Here's an update on COVID-19 cases in Ontario as well as in the greater Kawarthas region.

A day after reporting the lowest number of new COVID-19 cases since the pandemic began (33), Ontario is reporting 95 new cases. Of the province's 34 public health units, 28 have reported five or fewer cases, with 16 of them reporting no new cases at all. The number of hospitalizations, ICU admissions, and patients on ventilators continues to decrease.

In the greater Kawarthas region, there are no new cases to report today in the Peterborough area, Kawartha Lakes, Northumberland, Haliburton, or Prince Edward and Hastings counties. In Peterborough, all cases of COVID-19 are now resolved, with all cases in Northumberland also now resolved.

Since the pandemic began, there have been 99 confirmed positive cases in the Peterborough area (97 resolved with 2 deaths), 177 in the City of Kawartha Lakes (156 resolved with 32 deaths), 26 in Northumberland County (26 resolved with no deaths), 15 in Haliburton County (12 resolved with no deaths), and 44 in Hastings County and Prince Edward County (38 resolved with 5 deaths). The most recent death was reported on May 7 by Hastings Prince Edward Public Health.

Province-wide, there have been 40,289 confirmed cases, an increase of 95 from yesterday's report, with 36,590 cases (90.8% of all cases) resolved, an increase of 134. There have been 2,787 deaths, and increase of 1 from yesterday, with 1,800 deaths reported in long-term care homes (no change from yesterday). A total of 2,468,640 tests have been completed, an increase of 24,572 from yesterday, with 22,054 tests under investigation, an increase of 7,377 from yesterday.

This report is based on data supplied by the province's integrated Public Health Information System (iPHIS), as well as any additional information supplied by health units. This information is at least 24 hours old, so it is not real-time data. Note that each health unit reports the information in a different way.
