LAST MONTH

Of the Tennessee Centennial and Industrist Exposition.

The menth of October closes this greatest of all Expositions ever held in the South, and next to the Columbian, the best ever held in this country. For the closing month, special attractions have been arranged, and the rates from all parts of the country have been made lower than ever before known. The location (Nashville. Tenn.) is on the main line of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, directly on its through car route between the North and South, and the trip in either direction via that city can be made as cheaply, if not cheaper, than via any other route. Ask your ticket agent for rates, or write to C. P. Atmore, General Passenger Agent, Louisville, Ky., for rates and information.

"What's His Name?"

There is a characteristic anecdote of the nomination of Pierce for the presidency. It was before the days of the telegraph and a crowd had gathered in Boston, eagerly waiting news from the convention. A well known democratic stump speaker was mounted on a barrel delivering a speech on the principles of the democratic martyr when suddenly a man was seen running toward the crowd and waving his hat and on reaching it be shouted, "The convention has nominated Frank Pierce of New Hampshire for next president." "Three cheers for him!" shouted the orator; "he's the very best man in the democratic ranks." Then, as the cheers were being given, he bent down to the breathless messenger with the inquiry: "What did you say the name

SAFE ROUTE TO THE KLONDIKE.

The Steamship Columbia, of the Columhia Navigation and Trading Company, will sail from New York December 1 for St. Michael, by way of Magellan Straits. reaching the former place about the middle of May. As soon as the Yukon River opens the passengers will be transferred to the river boats and conveyed to Dawson city, thus making the entire journey by water. Those who prefer can take the steamer at San Francisco or Sentile. The advantages of this method of reaching the Klondike over all other routes are manifest. The chief one of course, is that the passenger is assured of reaching the Klondike within a reasonable time and at a definite cost, as the company guarantees. for a stated -um, to deliver the passenger at Dawson City. Those who go by steamer to Skagaway or Dyes and theuce over the dangerons mountain passes have no way of ascertaining the cost beforehand. to say nothing of baving any magrance of reaching their destination at all, as these routes are fraught with hardships and perils that might well make themost vigorous and hardy hexitate before under taking them. Havmond and Whiteomb, who have offices in New York, Beston, Philadelphia and Chicago, and the principal cities, are general agents for this company, and are now reserving accommodations and can give those interested informateur regarding the Kloudtke,

At Ills Word.

Many post-office matter are queer snough to make one desire an explanation of them. Sometimes the explanatton is quester than the name itself. A minister in Cars county wrote to Washington in behalf of the residents of a growing hamlet, taking that a postoffice be added to its institutions. The request was favorably received. and he was asked to suggest a name that would be acceptable to his neighbors. He replied that they were not hard to please, so long as the name was peculiar. The protoffice department took him at his word, and "Peculiar" is the name of the office to this day .-Kansas City Journal.

connected with the queen's inbilee. A Londoner was repreaching the owner of a house on the route of the great procession with having let it for the day to a citizen of the United States. "It is disgraceful!" he said, indignantly. The queen graciously offers to show herself to a certain number of her London subjects, and they promptly let their windows and go to another part of the town. It is disloya!!" "Disloyal!" replied the house-letter, "Just the contrary. We do it for the puropse of having as many portraits of our sovereign as possible—and all in gold."

Several Persons Killed and Many Hurt in a Theater.

TIMBERS FALL FROM THE ROOF. 1.326.

Three Known to Have Been killed and Two Score Injured Taken to the Hospital - Slight Warning Enables Hundreds to Make Their Escape.

The ceiling in Robinson's opera house at Cincinnati the evening of Oct. 15 caused the death of the following persons: Mrs. George Kleeman, Miss Lucy Cohen, unknown man.

The following are at the hospital more or less seriously hurt: Della Algeir, Daisy Fairhead, Mrs. J. Fairhead, S. E. Long, Mary Scudder of Newport, Pearl Hall, Grace Connors, C. J. Weiss, Will Moten, Joseph Algeir, John Algeir, Fred Jenks, scalp wounded, T. C. Wiley of Dayton, Ky., W. J. McCabe, Clint Deal, Jacob Weil, Mary Hess, John White, Amelia Well, Mary Howe, Mary Moorman.

The ceiling of the theater was in the shape of a dome, which was formed by rafters rising from walks of the theater and jointed in the center of the ceiting by a circular bar of iron. This bar was fastened to the roof of the house by iron rafters, the whole forming the inside shell of the theater. This whole mass was precipitated upon the heads of the spectators. The preliminary cracking and a slight shower of loose plaster gave a short warning, being enough, however, to enable many to get under the seats and thus save them-Relves

The gallery, balcony and dress circle were untouched, but the occupants of these, fearing that the worst was yet to come, rushed from the building, and burnishings, with a debt of $220,000. many were crushed and trampled upon as they aftempted to get out.

All the lights in the theater were at once extinguished by the breaking of the main electric wice. It was half an hour before any light could be turned on inside and during all this time the groans and moons of the injured increased to a heart-rending extent. The search for the wounded was carried on at first by means of hand lantern, and was necessarily very above it was fully an hour and a balf after the acelden; before the last body was lakelt from the debris
