

NEWS

'Concerning' rise of COVID-19 puts Kawartha hospitals in key support role

Hospitals have been told to be ready for patients

By Catherine Whitnall , Taylor Clysdale Kawartha Lakes This Week
Monday, January 18, 2021

The rise in COVID-19 cases in Ontario is becoming worrisome to hospitals, as modelling predicts increases could overwhelm intensive care units by Valentine's Day.

Hospitals in Kawartha Lakes and Peterborough are already planning around the provincial surge and dealing with patients from other areas.