Here's an update on COVID-19 cases in Ontario as well as in the greater Kawarthas region.

With Ontario reporting 1,371 new cases today, the provincial government has announced four public health units will be moving to more restrictive levels in the province's colour-coded COVID-19 response framework: Sudbury and Lambton are moving into 'Grey-Lockdown', Northwestern is moving into 'Red-Control', and Leeds, Grenville and Lanark is moving into 'Yellow-Protect'. With the exception of Sudbury, which moves into its new level on March 13, the remaining changes take effect on March 15.
