the result of the enquiry now being conducted by the Text Book Commission; it had been decided to have a complete new set of readers for all grades in the schools.
With the exception of the phonics primers published by Morang and the Canada Publishing Company, no new readers have been issued for a period of seventeen or twenty years. The Advisory Council will be asked to recommend subject matter for the new books, and the readers will be brought up to date both in regard to their contents and general get-up.
The Education Department have not yet decided what course to pursue when the interim agreement expires at the end of the present month.
Has Accepted New Territory.
Mr. A. H. Ross, of Guelph, who for the past five years has been on the road for the Raymond Co., makers of sewing machines and cream separators, has engaged for next year with the De Laval Cream Separator Co., of New York, and will have charge of the territory east of Montreal. Mr. Ross is well known here, having made Lindsay his headquarters and the Simpson house his stopping place for several years, and a large circle of friends will regret his transfer.

By Advice of Counsel.
(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
The magnate faced St. Peter.
"What sort of life have you led?" inquired the keeper of the gates.
The face of the magnate grew dull and stolid.
"I refuse to answer."
The gatekeeper slowly nodded.
"In that case," he said, "you had better consult your counsel before this goes any farther. He is waiting for you in the anteroom below."
Whereupon the saint pressed the button and the elevator platform upon which the magnate was standing dropped into the sulphurous depths.

ACQUIRED ANOTHER LIMIT.

Mr. John Carew Purchased an Extensive Block of Timber.
A few days ago, without any bonfire of trumpets or explosion of fire works, a deal was consummated between Jos Parkin and Mr. John Carew, lumberman, of this town, that is of considerable importance to Lindsay's business men.
The transaction was the purchase from Capt. Parkin of the latter's fine limit in the Squaw River district, Harvey township, comprising a block of 800 acres, heavily timbered. It is reported there is ten years' cutting for Mr. Carew's big Lindsay mill on the limit, hence our workmen may look forward to continued employment. The deal involved the payment of several thousand dollars.
