Last week Thursday Chris Jorgensen, a native of Denmark, accompanied by Special Agent Mortough of the C. B. & Q. appeared before the police magistrate and entered a complaint against a party named Charles Scott for swindling the complainant out of $30, by means of the "three-card-monte" game, on the train passing through here and occurring in DuPage county. A warrant was issued and Officer Hoffert went to the city and brought out the accused who had been captured there and was confined in Central station. Both the accused and the prosecution wanting a continuance the examination was continued by agreement till 10 a. m. the 11th. The magistrate held the prisoner in bonds of $500 for his appearance and failing to give the bond he was committed to the county jail. On Friday Special Agent Mortough, accompanied by an attorney for the defense, appeared in court and the agent stated that the complainant had his ticket for Denmark and he was anxious to get away; that the accused, according to the witness, was not an active participant in the swindling, only being in the company of the "gang"; that the prosecution desired to withdraw the charge and enter another under the head of "disorderly conduct." The prisoner was brought into court, a new affidavit filed under the latter charge, costs paid and the witness's lost $30 refunded and the first charge dismissed. The prisoner pled guilty to the charge of "disorderly conduct," making the statement that he was not acquainted with the members of the gang, an entire stranger, simply at their request holding the stakes. The evidence of the prosecuting witness was weak, only that the accused was present during the game. The court fined the prisoner on his plea of guilty the sum of $25 and costs. The accused was a bright, sleek-looking young man and professed to be unsophisticated and innocent of intentional wrong-doing, and claimed to be without money. It was apparent to all that some parts of his story had a "fishy" flavor, as three-card-monte men are not in the habit of selecting an entire stranger for their treasurer, and somebody furnished the ready money to pay the costs, refund the Dene his $30, and pay the $25 fine.

Since Col. Sanford's return it has been hope against hope that his mind would improve, but he became worse and on Tuesday was taken to Elgin. His noble, loving wife has the sympathy of the entire community which hopes for his speedy recovery.—Illinoian.
Captain Rogers, member of the committee to inspect the soldiers' home at Quincy reports that they found the home in a very satisfactory condition; that Captain Kirkwood is a model superintendent and the 1200 inmates under his charge are well cared for. The committee recommended that the legislature make an appropriation to build two more cottages to provide for those who have already applied and cannot be provided with room at present. All the employees at present were appointed from among the inmates with the exception of four.
Some time since we stated in the REPORTER that Graham Burnham, who was engaged in working up the Downers Grove township map for Allen T. Russell, had "touched us for two dollars before leaving for parts unknown." Yesterday we received a letter from him enclosing a draft for $3.00 in payment of our claim in full, and take this means of giving the same publicity to the payment of the debt as we did in the item declaring it. Mr. Burnham further states that it will be only a question of a short time before all the debts—which he says in the aggregate amount to less than $30—contracted here by him will be liquidated to the last dollar. The gentleman has met in the last few years severe financial reverses and should his fallen fortunes mend we feel that his creditors will not be losers.

The jury in the case of the people vs. Art Godfrey, charged with assault, found him guilty and fined him three dollars and costs, although the evidence seemed to show that he was not the aggressor and that he got the most of the battering. If L. C. Brown who defended Godfrey, expects to make much of a success as a criminal lawyer he should get some cheap clerk to give him a few points on selecting a jury.
The dime sociable given by the ladies of the W. E. C. auxiliary to E. S. Kelly Post No. 515, G. A. R., at the house of M. E. Jones on Tuesday evening, Nov. 12th, was a pronounced success. Our band met with great success at Downers Grove in their concert. A large audience greeted them and every number was encored. Misses Irish, O'ney, Curtiss and Johnson were heartily received. The band and Lincoln Higgins brought down the house. It is stated that the concert was the talk of the town the next day.
Had it not been for our station agent C. C. Snow, another fatal accident would have occurred at the Washington street railroad crossing, Sunday afternoon. About five o'clock, a load of six yards started across the tracks and stopped in front of the west-bound mail train, but he was espyed by the station agent, who shouted to him to run on. This the boy did, just escaping a fat train which was coming from the west. Parents should be more careful about allowing young children to cross the railroad tracks alone.
As a result of injuries received in a runaway, A. Tully, a clerk for Fox & Davis, will be confined to his bed for a number of days. The accident occurred Tuesday afternoon, about four o'clock, at the north end of Washington street near the Fullerbury road. A broken shaft frightened the horse and caused him to run away despite the vigorous efforts to control him. The horse dashed down Lincoln's hill and the wagon was overturned and Tully thrown out. The load struck a rock, making a deep gash in the horse's side.
