LOSES EEL RIVER LINE.

Indiana Wins Long Contested Sult Against

By a decision of the Indiana Supreme court at Indianapolis the state wil take possession of the Eel River road. Attorney-General Taylor declares that under the decision an effective antitrust law can be enacted by the legislature. The court affirmed the case from Howard county, in which the state sought to throw the Eel River railroad, which had been absorbed into the Wabash system, into a receivership, claiming the Wabash destroyed the Eel River line's business in order to make it a system to the greater system. The people along the line of the Eel River road had voted $300,000 to the Eel River project in order to secure competition with the Wabash, and when the Wabash company destroyed this competation by absorbing the road the state brought action to annul the charter of the Eel River line and oust both companies.

CARTER MEDICINE CO. WINS. Obtains Injunction in Case Involving

Simulation of Labels. Brent Good, president of the Carter Medfeine Company, yesterday received a telegram from his lawyers in Chicago, Messrs. Lowden, Estabrook & Davis, informing him that a final injunction, with costs, had been granted against the Chicago Label and Box Company. This company makes a specialty of manufacturing labels, boxes, etc., for druggists. The Carter Company has been following them through the courts for two years on the complaint that the label company was making simulations of the labels of Carter's Little Liver Pills. They have now obtained a final injunction with costs, and the costs are very large, as the case has been submitted to a Master in Chancery for a final accounting.

The Carter Medicine Company has been the first and only one to prosecute printers or engravers who have prepared such labels and wrappers. It marks a new departure in infringement cases, and their victory is one of great importance to the whole "proprietary trade," and also of interest to retail druggists .- NEW YORK PRESS, MAY 2, 1900.

SEE TO THE WALLS.

Owing to the gathering of so many different classes of persons therein, the interior walls of churches, schoolhouses, hospitals, etc., are apt to become repositories of disease germs unless preventive measures are taken. These walls should always be coated with a clean and pure cement, such as Alabastine, which is disinfectant in its nature and more convenient to renew and retint than any other wall coating. The first cost is no greater than for inferior work, while renewals are more easily and cheaply

The June number of the Delinestor, beside showing one hundred and fifty illustrations of present fashions, contains several articles of general interest to women. "American Women at the Paris Exposition" is Illustrated with seventeen, portraits. "Founders of Women's Colleges" contains ten portraits and valuable biographical matter. Clinton Ross contributes revolutionary story, "The Perfidy o Bess Doane." The regular departments are interesting and valuable for practical women.

Nixon Waterman, the genial poet now claimed by "just common folks," from West to East, has recently published "A Book of Verses" (Forbes & Co., Boston-Chicago), containing a varied collection of his most charming songs. Mr. Waterman has many enthusiastic admirers in the West, who have been touched by his pathos and cheered and encouraged by his humor. To these a rare treat is in store in "A Book of Verses."

The tale of "A Christian, but a Roman," by Maurus Jokai, is laid in that dramatic period when the viciousness of Rome's rulers was beginning to foreshadow its overthrow, but when to embrace the Christian faith was to invite death and torture. The pictures of imperial abandonment, yet colossal power, and of the rending of homes by this persecution of the Christians, are most striking.
