TO THE BOY ORATOR OF THE PLATIQUES.
 I work for my bread, Mr. Bryan, I did all the hot summer days, Sometimes I am bating the hay, Where'er there's a show for a dollar, And the sweat runs down under my collar, And moistens the nice, mellow soil, Though anxious to work, I am idle, 'Tis often, too often, in your care, You go like a groom to the bridle, 'And ride, I've no doubt, on a pass; All groomed and bedecked and bedizened, In purple and brocade, and gold, And talk to the toilers, now wined, With hunger and sorrow and woe, From loungers and cushions and pillows, You go, with acclim on your ears, To gaze upon warring billows, Of faces all furrowed by tears, To charm from those faces the sorrow, To drive all the cares from their eyes, By painting a brilliant tomorrow, And laughing to scorn the today, What know you of heart-scaring labor, What dream you of sickening care? Perhaps you have looked at a neighbor Who wrought while you fondled your hair, I listened to you, Mr. Bryan, In purple and brocade, and gold, I prospered; my money was living In a bank which has since gone to smash, My wife, she was glad and contented; My children were well and contented, You came and you made me denuded, I voted my welfare away; You came and you wrought and you banded, An edifice as stable as sand, Alas, it was rottenness gilded, It toppled and fell in the sand, You told me such eloquent stories Of civic protection and duty, You painted free trade and its glories, So well that my credence was won, I did as you told me, my master; My children were well and contented, I voted in tears and disaster, And wretched old jobs by the day, I voted in hunger and sorrow, I voted in loss of my pay; I voted in want for tomorrow, And equal and rags for today, My wife, she is aged and weak as sand; My children no glad word have spoken For many and many a moon, Go forth, all bedecked and bedizened, And paint progress and duty and care, To cheer up the faces all wined, And drive from men's hearts the despair; Pick out all the lines that are pleasing, And mix them as well you know, To thaw out the hearts that are freezing, And raise thorny crowns from the brow, And spread you them thick or thin, The outcome will still be the same; The toilers will vote for McKinley, And send you back home whence you came, Your colors, though bright, cannot baffle the meteor of war, thick as sand; The charm of your "logic" will vanish When stern common sense takes command.—WALT MASON.

ORR AND TEMPLE
 Of Tecumseh, Mich., write us on Jan. 14th, 1896, that their order of Nov. 11, '92, consisting of 8 dozen in packages and a quantity in bulk of your Syrup Pepsin is all sold. HARVEST EXCURSIONS.
 Burlington Route.
 On August 4, 18, September 1, 15, 29, and October 6, 20, all C. Take this opportunity to go and see the splendid crops that Nebraska, Northern Kansas and other western sections have produced this year. Send for a pamphlet (no charge) about western farm lands to P. S. Eastis, Gen'l Passenger Agent, C. B. & Q. R. R., Chicago, Ill.
SUMMER VACATION TOURS.
 To Colorado and the Yellowstone Park. The Burlington route (C. B. & Q.) have arranged for five personally conducted tours in private Pullman cars, through the most interesting parts of the west. Leave Chicago and St. Louis June 23, July 7, 14, 21, and 28. The price of a ticket covers all expenses, and the amount is considerable less than what it would cost one to make the trip alone. A special agent accompanies each party, and attends to all details. For particulars, call on C. B. & Q. ticket agent, or write for a descriptive pamphlet to T. A. Grady, Manager Tours Department, C. B. & Q. R. R., 211 Clark St., Chicago.

THAT TIRED FEELING.
 About which newspaper jokers write so much is with most of us, at times, an actual condition and not to be laughed at. It is the result of long neglect and misuse of the stomach and bowels. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin comes in and removes this feeling and life again seems worth living. Try a 10c bottle (10 doses 10 cents) of W. S. Carpenter.
