KAWARTHA LAKES-Two Coronavirus patients are being released from Ross Memorial Hospital today after spending time in ICU.

The hospital had 7 Coronavirus patients but with two being discharged today that will leave five being treated at the Ross Memorial Hospital.

The hospital has 9 ICU beds and 8 ventilators. This will free up beds for possible transfer of patients from areas hard hit by the virus.

On Tuesday the Haliburton Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Unit reported zero new cases in Kawartha Lakes after many days of increasing numbers.
