A BARTERED LIFE

BY MARION HARLAND.

CHAPTER II .- (CONTINUED.) nothing else for eight years-dreams liberty to speak out what she had ulcher for one's better and real self. A path lay open to her feet-a short and one! If this step should be ruin and Elnathan Withers' arms. misery, there can be no redemption this side of the grave. His grave, perhaps—just as probably mine!"

To-night, this very hour, she must resist the glittering temptation to fore-

swear her womanhood, or murder, with her own hand, the dear visions that had come to be more to her than reality. The winter twilight had fallen early. It was the season best loved by her dream visitors. She had not lied in declaring to her inquisitor that she had never been in love, but she confessed she had equivocated as shadowy figure ideal lover stood beside her in the Dight's travel, and dispirited almost befriendly gloom. Mrs. Romaine would youd her power of concealment, but she have questioned her sanity had she bad learned already that her lord disguessed how the girl had sobbed her liked to have whatever observation he griefs into quiet upon his bosom, how was pleased to make go unanswered. talked lowly but audibly to him of her | "She is your housekeeper, I suppose?" love and the comfort his presence she replied, languidly. brought. She had never looked into spirit. Somewhere in the dim and Field." blessed future he was waiting for her. and she had borrowed patience from the hope. She was to be his wife—the hers at last. If she resigned them now she has superintended my domestic afit was a final separation.

"And I can have but one lifetime." less thus far, but still all she had.

persistency of a presentiment. The life more engrossing topics of conversawhich God had given, the heart He had tion." He raised her gloved hand to his endowed!

"If some one, stronger and wiser than smiled constrainedly in reply. in on the right and left, I would go more ardent bridegroom would have ther. forward. As it is, I dare not! I dare been were yet frequent enough to keep not!" She sobbed and wrung her hands his wife in unfalling remembrance of one day a short skit intended to be in the agonies of irresolution.

plainly through the open register.

Mr. Withers," said Mrs. Romaine. She and in business circles was too proerate precision even in conjugal tetea-tete.

the evening paper as Charles laid it down, and the creak of his chair as he nacious in the extreme of his dignity confronted his wife. "What is the mat- and the respect he considered due to ty and propriety of reciprocal devotion, I believe. She looks for a hero in a husband, and Mr. Withers has nothing heroic in his appearance or composition."

"He is worth more than half a million, all accumulated by his own talents and industry," returned Mr. Romaine. "Constance cannot be such an egregious simpleton as not to perceive the manifest advantages of this connection to her. I have never complained of the burden of her maintenance, but I have often wondered her own sense of ly, who ruled and who obeyed. She justice and expediency did not urge her had given up so much within three to put forth some effort at self-support. There is but one way in which she can do this. She is not sufficiently thorough in any branch of literature, she could sustain no further loss. How or any accomplishment, to become a successful teacher. In the event of my death or failure in business she would be driven to the humiliating resource of taking in sewing for a livelihood, or to seek the more degrading position of a saleswoman in a store. Her future has been a source of much and anxious thought with me. This marriage would, I hoped, quiet my apprehensions by settling her handsomely in life. If she refuses Withers I shall be both angry and disappointed. She is old enough to leave off school-girl sentimentality." the register noiselessly. She had had a surfeit of disagreeable truth for that time.

She was a mean-spirited hanger-on to | this, reactionary weariness. How she

INTERNATIONAL FRESS ASSOCIATION

her brother. She was incapable o She had kept her heart alive upon earning a livelihood by other means than those he had named. Her mode of of home, and love, and appreciation; of life from her infancy had unfitted her for toil and privation, such as must be never lisped since her mother died, and hers were her plain-spoken benefacof being once again, joyously and with- tor to die to-morrow. Nor had she the out reserve, herself. There are no moral nerve to defy public opinion, to harder specters to lay than these same | debar herself from accustomed associadreams. Memories, however dear and tions and pleasures by entering the sacred, are more easily forgotten or ranks of paid laborers. Hesitation was dismissed, or smothered by the growth at an end. The wish that had been alof later ones. If she bade them fare- most a prayer in solemn sincerity was well now, it was for a lifetime. "A answered fearfully soon, and she lifetime!" she repeated, shivering with | would offer no appeal. Her destiny a sick chill, and crouching lower over was taken out of her hands. There was the register. "Maybe ten, maybe no more responsibility, no more strugtwenty-who knows but forty years? It gling. Hedges to the right and to the is a tedious slumber of one's heart, and left bristled with thorns, sharp and a loveless marriage is a loathsome sep- thick as porcupine quills. But one lifetime! and I can have but one! But straight course that conducted her to

CHAPTER III.

ALF past five! wrote to Harriet to have dinner ready at six. We shall be just in time," said Mr. Withers, as he took his seat in the carriage that was to convey him with his bride from the depot to their home.

Constance was jaded by her fort-

"No-that is-she does not occupy the his face, but she should know him in position of a salaried inferior in my an instant should they two ever meet establishment. I must surely have in the flesh, as they did now daily in spoken to you of my cousin, Harriet

"Not that I recollect. I am sure that I never heard the name until now."

"Her mother," continued Mr. Withmother of children as unlike the prodi- 'ers, in a pompous narrative tone, "was gies of repression that lined two sides my father's sister. Left a widow ten of her brother's table as cherubs to years prior to her decease, she acceptpuppets. She welcomed them to her ed my invitation to take charge of my arms in these twilight trances. They house. She brought with her only folled upon her knees, slept in her em- bild the Harriet of whom I speak, and brace, strained eager arms about her the two remained with me until our neck, dappled her cheek with their family group was broken in upon by kisses. Unsubstantial possessions death. Harriet would then have these, but cherished as types of good sought a situation as governess but things to come. Other women had such for my objections. She is a woman of riches-women with faces less fair and thirty-five, or thereabouts, and I preaffections less ardent than hers. If vailed over her scruples touching the the Great Father was good and merci- propriety of her continued residence ful, and the Rewarder of them who put under my roof, by representing that their trust in Him, a true and loving her mature age, even more than our parent, who rejoiced in the happiness relationship, placed her beyond the of His creatures—all these must be reach of scandal. For eighteen months fairs to my entire satisfaction. That I have not alluded directly to her before she moaned again. Thwarted and fruit- during our acquaintanceship is only to be accounted for by the circumstance The one idea recurred to her with the that we have had so many other and lips in stiff gallantry, and Constance would only take the responsibility of His endearments, albeit he was less told to me a few days ago, says a writer decision from my soul, would hedge me profuse of them than a younger and in the New York Commercial Adverhis claims and her duties. He was, ap-"You told Constance about the tele- parently, content with her passive sub- ment from her circle of friends and gram?" It was her brother speaking in | mission to these, seemed to see in her | she made up her mind that it was good the library below. The sound arose forced complaisance evidence of her enough to be published in one of the pleasure in their reception. He was too "I did. But I regret to say that she is sedate, as well as too gentlemanly, to not yet in the frame of mind we could be openly conceited, but his appreciawish her to carry to the interview with | tion of his own importance in society always expressed herself with delib- found to admit a doubt of the supreme bliss of the woman he had selected to share his elevated position. Without "No?" Constance heard the rustle of being puppyish, he was pragmatical; without being ill-tempered, he was tethie. Had her mood been lighter Con-"Some overstrained ideas of the beau- stance would have been tempted to smile at the allusion to his cousin's age. his own exceeding it by three years, as she had accidentally learned through the indiscretion of a common acquaint ance. He was sensitive upon this point she had likewise been informed. She had yet to discover upon how many

Most young wives would not have relished the idea of finding this invaluable relative installed as prime manager in her new abode. It mattered little to her, Constance said, still languidmonths past that resignation had become a habit; sacrifice was no longer an effort. Having nothing to hope for, long this nightmare of apathy would continue was a question that did not present itself in her gray musings. Having once conquered Nature, and held Inclination under the heel of Resolve, until life seemed extinct, she anticipated no resurrection. She did not know that no single battle, however long and bloody, constitutes a campaign; that length of days and many sorrows are needed to rob youth of elasticity; that the guest who lingers longest in the human heart, clinging going to wear?" to the shattered shelter from which all other joys have flown, is Hope. It is The listener put out her foot and shut | doubtful if she thought with any distinctness at this period. She was certainly less actively miserable than in | gest." that which immediately preceded her Yet it was truth, every word of it. engagement. That was amputation; would fare by and by, when the wound had become a scar, she thought of least of all.

It was a handsome carriage in which she rode at the master's right hand. A pair of fine horses pranced before it, and a liveried coachman sat on the box. She had sometimes envied other women the possession of like state. She ought to derive delight from these outward symbols of her elevation in the world. It was an imposing mansion, too, before which the equipage presently paused, and a tall footman opened the front door and ran briskly down to the sidewalk to assist the travelers in alighting. None of her associates, married or single, lived in equal style, she reflected with a stir of exultation, as she stepped out, between her husband and his lackey.

Mr. Withers' address dampened the rising glow. "This is our home, my dear. You will find no cause of discontent with it, I hope," he said, in benign patronage, handing her up the noble flight of stone "Thank you," she replied, coldly. "It is a part of the price for which I sold myself," she was meditating. "I must not quarrel with my bargain." Miss Field met them in the hall-a wasp-like figure, surmounted by a small head. Her neck was bare and crane-like; her face very oval, her skin opaque and chalky; her hair black and shining, the front in long ringlets; her eyes jet beads, that rolled and twinkled incessantly.

ly embracing her patron's hand and winking back an officious tear. "It is like sunshine to have you home again. How are you?"

should say, in tolerable health," returned Mr. Withers, magnificently condescending. "Allow me to introduce my wife, Mrs. Withers!"

Miss Field swept a flourishing courtesy. Constance, as the truer lady of the two, offered her hand. It was grasped very slightly, and instantly relinguished.

"Charmed to have the honor, I am sure!" murmured Miss Field. "I trust I see Mrs. Withers quite well? But you, cousin-did I understand you to intimate that you were indisposed?" with strained solicitude.

"A trifling attack of indigestion, not worth mentioning to any ears excepting yours, my good nurse."

Miss Field smiled indulgence in this concession to her anxiety, and Constance, who now heard of the "indisposition" for the first time, looked from one to the other in surprised ai-

"Perhaps Mrs. Withers would like to go directly to her apartments?" pursued Harriet, primly, with another courtesy.

"By all means," Mr. Withers replied for her. "As it is, I fear your dinner will have to wait for her, if, as I presume is the case, you are punctual as is your custom."

"Could I fail in promptitude upon this day of all others?" queried Harriet, sentimentally arch, and preceded the bride upstairs.

( CHURITKOD BE OT)

HER CONTRIBUTION ACCEPTED. Her Brother Pald for It at Advertising Rates.

Here is the amusing experience of an amateur literary aspirant which was

A young woman in New York wrote humorous. It aroused favorable comhumorous periodicals. Accordingly she submitted it to first one periedical then another. It was a brief skit, only about fifty lines in all, and, as her brother indulgently said, "couldn't possibly have done any harm." But still the hard-hearted editors failed to see the humor of it and kept sending it back to her. Finally the young author lost heart completely and was about to bury her poor little skit in the depths of her portfolio. Then her brother took pity on her and said:

"Here, give me your skit. I'll get it published or know the reason why." A week or two later her skit appeared in one of the humorous papers. and the young contributor enjoyed all the delights of first authorship, sending marked copies of the paper to friends, etc., etc. The contribution did not occupy a prominent place. It was among the advertisements, but the author had seen many comics among the advertisements and she was too contented to see her contribution in type to inquire farther. She never knew what that twinkle in her brother's eyes meant and that he had paid full advertising rates to insert her skit in "fifty Hnes space, single column, one inser-

Before and After. "Do you really think he knows very

"My dear, sir; he knows as much as the average politician thinks he

"As much as he thinks he knows before or after the nomination?"

The Finishing Touches. Husband (to wife in full evening dress)-"My stars! Is that all you are Wife (calmly)-"All, except the flowers. Which of these clusters would you select?" Husband (resignedly)-"The big-

The man who don't forget ennything isn't a going to learn mutch more.

MOUNTAINS OF COLORADO.

Where Are You Going This Summer? Now that summer is here, and warm weather is near at hand, the great number of people who have acquired the habit of spending the "hot spell" in some cooler place than home, are beginning to plan as to where they will go. It has been demonstrated that people living in high altitudes should go to the seashore, and people living in low altitudes should go to the mountains; and "the mountains" has come fortunate difficulty." It is believed the to mean Colorado, because there is found more in the way of recreation this theory of the case.—Washington and pleasure than in any other locality. | Post. It would fill much space to name the many places which possess attractions, but any of the many points on the Denver & Rio Grande railway will be found pleasing to tourists. Trout fishing is probably the most enjoyable sport to be pursued, because it can be had with less trouble, annoyance and expense than any other, but the sportsman who is willing to undertake the extra hardships of going after bear, deer, elk and other wild animals that abound, can satisfy his ambition to the fullest extent. Those who prefer less laborious amusement for the summer, as a visit, at the springs, resorts, etc., can be equally well pleased at the numerous places of the kind. For those who wish to unite business with pleasure, is open the opportunity of prospecting or investing in Colorado mines, and in this direction no place promises such flattering returns. The mining interests, while having already yielded enormous wealth, are only in | be in the world, 26,000 are in Germany, "My dear cousin!" she cried, effusive- their infancy, and every day shows the discovery of rich values never before suspected, and it is becoming proverbial that the "tenderfoot" "strikes it" as frequently as the practical miner. "Well-thank you, Harriet; or, I The latter looks only for the particular rock that he knows bears fruit. while the former tests everything be finds and often discovers the mineral where the "old timer" has run over it. You will make no mistake in going to Colorado for your summer outing. F. P. Baker.

Where the Trouble Was. "Brother," said the minister, "you should try to be content with what you have.

"I am," said the brother, who had been grumbling. "It is what I ain't got that I am dissatisfied about."-Cincinnati Enquirer.

Very Low Rates to the West and South. On May 18, the North-Western Line will sell Home Seekers' excursion tickets, with favorable time limit, to numerous points in the West and South at exceptionally low rates. For tickets and full information apply to agents Chicago & Northwestern Railway.

Inconvenient Ears. "How's your arm?" asked Tommy of the young man who calls at the house. "It's all right. Why?"

"'Cause I heard mother tell sister that she peeked into the parlor the other night and saw your arm out of place."-Detroit Free Press.

A Stern Race.

Frances-Yes, he is pursuing literature. Gertrude-Indeed! And is he very successful? Frances-No. It is still a long way ahead of him.-Cleveland Leader.

Wanted. I will pay the highest price for Dry Goods or Boot and Shoe stocks. Geo. A. Joslyn, Omaha, Neb.

DRY GOODS STOCKS

One cod-liver oil manufacturer in the Lofoden islands, Norway, employs 70,000 persons.

A package of PERUVIANA, the best kidney cure on earth, sent FREE to any sufferer if written for promptly. Peruviana Remedy Co., 286 Fifth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

anted by a solftary pauper. No-To-Bac for Fifty Cents.

The Summit (Me.) poor farm is ten-

Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes weak men strong, blood pure. 50c, $1. All druggists.

Carson now knows how to sympathize with Canton.

A Wonderful Statement

From Mrs. McGillas to Mrs. Pinkham.

I think it my duty, dear Mrs. Pinkham, to tell you what your wonderful Compound has done for me.

I was dreadfully ill-the doctors said they could cure me but failed to do I gave up in despair and took to my bed. I had dreadful pains in my heart. faintingspells, sparks before my my eyes-times I would get so blind, I could not see for several minutes. a I could not stand very long without feeling sick and vomiting. I could not breathe a long breath without screaming, my heart pained so. I also had female weakness, inflammation of ovaries, painful menstrustion, displacement of the womb, itching of the external parts, and ulceration of the womb. I have had all these complaints.

The pains I had to stand were something dreadful. My husband told me to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine, which I did, and after taking it for a while, was cured. No other kind of medicine for me as song as you make Compound. I hope every woman who suffers will take your Compound and be sured .-- Mrs. J. S. McGillas. 113 Kilburn avenue, Bockford, Ill.

Social Evolution.

Think of the breaking down of barriers of distance by land and sea, of the thousand beacon lights of knowledge, of the growth of spiritual life, the leavening power this is exerting. Realize the marvelous social evolution of our age.—Rev. Henry F. Milligan.

An Unfortunate Difficulty. A South Carolina correspondent describes the murder of a man as an "undeceased's family will readily accept Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away. To quit tobacco easily and forever, be mag-netic, full of life, nerve and vigor, take No-To-Bac, the wonder-worker, that makes weak men strong. All druggists, 50c. or $1. Cure guaran-teed. Bookiet and sample free. Address Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York.

The whiskers of the walrus extend three or four inches from the snout. It would appear that the walrus aims to be the populist of the sea.-Boston Transcript.

. Hall's Catarrh Cure Is a constitutional cure. Price, 75c.

population is $4.75 in France and $3.50 in Germany. I never used so quick a cure as Piso's

The army expenses per head of the

Cure for Consumption.-J. B. Palmer. Box 1171, Seattle, Wash., Nov. 25, 1895. Of the 51,000 breweries estimated to

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All Druggists refund the money if it falls to cure. 250 A man to rule a woman must be strong enough not to use his strength. To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c.

If C. C. C. fall to cure, druggists refund money. Competition does not amount to much unless it is red hot.

Megeman's Camphor Ice with Glycerine. The original and only genuine. Cures Chapped Hands and Face, Cold Seres, &c. C.G.Clark & Co., N. Haven, Ct.

The mound builders of the Mississippi valley were not fools. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflam-mation, allays pain, ourse wind colic. It cepts a bottle, Life has its ups and downs as well as its dead levels.

that almost any women can marry any men she makes up her mind to. Whether this is truth or fiction, certainly a woman chooses her husband oftener than he knows it. But she must play the negative part. She can only make herself as attractive as possible in a modest, womanly way and rely upon human nature and manly

A sensible man naturally seeks a wholesome-looking, healthy, capable companion. Men are not unselfish enough to willingly assume the care of a weak, nervous, debilitated wife.

instinct.

Men are not attracted by a sallow, pimply complexion, foul breath, or thin, emaciated form, because these symptoms are the sure index of poor digestion and impoverished

A woman afflicted by these mortifying miseries should seek the powerful, purifying and nutrimental influence of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which completely dispels all unwholesome appearances by clearing and renovating the organic sources of healthful vitality.

It helps the liver to filter all bilious impurities from the blood. It gives the digestive organs power to extract nourishment from the food. It rounds out thin forms wipes away wrinkles, and gives to the complexion its natural clearness and bloom.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me writes Mrs. Selia Riccs, of Coast, Santa Cruz Co. Cal. "Boils one after another would break out on my arms, and were very painful. I have tried the loudly praised Sarsaparillas without any beneat whatever, and not until I took your 'Discovery did I get well. That was two years ago, and have not had a boil or sore of any kind since."

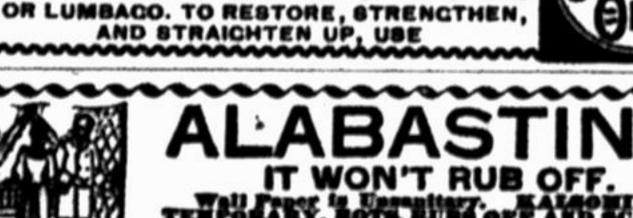

FREE After learning we furnis you work at good wages; ti

W. N. U. CHICAGO, NO. 19, 1897

When Answering Advertisments Kindly Mention This Paper.

THE MAIN MUSCULAR SUPPORTS OF THE BODY WEAKEN AND LET GO UNDER

MO I IN lar by mixing in cold water. For Sale by Paint Dealers Everywhere. EE A Tint Card showing 13 desirable tints, also Alabastine Souvenir Rock sent free to any one mentioning , his paper.

ALABASTINE CO., Grand Rapids, Mich. ·····

-your advertisement?

I thought that it was probably like the announcements of many other makers of harvesting machinery -big blow and little shows but I'm ready to surrender; go ahead, gentlemen, you're all right; I bought one of your binders last season and it is equal to any claim you ever made for it."

This is the condensed essence of what Mr. Thomas Carney, of Washington Court House, Ohio, has to say about the McCormick Right Hand Open Elevator. The claims made for McCormick Machines are Machines are so constructed that strong claims for them are justified. chine you want will cost you more than the other kind, for the simple reason that it is worth more: that's all - there's no other reason - and in the end you'll be glad you paid the difference, because there's nothing cheaper than the best.

> McCormick Harvesting Machine Company, Chicago, The Light-Running McCormick Open Rievator Harvester,
> The Light-Running McCormick New 4 Steel Mower,
> The Light-Running McCormick Vertical Corn Binder and
> The Light-Running McCormick Daisy Reaper, for sale everywhere.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER

Beautifies and restores Gray Hair to its original color and vitality; prevents baldness cures itching and dandruff. A fine hair dressing. R. P. Hall & Co., Props., Nashua, M. H. Sold by all Druggists.

Examination and Advice as to Patentability of In-vention. Sent for "Inventory Guide, or How to Gata Patent." O'FARRELL & SOR, Washington, S. G.

