

Dr. Doyle Answers a Question.

"In one of your stories in 'Round the Red Lamp,' doctor," said the reporter, "you say through the medium of Surgeon Walker that a doctor generally dies with the disease that he is especially interested in and has investigated thoroughly. Were you quite in earnest when you made that statement?"

"I am glad you asked that question," rejoined Mr. Doyle. "The story you mention, though it has been called horrible and other startling names by the critics, is the result of a large number of years of medical practice. I am thoroughly of the opinion that imagination as regards the existence of a disease can affect a doctor as well as the most susceptible of his patients."

"The story in question relates the life of Surgeon Walker, one of the greatest specialists in nervous diseases in the united kingdom. He addresses the students in the clinic on a horrible form of nervous disease and concludes his lecture by saying that the only method to determine the evidence of the disease is to close the eyes and endeavor to bring the heels together."

"Surgeon Walker suits the action to the word, but finds it impossible and the terrible truth is flashed to his mind that he is afflicted with the very disease he is explaining and which is a lingering one and in the way of exquisite torture could discount seven times any form of torture germinating in the agile brain of the Apache or Sioux Indians. The story is dramatic in a way of climax, for such a position could not be otherwise than horrible."

"The critics have said that I was stretching my imagination too far and all that but the story is founded on something more substantial than mere fancy. It has been the result of my observation that a great per cent of physicians and surgeons die of the very disease which they have so sedulously studied and investigated. I am glad that you asked that question, as I wanted the statement emphasized."

Mrs. J. F. Bell, Oconomowoc, Wis., wife of the editor of The Graphic, the leading local paper of Miami county, writes "I was troubled with heart disease for six years, severe palpitations, shortness of breath, together with such extreme nervousness, that, at times I would walk the floor nearly all night. We consulted the best medical talent."

They said there was no help for me, that I had organic disease of the heart for which there was no remedy. I had read your advertisement in The Graphic and a year ago, as a last resort, tried one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart, which convinced me that there was true merit in it. I took three bottles each of the Heart Cure and Restorative Nervine and it completely cured me. I sleep well at night, my heart beats regularly and I have no more smothering spells. I wish to say to all who are suffering as I did, there's relief untold for them if they will only give your remedies just one trial."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.00, 6 bottles for $5.00 or it will be sent prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
