“We, residents from across Haliburton County and the City of Kawartha Lakes, and friends, gathered together virtually, declare that we are of consensus that to fix long-term care, we need to...” so begins the Haliburton–City of Kawartha Lakes Declaration to Fix Long–Term Care, passed unanimously by some 50 residents from communities across the area at a virtual town hall meeting last week.

Hosted by the recently formed Haliburton–City of Kawartha Lakes Long–Term Coalition, the meeting included a presentation by Cathy Parkes of Canadians 4 National Standards.
