

TRY TO EVADE INSPECTORS

CAR OF LUMPY JAW CATTLE CAUSE TROUBLE FOR WM. DANIELS.

ANIMALS CONDEMNED BY AUTHORITIES

Daniels Ships the Animals in Jake Klein's Name Without His Knowledge or Consent.

A car load of cattle arrived at Downers Grove station Tuesday noon, billed to Jake Klein, from Wm. Daniels at King's Station. The car was delayed enroute at Naperville and there came under the observation of Assistant State Veterinarian Fry at that place, who discovered that the entire lot, numbering fifteen head, were affected with lumpy jaw. Fry immediately came to Downers Grove and quarantined the car, subsequently notifying Chairman C. D. Bartlett of the state live stock commission, who came out Wednesday morning; and condemned and seized the animals and shipped them to Chicago, where they will be killed Saturday, and inspected, and those found infected with the disease converted into soap grease.

Wm. Daniels, the man in whose name the stock was shipped to Klein, also came out Wednesday morning and claimed the stock. He is a scalper at the stockyards at Chicago, and is a notorious offender in handling this class of stock. His address is 4438 Emerald Ave. He stated to a reporter representative that his intention in shipping them here, billed to Jake Klein, was to avoid suspicion, which would have arisen had the car been billed to himself, a stranger. His object was to drive the stock from here to Chicago and there kill them at some slaughter house without being inspected at the yards, which they would have been subject to had he shipped direct to Chicago. Daniels admitted he was fairly caught and said that in billing the car to Klein he had no thought of making trouble for Klein and emphatically denied that Klein had anything to do with the matter. Daniels went before Justice Mackie and made affidavit to the effect that the cattle were shipped to Klein without his knowledge or consent and that the cattle were to be taken out of the county and were not intended for Klein and that he, Daniels, had never shipped Klein this class of stock, before." His testimony cleared Klein of any complicity in the deal.

C. D. Bartlett the inspector, told the writer that on numerous previous occasions Daniels had been caught in affairs of this nature. The live stock commission had broken up his business in Chicago and would now devote its attention to Daniels' country operations. Chairman Bartlett is of the opinion that Daniels is the agent of a stock feeder named King, at King's station, from which point the car was shipped.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

Annual union Thanksgiving services will be held this year in the Congregational church, on that day. The services this year will be held at 7 o'clock in the evening. Rev. Truman R. Green will deliver the sermon. The Congregational choir will furnish music. It is hoped and expected that large numbers will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend these services of praise and thanksgiving. The day is distinctly an American institution and should appeal strongly to all Americans, and the spirit of the observance of the day should especially be thoroughly inculcated in the minds of the youthful generation.

"Q" ENDEAVOR CONVENTION.

Last Thursday evening a successful convention of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the "Q" Division was held in Grossdale. There was a large attendance of delegates from "along the line," and the program was one of singular merit and interest. E. A. Pollock was most nappy in his address of welcome. The five-minute talks throughout the program were brimful of bright thoughts, and the music was especially fine, calling forth much applause. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Watts of Millard avenue; vice-presidents, H. H. Rood of Downers Grove; Ed Mercham of Crawford; secretary, W. B. La Nicca of LaGrange; treasurer, Miss Thompson of Berwyn; junior superintendent, Mrs. F. K. Vail of Lyonsville; mission superintendent, Miss Annie Dellefson, Grossdale. The Crawford society of the Congregational church, Grossdale, received the banner for the largest percentage of delegates present.

The continuous vaudeville performances of the New Olympic Theater, at the popular prices of 10, 20 and 30 cents, are drawing immense crowds of people. Beginning daily at 12:30 o'clock and lasting without any intermission until 10:30 at night, those who for any reason are unable to spend an entire afternoon or a whole evening at a place of amusement are afforded opportunity of witnessing a high-class programme of musical, comedy and novel specialty acts by coming to the Olympic's continuous performance at any hour they please, remaining just as long as they want to and going home at any time they wish. The bill for the week commencing Monday noon Nov. 16, includes the Edgy family of athletes, in an entertaining exhibition of parlor athletics and graceful gymnastics; Fred Hallen and Molly Fuller, who last season were stars in "The 20th Century Girl" presenting a clever and up-to-date burlesque sketch; the Rosows, midjet athletes, and many others, whose mysterious tests of strength have caused a sensation wherever seen.

SECOND ANNUAL BALL.

K. of P. Arranging for a Big Party Thanksgiving Eve.

The Knights have about completed all arrangements for their second annual ball to be held in the Auditorium Thanksgiving Eve—next Wednesday evening. Those fortunate enough to secure invitations can look forward to an evening of rare enjoyment. The Baraglia Orchestra of Chicago, has been engaged for the evening. In addition to the dancing, supper will be served in the basement after 10 o'clock. The hall will be prettily decorated, the K. of P.'s colors, red, blue and yellow will be conspicuously shown. The program is composed of eighteen numbers.

RATIFICATION DECLARED OFF.

It was decided by the executive committee of the McKinley club at its meeting last Saturday evening to abandon the idea of holding a ratification meeting next Saturday evening. This was decided upon partially because of the uncertainty of the weather, and also because of the lateness of the date decided upon. This will no doubt be a great disappointment to a large number who were looking forward to having a joyful time next Saturday.

A FALSE ALARM.

An alarm of fire was turned in Saturday evening. Smoke was issuing from the Congregational church and it was for a time thought that edifice was on fire. Investigation developed the fact that a chimney stop had blown out in the basement and that the smoke was pouring into the building, the janitor having but shortly before started a fire in the furnace. No damage resulted, inasmuch as the smoke had not penetrated the audience room.

MARRIED.

At Naperville, Wednesday, Nov. 19th, by the Rev. Mr. Warren, George Barr to Miss Pearl Ary both of Downers Grove. New dictionaries have recently been placed on the reference tables of the High School and one or two other rooms. Thanks, gentlemen of the board.

With the permission of the board, the teachers spent last Wednesday visiting schools. The greater part of the time was spent in the Austin schools, where some very good work was observed.

The subjects of Prof. Richards' lectures are as follows: December 3, "The World Builders and their Relations to Oxygen." December 4, "The Wonders of the Water, Chemically Considered." December 5, "Atmospheric Electricity."

Many of our teachers attended the meeting of the Cook County Teachers' association in the city, last Saturday. Prof. McClintock of the Chicago University is delivering a series of intensely interesting lectures before the association, on story telling in literature.

Prof. Richards has had twenty-five years of experience as a scientific lecturer, and is well known from Maine to Colorado as a skillful manipulator of all the various and complicated apparatus used by him in his lectures. In fact, most of his apparatus has been designed by him expressly for use on the platform, and is therefore well adapted to the purpose for which it is used." December 3, 4 and 5, at the Auditorium.
