G. A. R. CAMPFIRE A SUCCESS.

The Grand Army campfire packed the Auditorium to its full capacity last Saturday evening. The occasion was enjoyed alike by the old veterans and their friends. The audience led by Capt. Oscar Knight opened the exercises by singing "America," General J. H. Stibbs followed with one of his pleasing recitations. Of course he was encored and at various times during the evening presented several pleasing selections, in the only original Stibbs manner, Maj. E. A. Blodgett followed in an impromptu speech, which was attentively listened to. Col. Jas. A. Sexton, well known in Downers Grove, made an appropriate address, which was well received. Capt. ### HINSDALE.

Miss Mason of Aurora, has been engaged permanently as the principal of South Main street, near the stand pipe the Hinsdale high school. Owing to illness she was unable to assume her tee. position until Wednesday.

Street numbers are bound to come and several of the merchants have already placed their respective numbers on the front of their buildings. This is an excellent example for the resident to follow and every house should have its number before the first of May. L. Briggs who has been circulating a petition among the Fifth street property owners for the improvement of that street by paving, reports that nearly all the frontage has consented. There is a divided opinion as to the nature of the pavement, some desiring macadam and others cedar blocks. The favorite pavement and the one that will unquestionably be chosen is vitrifled brick.

The night school still flourishes and the attendance remains very high, although there are only fifty pupils in attendance at present. The fact that fifty men and women, who are working during the day, are willing to spend three evenings a week in the pursuit of knowledge, speaks well for the laboring membered that when the school started there were over 100 pupils enrolled, prises, many deserted the school after stood by the school are persons who really desire learning, and to them is due the warmest praise.
